Love Of Learning And Desire For God A Study Of Monastic Culture:

The Love of Learning and The Desire God Jean Leclercq O.S.B., 2024-10-22 Available in a new digital edition with reflowable text suitable for e readers The Love of Learning and the Desire for God is composed of a series of lectures given to young monks at the Institute of Monastic Studies at Sant Anselmo in Rome during the winter of 1955 56 The Love of Learning and the Desire for God Jean Leclercq (O.S.B.), 1962 The Love of Learning and the Desire for God. A Study of Monastic Culture. Translated by Catharine Misrahi Jean Leclercq, 1961 The Library of Paradise David Allen Michelson, 2023-01-13 Contemplative reading is a spiritual practice developed by Christian monks in sixth and seventh century Mesopotamia The Library of Paradise tells the story of this Syriac tradition in three phases its establishment as an ascetic practice the articulation of its theology and its maturation and spread Approaches to Monasticism in the Context of Christian Responses to Modern Culture Kevin Maddy, 2022 Approaches to Monasticism in the Context of Christian Responses to Modern Culture is a study of how the values and practices of monasticism are being shaped by the shift to a cultural understanding of Christianity in modern times The values and practices of traditional monasticism are contrasted with those of various expressions of new monasticism against the background of a multicultural and fluid social environment in an effort to find some reciprocal illumination The study aims to describe monasticism in terms of authenticity and lived religion Disruptive Inclusion Jen Smith, 2024-03-31 What is Christian adult learning What questions are raised when Christian faith and learning meet Many existing approaches primarily address issues such as curriculum content or teacher character Building on the work of John Hull Disruptive Inclusion approaches the intersection of theology and pedagogy suggesting that the christianness of Christian adult learning is best expressed by the posture adopted by learners not only via what is taught and by whom Specifically Jen Smith claims that a key to Christian adult learning posture is how learners include the unexpected and disruptive in their learning Drawing on key resources such as the biblical narrative Christian tradition liturgy community and her own experiences Jen takes us on a deeply personal and practical journey into disruptive inclusion and invites us to re imagine what effective Christian adult learning might look like in the classroom pulpit and online learning settings War and the Making of Medieval Monastic Culture Katherine Allen Smith, 2013-09-19 Finalist for AAH First Book Prize The monastic life traditionally considered as an area of withdrawal from the world is here shown to be shaped by metaphors of war and to be actively engaged with battle in the world outside An extremely interesting and important book makes an important contribution to the history of medieval monastic spirituality in a formative period whilst also fitting into wider debates on the origins development and impact of ideas on crusading and holy war Dr William Purkis University of Birmingham Monastic culture has generally been seen as set apart from the medieval battlefield as those who prayed were set apart from those who fought However in this first study of the place of war within medieval monastic culture the author shows the limitations of this division Through a wide reading of Latin sermons letters and hagiography she identifies a monastic language of war that presented the monk as the archetypal soldier of Christ and his life of prayer as a continuous combat with the devil indeed monks claims to supremacy on the spiritual battlefield grew even louder as Church leaders extended the title of soldier of Christ to lay knights and crusaders So while medieval monasteries have traditionally been portrayed as peaceful sanctuaries in a violent world here the author demonstrates that monastic identity was negotiated through real and imaginary encounters with war and that the concept of spiritual warfare informed virtually every aspect of life in the cloister It thus breaks new ground in the history of European attitudes toward warfare and warriors in the age of the papal reform movement and the early crusades Katherine Allen Smith is Assistant Professor of History University of Puget Sound

Reading Families Rebecca L. Krug, 2018-09-05 Rebecca Krug argues that in the later Middle Ages people defined themselves in terms of family relationships but increasingly saw their social circumstances as being connected to the written word Complex family dynamics and social configurations motivated women to engage in text based activities Although not all or even the majority of women could read and write it became natural for women to think of writing as a part of everyday life Reading Families looks at the literate practice of two individual women Margaret Paston and Margaret Beaufort and of two communities in which women were central the Norwich Lollards and the Bridgettines at Syon Abbey The book begins with Paston s letters which were written at her husband s request and ends with devotional texts that describe the spiritual daughterhood of the Bridgettine readers Scholars often assume that medieval women s participation in literate culture constituted a rejection of patriarchal authority Krug maintains however that for most women learning to engage with the written word served as a practical response to social changes and was not necessarily a revolutionary act

Thomas Merton—Evil and Why We Suffer David E. Orber, 2018-06-18 Thomas Merton is one of the most important spiritual voices of the last century He has never been more relevant as new generations look to him for guidance in addressing some of life s biggest questions how can we find God how should we engage with other faiths and how can we oppose violence and injustice Looking carefully one can find tucked away in Merton s prodigious writings his response to another timeless question Why do we suffer Why does an all powerful and all loving God permit evil and suffering By carefully examining all of Merton s work we find that he repeatedly confronted this question throughout most of his adult life Intriguingly Merton s approach to this question changed dramatically a few years before he died in 1968 An examination of all aspects of his life yields evidence that Merton s immersion in Zen during this time contributed most to that change
