

It has been documented on several occasions that Heinrich Mann didn't only write in his American exile, but also made drawings. In his journal, Thomas Mann writes about "a great number of obscene drawings" his brother had made. It was believed, up to now, that the drawings, with the exception of a sketchbook, were destroyed or lost. Volker Skierka made a sensational find: in an estate he discovered about 400 of Heinrich Mann's drawings believed to be forgotten. And there are by no means only renderings of "fat, naked females", or vaudeville and brothel scenes, as Thomas Mann maintained.

In many cases, Heinrich Mann has combined his pictures in thematic cycles, he has made clear where he stood politically and assimilated literary impressions with a deadly pen. This volume presents about 150 of the most interesting drawings and topics out of this dossier. These drawings and the highly instructive classification as far as his literary work is concerned, will add to and partly change the picture of the writer Heinrich Mann in a lasting way. Also the writer family's discussion on sexual topics will be revived.

Volker Skierka, born in 1952, was a correspondent for Süddeutsche Zeitung, between 1979-1992, and five years editor-in-chief of Merian magazine. He lives in Hamburg as a freelance publicist. He wrote biographies of Lion Feuchtwanger and Fidel Castro among others.

Dr. Hans Wjßkirchen, born in 1955, is the director of the famous Heinrich-and-Thomas-Mann-Center in Lübeck.

Marje Schuetze-Coburn, born in 1959, is head of the Lion Feuchtwanger Memorial Library at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles and the director of the special libraries and archives of the university.

Love Affairs And Tales Of Atrocity:

Edward Conze's The Psychology of Mass Propaganda Richard N. Levine, Nathan H. Levine, 2023-03-24 Edward Conze's The Psychology of Mass Propaganda presents a commentary on the psychology of propaganda during the rise of fascism in Europe in the 1930s. It discusses the conditions which generate vulnerability to misinformation in human societies and thus offers insight into how propaganda may be withstood. Completed in 1939 during the period of Conze's own inflection from Marxist philosophy to Buddhist studies, the original manuscript was never published and is now in print for the first time. Presenting a unique historical perspective while also appealing to an acutely topical interest in the conditions under which autocracy and fascism arise, the book examines the psychology of mass propaganda through copious contemporary and historical examples. Conze focuses especially on recent news articles and the statements of the propagandists of many of the governments that would go on to participate in the Second World War, including Germany, Italy, the USSR, USA, and UK, all of which he interprets through the lens of recent psychological and historical research. The book has been edited and includes a new introduction by Richard N. Levine and Nathan H. Levine, also featuring a foreword by American legal scholar Laurence H. Tribe and an afterword by actor, director, writer, and Buddhist priest Peter Coyote. This is a fascinating opportunity for scholars across several disciplines, including political scientists and psychologists, historians, and sociologists, to access one of Conze's previously unpublished works. It will also be of importance to those interested in Conze's work on Buddhist philosophy and in the psychology of propaganda more broadly.

Free Love Robert Shaplen, 2024-04-16 A wry, instructive, and hugely entertaining account of one of the most sensational trials in American history. New York Times Book Review. On the night of July 3, 1870, Elizabeth Tilton confessed to her husband that she had had an affair with their pastor, Henry Ward Beecher. This secret would soon transfix America, for Beecher was the most famous preacher of the day, founder of the most fashionable church in Brooklyn Heights, a presidential hopeful, an influential supporter of Abolition, and a leader of the campaign for women's suffrage. When Beecher tried to silence the Tiltons, it was a whisper network of suffragists, notably Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton, who spread news of the affair, and it was the radical Victoria Woodhull, an outspoken proponent of free love, who seized on it as political dynamite to blow up the myth of monogamy among the political elite. Her public accusations led to even more public trials, which shocked the country and divided the most progressive thinkers of the era. In 1953, the journalist Robert Shaplen revisited the Tilton-Beecher affair in a series of articles for the New Yorker, relying on 3,000 pages of contemporary accounts, court transcripts, love letters, newspaper reports, and illustrations, even political cartoons, to reanimate a scandal that shook the American reform movement and to expose a strand of America's cultural DNA that remains recognizable today.
