Love and the Novel G. Paizis, 1998-09-07 The popularity of romance fiction is such that it constitutes nearly one quarter of new paperback fiction printed in the world Its success depends on its ability to reflect and articulate the reader's aspirations for a better life and stands at the same time as a testament to her alienation This fresh look at the romantic fiction seeks to discover the reason for its appeal by combining analysis of the poetics of the genre with a study of the real reader's intervention The Coupling Convention : Sex, Text, and Tradition in Black Women's Fiction Ann duCille Associate Professor of English and African American Studies Wesleyan University, 1993-10-19 What does the tradition of marriage mean for people who have historically been deprived of its legal status Generally thought of as a convention of the white middle class the marriage plot has received little attention from critics of African American literature In this study Ann duCille uses texts such as Nella Larsen's Quicksand 1928 and Zora Neale Hurston's Their Eyes Were Watching God 1937 to demonstrate that the African American novel like its European and Anglo American counterparts has developed around the marriage plot what she calls the coupling convention Exploring the relationship between racial ideology and literary and social conventions duCille uses the coupling convention to trace the historical development of the African American women's novel She demonstrates the ways in which black women appropriated this novelistic device as a means of expressing and reclaiming their own identity More than just a study of the marriage tradition in black women's fiction however The Coupling

Convention takes up and takes on many different meanings of tradition It challenges the notion of a single black literary tradition or of a single black feminist literary canon grounded in specifically black female language and experience as it explores the ways in which white and black male and female mainstream and marginalized traditions and canons have influenced and cross fertilized each other Much more than a period study The Coupling Convention spans the period from 1853 to 1948 addressing the vital questions of gender subjectivity race and the canon that inform literary study today In this original work duCille offers a new paradigm for reading black women s fiction

Love and Eugenics in the Late Nineteenth Century Angelique Richardson,2003 The idea of eugenics human selective breeding originated in Victorian Britain in response to the urban poor Darwin s evolutionary theory had laid the foundations for eugenics replacing paradise with primordial slime Man had not fallen from Grace but risen from the swamps And as architect of his own destiny he might rise still further Eugenics was developed by Darwin s cousin Francis Galton in the 1860s Embracing the idea of evolution eugenicists argued that through the judicious control of human reproduction and the numerical increase of the middle class Britain s supremacy in the world could be maintained Born and bred among the competitive Victorian middle class eugenics was a biologicistic discourse on class Aiming at racial improvement by altering the balance of class in society it was Galton argued practical Darwinism Eugenics found its most sustained expression in fiction and the periodical press and was central to late nineteenth century ideas on social progress forming part of the debate between hereditarians and environmentalists that peaked in the closing years of the century Even Gladstone had his vital statistics measured in Galton s eugenic laboratory Among the champions of eugenics were social purity feminists and New Women writers such as George Egerton Ellice Hopkins and Sarah Grand who argued that women were naturally biologically moral and that through rational reproduction middle class women could regenerate the British imperial race The New Woman has been the subject of numerous recent critical works However the oppressive ideas that coexisted with the emancipatory theories of some New Women ideas that were supremely class conscious remain largely unexamined as the focus remains on her more progressive aspects Love and Eugenics in the Late Nineteenth Century recontextualizes New Woman writers demonstrating that they were as concerned with the questions of poverty sickness and health as they were with the changing role of women the issue for which they are currently generally known and celebrated Focusing on fiction and the press and drawing on the papers and published work of Galton and other eugenists Angelique Richardson reveals the cultural pervasiveness of eugenics and explores for the first time the intimate relations between early feminism and eugenics and making a radical contribution to nineteenth century studies experimental theater Each act consists of several sections and taken altogether those sections form a plethora of analysis ranging from various philosophers other plays books and the conclusions of sociologists each of these sources add to the collective story that the novel is telling Other sources that focus the reader's attention are love letters between Kate and Edward from Kate's past the reader is exposed to a transcript of a radio interview which explores how feminism rose after WW II and the story of how the modern gothic novel became the best selling genre for over a decade in the United States Kate explains how in the interview the analysis of the modern gothic novel prompted her to choose her acting career Through the life story and poems of Elizabeth Barrett Browning further themes with respect to marriage et al are introduced Barrett Browning's life and poems also serve as a catalyst for Edward to use his own poetry which is spoken aloud in a conversation between Edward and Kate There are then an extraordinary number of viewpoints they range from modern research on marriage to complete plays as well as portions of plays short sequences or plot summaries as well as poetry novels and the fictional and actual life experiences of women poets Together with philosophical excerpts from major French Russian Swiss English and even Scandinavian writers and philosophers all of whom inform the plot of the entire action of The Gospel of Marriage the novel presents a timely and thought provoking journey for any man or woman already married or anticipating marriage
