Love Song With Motor Vehicles:

Love Song with Motor Vehicles Alan Michael Parker, 2014-07-01 In Love Song with Motor Vehicles Alan Michael Parker marshals a penetrating wit and sharp irony that mirrors that of Charles Simic and John Berryman Parker's robust imagination explores the music in places poetry doesn't usually travel His poems find their epiphanies early on and most strikingly do not close at their endings but rather open Alan Michael Parker is the author of two books of poetry and co editor of two scholarly works The Routledge Anthology of Cross Gendered Verse and Who's Who in 20th Century World Poetry Routledge Books In 2000 his poems were included in all three major volumes of younger American poets Carnegie Mellon University Press University of Southern Illinois Press and University of New England Press There's a Box in the Garage You Can Beat With a Stick Michael Teig, 2013-10-14 Michael Teig's long awaited second collection is the perfect poetry companion witty intriguing and self effacing as it picks up overheard conversations and the accidental encounters of everyday life As Stephen Dobyns wrote Teig's poems have this ability to make the world fresh again and make us realize once again why we love the world despite its failings and our own

Whereso Karen Volkman, 2016-05-16 Known for the transcendent abstractionist poems of Nomina Volkman's newest collection returns to tangible experiences of the body its range of expressivity and physical movement in space Where is the body in travel What space does it occupy in dreams and memory With rich perplexity Whereso responds to dance performance and position in time translating flight of the body into language and line Karen Volkman is the author of Crash's Law winner of the National Poetry Series Spar winner of the Iowa Poetry Prize and the James Laughlin Award and Nomina She teaches at the University of Montana in Missoula Montana

The Fortieth Day Kazim Ali, 2014-07-01 From the Bible to the Quaraan the fortieth day symbolizes the last moment before deliverance a moment in time when a supplicant or prophet or stormbeaten passenger knows there is no state after but finally accepts the present state as a permanent one In The Fortieth Day Kazim Ali follows the fractured narratives and moving lyrics of his debut collection The Far Mosque with a deeply spiritual and meditative book exploring the rhetoric of prayer Kazim Ali was born in the United Kingdom and raised in an Islamic household He holds degrees from the University at Albany and New York University He lives in Oberlin Ohio The Black Maria Aracelis Girmay, 2016-04-18 Taking its name from the moon's dark plains misidentified as seas by early astronomers The Black Maria investigates African diasporic histories the consequences of racism within American culture and the question of human identity Central to this project is a desire to recognize the lives of Eritrean refugees who have been made invisible by years of immigration crisis refugee status exile and resulting statelessness The recipient of a 2015 Whiting Award for Poetry Girmay's newest collection elegizes and celebrates life while wrestling with the humanistic notion of seeing beyond seeing violence seeing grace and seeing each other better to the sea great storage house history on which we rode we touched the brief pulse of your fluttering pages spelled with salt life your rage your indifference your gentleness washing our feet all of you going on whether or not we live to you we bring our carnations yellow pink how they float like bright sentences atop your memory's dark hair Aracelis Girmay is the author of two poetry collections Teeth and Kingdom Animalia which won the Isabella Gardner Award and was a finalist for the NBCC Award The recipient of a 2015 Whiting Award she has received grants and fellowships from the Jerome Cave Canem and Watson foundations as well as Civitella Ranieri and the NEA She currently teaches at Hampshire College's School for Interdisciplinary Arts and in Drew University's low residency MFA program Originally from Santa Ana California she splits her time between New York and Amherst Massachusetts

_ch3n81, 2021-12-06 How does coding change the way we think about architecture This question opens up an important research perspective In this book Miro Roman and his AI Alice_ch3n81 develop a playful scenario in which they propose coding as the new literacy of information They convey knowledge in the form of a project model that links the fields of architecture and information through two interwoven narrative strands in an infinite flow of real books Focusing on the intersection of information technology and architectural formulation the authors create an evolving intellectual reflection on digital architecture and computer science

The Motor Car and Popular Culture in the Twentieth Century David Thoms, Len Holden, 2016-12-05 This is a multidisciplinary analysis of the relationship between the motor car and popular culture in the 20th century which brings together original essays by academics in the UK North America and Australia The contributors write from a wide range of disciplinary perspectives including semiotics social history literary and film criticism and musicology Three main themes are addressed the car as a cultural image its impact on leisure and entertainment and the cultural significance of the processes of manufacturing and selling cars

Asphalt Nation Jane Holtz Kay, 2012-06-20 Asphalt Nation is a major work of urban studies that examines how the automobile has ravaged America's cities and landscape and how we can fight back The automobile was once seen as a boon to American life eradicating the pollution caused by horses and granting citizens new levels of personal freedom and mobility But it was not long before the servant became the master public spaces were designed to accommodate the automobile at the expense of the pedestrian mass transportation was neglected and the poor unable to afford cars saw their access to jobs and amenities worsen Now even drivers themselves suffer as cars choke the highways and pollution and congestion have replaced the fresh air of the open road Today our world revolves around the car as a nation we spend eight billion hours a year stuck in traffic In Asphalt Nation Jane Holtz Kay effectively calls for a revolution to reverse our automobile dependency Citing successful efforts in places from Portland Maine to Portland Oregon Kay shows us that radical change is not impossible by any means She demonstrates that there are economic political architectural and personal solutions that can steer us out of the mess Asphalt Nation is essential reading for everyone interested in the history of our relationship with the car and in the prospect of returning to a world of human mobility

Text Types and the History of English Manfred Görlach, 2008-08-22 The history of modern European languages has been largely determined by the range of functions they have acquired particularly after 1500 This development necessitated a notable expansion of their syntax and lexis but is most characteristically reflected in the conventionalization of text types Starting from the German concept of Textsorte as developed from the 1960s onwards the present account is a first comprehensive attempt at charting the field for the history and present day situation of the English language In text types a designation is linked with a more or less stable form which guides the writer's production as well as the reader's expectation permitting one to recognize straightforward uses as well as deliberate misuses Some two thousand of such designations are here listed with minimal definitions and dates for first occurrences The discussion then concentrates on selected types which are seen as especially illustrative for English book dedications cooking recipes advertisements church hymns lexical entries and jokes Their functions and development over time are treated in correlation with their specific linguistic characteristics and adaptations to different period styles and social changes in the readership The functional range of text types in traditions outside England and the consequences of the export of English categories are exemplified by the history of Scots Scottish English and of English in India The arguments are accompanied by a lavish supply of textual excerpts and more than fifty pages of facsimiles which are especially relevant for insights derived from typographical features A full bibliography and indices are provided at the end The book will prove useful for decisions on the constitution of representative text corpora and stimulate research into a greater number of individual text types as well as contrastive analyses at least among European languages
