England Tomaney, John,Mawson, John,2002-07-24 It provides the first up to date and comprehensive picture of the state of regionalism in England Charting the regionalisation of England that has occurred over recent years the book examines the background to the English Question outlines factors leading to regionalisation in England presents a new region by region analysis of the social economic and political conditions considers the arguments for regional government Policy makers practitioners academics students journalists and others who need to understand and keep up to date with the development of governance of the English regions will find this book to be an indispensable resource Historic Storms of the North Sea.

British Isles and Northwest Europe Hubert Lamb, Knud Frydendahl, 1991-06-13 This is a historical study of great wind storms over the last 500 600 years with meteorological maps and wind measurements Strategic Planning for Regional Development in the UK, Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, 2013 England's Coastal Heritage Michael Fulford, Timothy Champion, Antony Long, 2013-04-15 England's coastal zone contains an important legacy of historic assets including a complex array of fragile and irreplaceable archaeological remains This report documents the recorded coastal archaeological resource and identifies future themes for survey and investigation British Sport - A Bibliography to 2000 Richard Cox, 2014-02-04 Volume two of a bibliography documenting all that has been written in the English language on the history of sport and physical education in Britain It lists all secondary source material including reference works in a classified order to meet the needs of the sports historian Everyday Life in the Covid-19 Pandemic Nick Clarke, 2024-04-18 How will the Covid 19 pandemic be remembered What did it mean to people How did it feel This book provides a compelling account of the pandemic as it was experienced in the UK Everyday Life in the Covid 19 Pandemic is a democratic history based on the 5 000 diaries collected by Mass Observation on 12 May 2020 It is a record of what many of these diarists wrote from a wide range of positions in a variety of voices and on a wealth of different subjects The book shines a light on their lives on the day in question their experiences during the first two months of the pandemic and their hopes and fears for the coming months and years The diaries capture much of everyday life in the pandemic for millions of people in the UK and beyond the activities events and rituals from funerals to working from home the sites and stages from shops to Zoom the roles and categories from key workers to vulnerable groups the frames from luck to the new normal and the moods from anxiety to grief In these diaries we see what people did when the pandemic arrived in the UK but also what people thought and felt how they interpreted the pandemic experience and gave it meaning We see both how the nation responded and the nation who responded The book also includes two essays offering expert contextualisation of the diaries and discussion of their value for narrating the pandemic and presenting everyday life Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress. Cataloging Policy and Support Office, 2003 British Sport: Local histories Richard William Cox, 2003 Volume three of a bibliography documenting all that has been written in the English language on the history of sport and physical education in Britain It lists all secondary source material including reference works in a classified order to meet the needs of the sports historian Annual Report of the Registrar-General for England and Wales Great Britain. General Register Office, 1888 Quaternary of South-West England S. Campbell, C.O. Hunt, James D. Scourse, D.H. Keen, N. Stephens, 2012-12-06 STRUCTURE OF THE VOLUME AND TERMINOLOGY USED This book contains scientific descriptions of 63 localities Figure A of at least national importance for Quaternary geology geomorphology and environmental change in South West England These sites were selected by the Geological Conservation Review and are accordingly designated GCR sites Chapter 1 provides an introduction to the Quaternary Chapter 2 synthesizes the geomorphological development and Quaternary history of the region and outlines the principles involved in site selection The individual GCR site descriptions form the core of the book In the following chapters sites are arranged and described in broad geographic areas and by research topic This is necessitated by the widely disparate nature of the field evidence in South West England sites demonstrating the full range of Quaternary and geomorphological features are not evenly and conveniently dispersed throughout the region and some areas have significant gaps Neither do the individual chapters contain sites that necessarily equate with particular site selection networks Rather the chosen chapter headings provide the least repetitive means of describing the sites and background material Where possible a chronological approach from oldest to youngest has been used to describe sites within a given chapter Again this approach is not always possible and a group of sites may show variations on landform or Stratigraphic evidence broadly within one major time interval or chronostratigraphic stage inevitably there are many overlaps New Light on the Neolithic of Northern England Gill Hey, Paul Frodsham, 2021-01-13 These papers highlight recent archaeological work in Northern England in the commercial academic and community archaeology sectors which have fundamentally changed our perspective on the Neolithic of the area Much of this was new work and much is still not published has been overlooked in the national discourse The papers cover a wide geographical area from Lancashire north into the Scottish Lowlands recognising the irrelevance of the England Scotland Border They also take a broad chronological sweep from the Mesolithic Neolithic transition to the introduction of Beakers into the area The key themes are the nature of transition the need for a much improved chronological framework regional variation linked to landscape character links within northern England and with distant places the implications of new dating for our understanding the axe trade the changing nature of settlement and agriculture the character early Neolithic enclosures the need to integrate rock art into wider discourse The Regional Imperative Urrall A.

Wannop, 2014-02-04 Based on cases and interviews in Britain Europe and the United States this book explains the recurrence of regional planning and of initiatives in regional governance in a wide range of advanced industrial countries Providing an analysis of the nature of regional planning and governance the book traces the development of regional planning and the institutions associated with it It also looks at the way that regions have been changing their form under pressure from economic and political developments and examines how regional planning and governance has responded comparing experience in the UK the rest of Europe and the US In concluding that regionalism is an imperative feature of politics in most countries associated with almost any of the variety of forms of governance the author offers a major appraisal of the significance of regional planning in an international context Security and Defence in South-West England Before 1800

Robert Higham, 1987 From Roman times to the eighteenth century the South West of England was an example of the importance of matters of security and defence to a local society easily threatened by external and internal conflicts and tensions These studies provide a series of vignettes illustrating perennial and enduring problems in the history

Anglo-Norman Studies XLIII S. D. Church, 2021 The articles brought together here demonstrate the exciting vitality of this field The volume begins with a keynote chapter on the failure of marriages among Christians and Muslims in crusader diplomacy Other chapters consider the ceremony of knighting and the coronation ritual of Matilda of Flanders There are also investigations of hunting landscapes in Cheshire and Lancashire before Lancashire in the context of the Irish Sea World while lordship is examined in two contexts in post Conquest England and early thirteenth century Le Mans and Chartres
