North Of Everything English Canadian Cinema Since 1980:

Canadian Cinema Since the 1980s David L. Pike, 2012-12-06 Award winning author David L. Pike offers a unique focus on the crucial quarter century in Canadian filmmaking when the industry became a viable force on the international stage. Pike provides a lively personal and accessible history of the most influential filmmakers and movements of both Anglo Canadian and Quebecois cinema from popular movies to art film and everything in between. Along with in depth studies of key directors including David Cronenberg, Patricia Rozema and Denys Arcand, Jean-Claude Lauzon, Robert Lepage, Léa Pool, Atom Egoyan and Guy Maddin, Canadian Cinema since the 1980s reflects on major themes and genres and explores the regional and cultural diversity of the period. Pike positions Canadian filmmaking at the frontlines of a profound cinematic transformation in the age of global media and presents fresh perspectives on both its local and international contexts. Making a significant advance in the study of the film industry of the period, Canadian Cinema since the 1980s is also an ideal text for students, researchers and Canadian film enthusiasts.

One Hundred Years of Canadian Cinema George Melnyk, 2004-01-01 Melnyk argues passionately that Canadian cinema has never been a singular entity but has continued to speak in the languages and in the voices of Canada's diverse population.

The Cinema of Canada Jerry White, 2006 Containing 24 essays each on a different film, this work provides a fascinating historical account of the development of film and documentary traditions across the diverse national and regional communities in Canada.

Canadian Cinema in the New Millennium Lee Carruthers, Charles Tepperman, 2023-01-15 At the turn of the millennium, Canadian cinema appeared to have reached an apex of aesthetic and commercial transformation. Domestic filmmaking has since declined in visibility; the sense of celebrity once associated with independent directors has diminished; projects garner less critical attention; and concepts that made late twentieth century Canadian film legible have been reconsidered or displaced. Canadian Cinema in the New Millennium examines this dramatic transformation and revitalizes our engagement with Canadian cinema in the contemporary moment, presenting focused case studies of films and filmmakers and contextual studies of Canadian film policy, labour and film festivals. Contributors trace key developments since 2000, including the renouveau or Quebec New Wave, Indigenous filmmaking, i-docs and diasporic experimental filmmaking. Reflecting the way film in Canada mediates multiple cultures, forging new affinities among anglophone, francophone and Indigenous language examples, this book engages familiar figures such as Denis Villeneuve, Xavier Dolan, Sarah Polley and Guy Maddin in the same breath as small budget independent films, documentaries and experimental works that have emerged in the Canadian scene. Fuelled by close attention to the films themselves and a desire to develop new scholarly approaches, Canadian Cinema in the New Millennium models a renewed commitment to keeping the conversation about Canadian cinema vibrant and alive.

The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Cinema Janine Marchessault, Will Straw, 2019-03-20 The chapters in The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Cinema present a rich, diverse overview of Canadian cinema. Responding to the latest developments in Canadian film studies, this volume takes into account the variety of artistic voices media technologies and places which have marked cinema in Canada throughout its history Drawing on a range of established and emerging scholars from a range of disciplines this volume will be useful to teachers scholars and to a general readership interested in cinema in Canada Moving beyond the director focused approach of much previous scholarship this book is concerned with communities institutions and audiences for Canadian cinema at both national and international levels The choice of subjects covered ranges from popular genre cinema to the most experimental of artistic interventions Canadian cinema is seen in its interaction with other forms of art making and media production in Canada and at the international level Particular attention has been paid to the work of Indigenous filmmakers members of diasporic communities and feminist and LGBTQ artists The result is a book attentive to the complex social and institutional contexts in which Canadian cinema is made and consumed

Great Canadian Film Directors George Melnyk, 2007-06-15 Film directors articulate creative visions that provide insights into national cultures 18 essays highlight Canada's prominent Anglophone and Francophone filmmakers

Programming Reality Zoë Druick, Aspa Kotsopoulos, 2008-08-01 Programming Reality Perspectives on English Canadian Television the first anthology dedicated to analyses of Canadian television content is a collection of original interdisciplinary articles combining textual analysis and political economy of communications It explores the television that has thrived in the Canadian regulatory and cultural context namely programs that straddle the border between reality and fiction or even blur it The conceptual basis of this collection is the hybrid nature of television fare the widely theorized notion that all mediations of reality involve fiction in the form of narrative or symbolic shaping Each of the contributions here is a reminder too of the significant relationship of television to nation building in Canada to the imaginative work involved in thinking through the relations that constitute nations citizens and communities The collection focuses on English language Canadian television because the imperatives guiding its texts are markedly different from those pertaining to their French language counterparts The collection therefore develops a nuance of perspective on the cultural and political economic specificities that inform the imaginative work of television production for English Canada
