nature and culture Saltzstein argues that trouv re songs influenced the ways particular groups of medieval people defined their identities encouraging them to view themselves as belonging to specific landscapes The book offers close readings of love songs pastourelles motets and rondets from the likes of Gace Brul Adam de la Halle Guillaume de Machaut and many others Saltzstein shows how their music text relationships illuminate the ways in which song helped to foster identities tied to specific landscapes among the knightly classes the clergy aristocratic women and peasants By connecting social types to topographies trouv re songs and the manuscripts in which they were preserved presented models of identity for later generations of songwriters performers listeners patrons and readers to emulate thereby projecting into the future specific ways of being on the land Written in the long thirteenth century during the last major era of climate change trouv re songs as Saltzstein demonstrates shape our understanding of how identity formation has rested on relationships between nature culture and change
