Northern Lights Writings From An Unbound Europe:

Northern Lights Drago Jančar, 2001 Josef Erdman arrives in Maribor Slovenia on the eve of World War II Though claiming to be a salesman it soon becomes apparent that Josef has no purpose in the town and that a newcomer can expect nothing but distrust from the townspeople Maribor is full of tensions that are played out in pub brawls and in the rivalry between the Slovenes and Germans at the top of the social hierarchy Against this backdrop of ethnic hatred and personal descent Josef witnesses the fiery shimmer of the aurora borealis and imagines the town has been set aflame an omen of the coming of war The Stranger Next Door Richard Swartz, 2013-08-31 The Balkans have been so troubled by violence and misunderstanding that we have the verb balkanize meaning to break up into smaller warring components While some of the region's artists and thinkers have invariably fallen into nationalistic tendencies the twenty two prominent authors represented here from the erstwhile Yugoslavia and its neighbors Albania and Bulgaria have chosen to attempt to bridge these divides The essays biographical sketches and stories in The Stranger Next Door form a project of understanding that picks up where politics fail The English language translation joins editions of the book that appeared concurrently in all of the participating countries Canadian Slavonic Papers, 2001 The Common Review, 2001 The Prophecy and Other Stories Drago Jancar, 2009-03-05 These newly collected short stories reveal a master at the top of his game Drago Jancar possesses an acute understanding of the human psyche enabling his stories to resonate beyond their particular milieu This collection features seven pieces drawn from four different collections that together present the struggle of individuals against powerful forces The characters try to make sense of a world of shifting borders and changing names that make the idea of a homeland either literal or figurative a dream rather than a reality Bait David Albahari, 2001-06-20 David Albahari is one of the most prominent writers to emerge from the former Yugoslavia in the last twenty years His serious understated explorations of the self have influenced many writers of his native land's younger generation The narrator of Bait has just exiled himself to Canada after the collapse of Yugoslavia and the death of his mother As he listens to a series of audio tapes recorded by the mother years before the narrator ponders her life and their relationship while simultaneously trying to come to terms with a new life of his own one of exile and the confusion of a new language and culture Bait is an exquisitely crafted novel that exhibits the wit and raw honesty Albahari's readers have long admired Slavic Review, 2001 American quarterly of Soviet and East European studies varies Mocking Desire Drago Jančar, 1998 A novel on New Orleans through the eyes of Gregor Gradnik a visiting Slovenian professor of creative writing at a university He leads a split life respectable academic during the day bar crawler at night National Convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies. National Convention, 2002 Ever Green Is-- Pavel Vilikovský, 2002 Hailed as one of the most important Eastern European writers of the post Communist era Pavel Vilikovsky actually began his career in 1965 But the political content of his writing and its straightforward treatment of such taboo topics as bisexuality kept him from publishing the works collected here until after the Velvet Revolution The Book Review Digest, 2003 Charon's Ferry Gyula Illyés, 2000 At the heart of this collection are meditations on cultural values Hungarian history and the legacy of suppression and survival Included in this collection is one of the author's most outspoken poems One Sentence on Tyranny a haunting and relentless testimony to the entire Eastern European experience a backhanded homage to all the oppressions and fears of daily life Alphabetical and Analytical Catalogue of the Library of the University of Vermont, Burlington University of Vermont. Library, 1854

Unbound Richard L Currier, 2017-08-08 Like Guns Germs and Steel a work of breathtaking sweep and originality that reinterprets the human story Although we usually think of technology as something unique to modern times our ancestors began to create the first technologies millions of years ago in the form of prehistoric tools and weapons Over time eight key technologies gradually freed us from the limitations of our animal origins The fabrication of weapons the mastery of fire and the technologies of clothing and shelter radically restructured the human body enabling us to walk upright shed our body hair and migrate out of tropical Africa Symbolic communication transformed human evolution from a slow biological process into a fast cultural process The invention of agriculture revolutionized the relationship between humanity and the environment and the technologies of interaction led to the birth of civilization Precision machinery spawned the industrial revolution and the rise of nation states and in the next metamorphosis digital technologies may well unite all of humanity for the benefit of future generations Synthesizing the findings of primatology paleontology archeology history and anthropology Richard Currier reinterprets and retells the modern narrative of human evolution that began with the discovery of Lucy and other Australopithecus fossils But the same forces that allowed us to integrate technology into every aspect of our daily lives have also brought us to the brink of planetary catastrophe Unbound explains both how we got here and how human society must be transformed again to achieve a sustainable future Technology The deliberate modification of any natural object or substance with forethought to achieve a specific end or to serve a specific purpose The Scots Magazine ,1788
