

An illustration of a historic lighthouse and its associated buildings. The lighthouse is a tall, white, cylindrical tower with a dark lantern room at the top, situated on a rocky cliff. To its right is a large, two-story white building with a red roof and several chimneys. In front of it is a smaller, single-story white building, also with a red roof. The buildings are surrounded by a low stone wall. The cliff face is rugged and grey, with some sparse vegetation. The sky is a pale blue with soft, white clouds.
