Northwestern Fights and Fighters (Expanded, Annotated) Cyrus Townsend Brady, 2016-11-12 One of the most important collections of first hand accounts of the Indian wars of the west is contained in this volume Not as famous as the Little Bighorn fight the Nez Perce and Modoc Wars were prominent conflicts between whites and Native Americans that brought the period of Indian Wars to a close Included in this book are accounts by Chief Joseph Edward Godfrey General O O Howard and others who fought in what was then considered the northwest Montana Idaho Washington Oregon and California An account and analysis of the Custer fight is also in this book as is a letter by Libby Custer to the New York Times protesting the depiction of her late husband Every memoir of the American West provides us with another view of the conflicts that changed the country forever American Fights and Fighters Series: Northwestern fights and fighters ,1909 Northwestern Fights and Fighters Cyrus Townsend Brady, 1999-03-01 Northwestern Fights & Fighters Cyrus Townsend Brady, 2011-08 The Indian wars of the north west This the fifth volume in Cyrus Townsend Brady's well regarded series American Fights and Fighters differs somewhat in format from other its companion volumes Whilst Brady is always informative accurate original and entertaining his books have a tendency to include material where the subject matter appears to have appealed to Brady at the time and was thereafter in need of a home in one of his works This volume Northwest Fights and Fighters focuses specifically on two wars the Nez Perc War and the Modoc War which the United States Army fought against the indigenous Indian tribes of the north west in the period following the American Civil War The Nez Perc War was fought against that tribe under Chief Joseph's inspired leadership and the Modoc War was a gruelling bitter campaign fought in the inhospitable lava beds The accounts and recollections of these two war comprise the entire book and Brady therefore deals with his subjects in some detail He has particularly drawn upon the first hand narratives of those combatants who fought on both sides of the conflicts and this very much enhances the book's value since these accounts rarely appear elsewhere in print In the Nez Perc section Brady of course deals with the actions at White Bird Canyon Cottonwood Clearwater Big Hole and all the pivotal aspects of the campaign The Modoc War outraged the American people after the murder of the so called peace commissioners by the Modoc leader Captain Jack and this and many other aspects of the campaign are dealt with in considerable depth Leonaaur have already published or will publish all of Brady's Fights and Fighters series and together they provide a well regarded and classic library of Americans at war particularly on the ever turbulent frontiers of its Westward expansion Leonaaur editions are newly typeset and are not facsimiles each title is available in softcover and hardback with dustjacket Indians of
