Not Beyond Repair Reflections Of A Malay:

Not Beyond Repair Arokia Dass,1991      Discourses, Agency and Identity in Malaysia Zawawi Ibrahim,Gareth Richards,Victor T. King,2021-10-23 This book seeks to break new ground both empirically and conceptually in examining discourses of identity formation and the agency of critical social practices in Malaysia Taking an inclusive cultural studies perspective it questions the ideological narrative of race and ethnicity that dominates explanations of conflicts and cleavages in the Malaysian context The contributions are organised in three broad themes Identities in Contestation Borders Complexities and Hybridities takes a range of empirical studies literary translation religion gender ethnicity indigeneity and sexual orientation to break down preconceived notions of fixed identities This then opens up an examination of Identities and Movements Agency and Alternative Discourses in which contributors deal with counter hegemonic social movements of anti racism young people environmentalism and independent publishing that explicitly seek to open up greater critical democratic space within the Malaysian polity The third section Identities and Narratives Culture and the Media then provides a close textual reading of some exemplars of new cultural and media practices found in oral testimonies popular music film radio programming and storytelling who have consciously created bodies of work that question the dominant national narrative This book is a valuable interdisciplinary work for advanced students and researchers interested in representations of identity and nationhood in Malaysia and for those with wider interests in the fields of critical cultural studies and discourse analysis Here is a fresh startling book to aid the task of unbinding the straitjackets of Malay Chinese and Indian with which colonialism bound Malaysia s plural inheritance and on which the postcolonial state continues to rely In it a panoply of unlikely identities Bajau liminality Kelabit philosophy Islamic feminism refugee hybridity and more finds expression and offers hope for liberation Rachel Leow University of Cambridge This book shakes the foundations of race thinking in Malaysian studies by expanding the range of cases perspectives and outcomes of identity It offers students of Malaysia an examination of identity and agency that is expansive critical and engaging and its interdisciplinary depth brings Malaysian studies into conversation with scholarship across the world Sumit Mandal University of Nottingham Malaysia This is a much needed work that helps us to take apart the colonial inherited categories of race which informed the notion of the plural society the idea of plurality without multiculturalism It complicates the picture of identity by bringing in religion gender indigeneity and sexual orientation and helps us to imagine what a truly multiculturalist Malaysia might look like Syed Farid Alatas National University of Singapore      Authoritarian Populism in Malaysia A. Munro-Kua,1996-11-13 Socio economic and political issues are dealt with selectively within a chronological historical framework covering the dramatic colonial impact of 1940 60 until the present day The state is examined from the point of view of social class as well as communalism to explain the dominance of the ruling coalition over the 37 years since independence The author argues that authoritarian populism is the concept that best fits the apparent paradox of an enduring regime via the ballot box and the extensive restrictions on the scope of democracy particularly through the repressive apparatus of detention without trial The underlying theme is a critique and explanation of Malaysia's human rights record Trade Unions and Labour Movements in the Asia-Pacific Region Byoung-Hoon Lee,Ng Sek-Hong,Russell Lansbury,2019-09-16 Recent developments in the world economy including deindustrialisation and the digital revolution have led to an increasingly individualistic relationship between workers and employers which in turn has weakened labour movements and worker representation However this process is not universal including in some countries of Asia where trade unions are closely aligned with the interests of the dominant political party and the state This book considers the many challenges facing trade unions and worker representation in a wide range of Asian countries For each country full background is given on how trade unions and other forms of worker representation have arisen Key questions then considered include the challenges facing trade unions and worker representation in each country the extent to which these are a result of global or local developments and the actions being taken by trade unions and worker representative bodies to cope with the challenges This book is dedicated to the memory of Professor Keith Thurley London School of Economics Ideological Stylistics and Fictional Discourse Ganakumaran Subramaniam,2009-01-14 This book focuses on ideology and its function in fictional discourse exploring the link between textual ideologies and real ideologies in text production environments It attempts this through a specific focus on the social and linguistic elements that control the presence the use and the presentation of ideology and also the way in which linguistic elements are controlled and manipulated by the collective consciousness of the text producer This correlation between fictional discourse and ideology is revealed through a series of chapters that cover four closely interrelated areas focusing specifically on Malaysian and Singaporean fiction Firstly the positioning of Malaysian and Singaporean literatures in English as individual literary traditions This is to counter the non recognition of Malaysian and Singaporean literatures as individual traditions in spite of five decades of independence Secondly establishing a contextual socio cultural and political framework as a basis for discussion on real ideology arguing that Malaysian and Singaporean writers have moved beyond the anti western nationalistic stage and on to more personal and communal concerns such as race relations identity and a sense of belonging Thirdly rationalising the social structures of ideology that are likely to be found in the Malaysian and Singaporean social milieus especially location and text specific social variables of ideology Lastly it seeks to reveal a linguistic oriented approach for the study of textual ideologies and for linking textual ideologies to ideologies in the overall text production environment The book ultimately shows the significant possibilities of systematic links between textual ideology and the real ideology in the text production environment through what can best be termed as ideological stylistics In doing so it aims to contribute significantly to studies of ideology in general and more specifically on ideology on Malaysian and Singaporean literatures in English Protest and Possibilities Meredith Leigh Weiss,2006 This book examines a recent movement for political reform in Malaysia contrasting the experience both with past initiatives in

Malaysia and with a contemporaneous reform movement in Indonesia to help us understand how and when coalitions unite reformers from civil and political societies and how these coalitions engage with the state and society

Labour in Southeast Asia Becky Elmhirst, Ratna Saptari, 2004-05-07 In seeking to provoke debate the book reveals the variety of experiences evident in countries and regions marked by capitalist and post socialist regulatory frameworks and contrasting labour regimes histories and cultures The contributions show the importance of critically examining both the complex nature of global local links and the particular ways economic processes are around the themes of labour regimes labour processes labour mobility and labour communities the essays show how economic development is not only shaped by market forces but is also interlocked in systems of meaning

Global Challenges and Local Responses Jang-Sup Shin, 2007-08-07 East Asia has in many ways been the cockpit of the globalization process If the phenomenon as it is generally defined is largely recognized as a relatively recent one the countries that have experienced most change during this period have been in the region Rapid economic growth leading to the Tigers label was followed by financial crisis and partial recovery Underlying this has been the remarkable success story of Japan since the Second World War followed by the current seemingly inexorable progress of China towards centrality on the world stage Jang Sup Shin has amassed an international team of contributors to shed light on how the various Asian countries have responded to the globalization process These include James Crotty Lu Ding and Ha Joon Chang

Safety Politics and Risk Perceptions in Malaysian Industry Arne Wangel, 1997

Cars, Automobility and Development in Asia Arve Hansen, Kenneth Bo Nielsen, 2016-09-13 Cars Automobility and Development in Asia explores the nexus between automobility and development in a pan Asian comparative perspective The book seeks to integrate the policies production forms consumption preferences and symbolism implicated in emerging Asian automobilities Using empirically rich and grounded analyses of both comparative and single country case studies the authors chart new approaches to studying automobility and development in emerging Asia

Women and Trade Unions in Peninsular Malaysia with Special Reference to MTUC and CUEPACS Rohana Ariffin, 1997

Globalization and Third World Trade Unions Henk Thomas, 1995 This study is the outcome of a series of investigations into the deep crisis in which the organized labour movement in the South finds itself as a result of changes in the global economy The regional overviews and illustrative case studies from Asia Latin America and Africa show how trade unions currently face a variety of difficult challenges These include new management methods the growing influence of the informal sector and casualization of labour and the ever growing participation of women workers who are not currently represented adequately by trade unions The volume concludes with an exploration of possible strategies for the future

Trade Unions and the State in Peninsular Malaysia Jomo Kwame Sundaram, Patricia Todd, 1994 This book traces the development of trade unions in Peninsular Malaysia over the last century from colonial times to the early 1990 s stressing the key role of the state in shaping the role and nature of organized labour during various time periods Trade unions were not allowed in British Malaya before 1940 After the Japanese Occupation organized labour was effectively mobilized by the left and contributed significantly to the anti colonial struggle for Independence However from 1948 severe repression directed against the left brought an abrupt end to this development From the early 1950 s the colonial authorities sought to wean support from the communist led insurgency by encouraging moderate or responsible unionists but this did not prevent the resurgence of labour militancy in the mid 1950 s on the eve of Independence After a brief honeymoon period with the post colonial government union activity mounted again in the 1960 s until repression against the left from the mid 1960 s took its toll Extra parliamentary rule after the May 1969 riots saw increased government efforts to subordinate labour to economic developmental priorities particularly those of export orientated industrialization In the early 1970 s however there were also concessions to organized labour in an attempt to promote tripartite corporatism But in the late 1970 s however there has been further subordination of labour to a changing developmentalist agenda increasingly favourable to private business interests
