Nutrition In The Community A Critical Look At Nutrition Policy Planning And Programs:

Nutrition in the Community Donald Stewart McLaren, 1983 Abstract A total of 24 authoritative papers on nutrition policy and programs are presented for nutrition policy makers and nutrition program operators The papers are arranged under 3 central themes A section on nutrition policy concepts and planning includes historical developments in the United Kingdom UK the community planning process infant nutrition policy planning nutrition education and ethics and malnutrition Discussion of active nutrition policies in various countries Norway the UK the US covers policy aspects e g agricultural and food policies nutritional surveillance food additives and contaminants and nutritional strategies in UNICEF The final section on current nutrition programs reports on nutritional rehabilitation nutrition in relief agencies i e HOPE and CARE vitamin A deficiency in the Philippines the fortification of sugar with vitamin A and child malnutrition prevention wz Health Psychology in Global Perspective Frances E. Aboud, 1998-03-09 What do we know about health in other countries How can we use explanations from health psychology to understand health issues around the world In Health Psychology in Global Perspective author Frances E Aboud uses health psychology to examine the health issues facing developing countries and compares them with issues faced by people in developed countries She uses a psychosocial perspective rather than the typical biomedical and anthropological perspectives usually applied to health issues in developing countries and integrates diverse literature from a variety of disciplines including epidemiology psychology education anthropology and nursing Accessible to a broad audience this volume brings mainstream health psychology concepts to bear on the problems of international health and cross cultural issues to bear on concepts and theories in mainstream health psychology It also incorporates a number of pedagogical features case vignettes problem solving debate exercises case studies which make it an ideal supplemental text for courses in health psychology Students will appreciate the extended case studies while instructors will value the multidisciplinary perspective A thought provoking examination of the state of knowledge about health in developing countries Health Psychology in Global Perspective is a valuable resource for academics and professionals in health psychology psychology cross cultural psychology clinical psychology social psychology anthropology and public health Income Growth and Gender Bias in Childhood Mortality in Developing Countries Mika Ueyama, 2007 Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1983 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 Child Survival Nancy Scheper-Hughes, 2012-12-06 of older children adults and the family unit as a whole These moral evaluations are in turn influenced by such external contingencies as population demography social and economic factors subsistence strategies household composition and by cultural ideas concerning the nature of infancy and childhood definitions of personhood and beliefs about the soul and its immortality MOTHER LOVE AND CHILD DEATH Of all the many factors that endanger the lives of young children by far the most difficult to examine with any degree of dispassionate objectivity is the quality of parenting Historians and social scientists no less than the public at large are influenced by old cultural myths about childhood innocence and mother love as well as their opposites The terrible power and significance attributed to maternal behavior in particular is a commonsense perception based on the observation that the human infant specialized as it is for prematurity and prolonged dependency simply cannot survive for very long without considerable maternal love and care The infant's life depends to a very great extent on the good will of others but most especially of course that of the mother Consequently it has been the fate of mothers throughout history to appear in strange and distorted forms They may appear as larger than life or as invisible as all powerful and destructive or as helpless and angelic Myths of the maternal instinct compete historically with myths of a universal infanticidal impulse

Nutrition and National Development Victoria J. Quinn,1994 One conclusion of this thesis is that the problem of malnutrition in Malawi can not be viewed as a small issue since the costs to the individual and to the nation are too great Instead improvement in nutritional status needs to be viewed as an objective in a variety of sectors Similarly its solution should not solely be limited to nutritionists since development planners in all sectors must be involved In addition considering the seriousness of the nutrition problem found in the country the time horizon for improvement to be evident should realistically be framed in terms of decades National Nutrition Policy: National Nutrition Policy Experiences ,1974
