McWilliams explains that because of its natural edibility abundance and ease of harvesting the pecan was left in its natural state longer than any other commercial fruit or nut crop in America Yet once the process of improvement began it took less than a century for the pecan to be almost totally domesticated Today more than 300 million pounds of pecans are produced every year in the United States and as much as half of that total might be exported to China which has fallen in love with America s native nut McWilliams also warns that as ubiquitous as the pecan has become it is vulnerable to a perfect storm of economic threats and ecological disasters that could wipe it out within a generation This lively history suggests why the pecan deserves to be recognized as a true American heirloom Good Housekeeping ,1929 The Delineator R.
