In The Prescription to Prison Pipeline Michelle Smirnova argues that the ongoing opioid drug epidemic is the result of an endless cycle in which suffering is medicalized and drug use is criminalized Drawing on interviews with eighty incarcerated individuals in Missouri correctional institutions Smirnova shows how contradictions in medical practices social ideals and legal policies disproportionately criminalize the poor for their social condition This criminalization further exacerbates and perpetuates drug addiction and poverty Tracing the processes by which social issues are constructed as biomedical ones that necessitate pharmacological intervention Smirnova highlights how inequitable surveillance policing and punishment of marginalized populations intensify harms associated with both treatment and punishment especially given that the distinctions between the two have become blurred By focusing on the stories of people whose pain and pharmaceutical treatment led to incarceration Smirnova challenges the binary of individual and social problems effectively exploring how the conceptualization diagnosis and treatment of substance use may exacerbate outcomes such as relapse recidivism poverty abuse and death The Retail Druggist, 1918 Prescription for Herbal Healing Phyllis A.
