There are demands for reform of the electoral college given heightened awareness that it does not strictly reflect the popular vote The U S Supreme Court under Chief Justice William H Rehnquist has mounted an explicit and controversial defense of federalism and new nominees to the Court are likely to be questioned on that subject and appraised in part by their responses Derthick's essays invite readers to join the Court in weighing the contemporary importance of federalism as an institution of government Koenia and Schultz's Disaster Medicine Kristi L. Koeniq, Carl H. Schultz, 2016-04-18 This is the definitive reference on disaster medicine outlining areas of proficiency for health care professionals handling mass casualty crises The Price of Citizenship Michael B. Katz, 2002-03 Katz shows how these changes are propelling America toward a future of increased inequality and decreased security as individuals compete for success in an open market with ever fewer protections against misfortune power and greed And he shows how these trends are transforming citizenship from a right of birth into a privilege available only to the fully employed Jacket Public Papers of the Presidents of the United States, William J. Paul Olson, 2006 The primary objective of this book is to provide comprehensive descriptions and make comparative evaluations of each of the mental health systems of four Western industrialized countries The countries selected illustrate a continuum from a highly centralized and publicly financed national health service in Great Britain to a predominantly decentralized and more privately financed market of mental health services in the United States In between these two contrasting types are examples of national health services and insurance programs in Norway and Canada Contributing experts from each country begin their chapters with an overview of the geographic demographic political economic and cultural contexts in which their mental health systems are situated Thereafter they a present national data to estimate the need for mental health services b describe national mental health policies and programs designed to meet their population s need c indicate how mental health services are organized and delivered and d discuss how their system is financed and provided resources A common chapter outline facilitates comparisons among all four systems on relevant evaluation criteria a access and equity b quality and efficacy c cost and efficiency d financing and fairness e protection and participation and f population relevance In the final section of each chapter the authors provide recommendations for improved performance of their mental health system In the initial chapter the editor provides an overview introduces the four countries selected and defines the evaluation criteria applied by all contributing authors. The final two chapters address convergence and divergence among the four systems and provide recommendations for improvement and for future comparative studies The intended audience includes mental health policymakers program administrators and managers teachers of graduate level Fads, Fallacies And Foolishness In Medical Care Management And Policy Theodore R Marmor, 2007-03-28 courses relat No one misses the onslaught of claims about reforming modern medical care How doctors should be paid how hospitals should be paid or governed how much patients should pay when sick in co payments how the quality of care could be improved and how governments and other buyers could better control the costs of care all find expression in the explosion of medical care conference proceedings op eds news bulletins journal articles and books This collection of articles takes up a key set of what the author regards as particularly misleading fads and fashions developments that produce a startling degree of foolishness in contemporary discussions of how to organize deliver finance pay for and regulate medical care services in modern industrial democracies The policy fads addressed include the celebration of explicit rationing as a major cost control instrument the belief in a basic package of health insurance benefits to constrain costs the faith that contemporary cross national research can deliver a large number of transferable models and the notion that broadening the definition of what is meant by health will constitute some sort of useful advance in practice
