Press And Politics In Nigeria 1880 1937:

Press and Politics in Nigeria, 1880-1937 Fred I. A. Omu, 1978 Place the rise of the newspaper industry in historical context to survey the role which the newspapers played in major questions of policy to examine the influences behind the thoughts and actions of the newspapers to indicate how the ideas and attitudes of the newspapers developed in relation to changing circumstance and changes in personnel and to attempt where the evidence permits an evaluation of the effectiveness of press criticism and agitation Preface

Press and Politics in Nigeria, 1880-1937, 1978 Press Freedom and Communication in Africa Festus Eribo, William Jong-Ebot, 1997 Recent years have seen considerable growth in the media in Africa with increases in the number of newspapers and radio and television stations At the same time there has been an increase in the number of arrests of journalists and broadcasters and various forms of censorship have been introduced The essays in this volume examine press censorship past and present and bring a fresh perspective to the position of the mass media in the African continent

Media and Communication in Nigeria Bruce Mutsvairo, Nnamdi T Ekeanyanwu, 2021-12-30 Communication is changing rapidly around the world particularly in Africa where citizens are embracing digital technologies not only to improve not only interpersonal communication but also the state of their financial well being This book investigates these transformations in Nigeria s booming communication industry The book traces communications in Nigeria back to pre colonial indigenous communications through the development of telecommunication broadcasting networks the press the Nigerian film industry Nollywood and on to the digital era At a time when Western voices still dominate the academic literature on communication in Africa this book is noteworthy in drawing almost exclusively on the expertise of Nigerian based authors critiquing the discipline from their own lens and providing an important contribution to the decolonisation of communication studies The authors provide a holistic analysis of the sector encompassing print journalism broadcast journalism public relations advertising film development communication organisational communication and strategic communication Analysis of the role of digital technologies is woven throughout the book concluding with a final section theorising the future of communication studies in Nigeria in the light of the digital media revolution Robust in its theoretical and methodological underpinnings this book will be an important reference for researchers of media and communication studies and those working on Africa specifically

Africa An Imperial World at War Ashley Jackson, Yasmin Khan, Gajendra Singh, 2016-07-01 At the start of the Second World War Britain was at the height of its imperial power and it is no surprise that it drew upon the global resources of the Empire once war had been declared Whilst this international aspect of Britain's war effort has been well studied in relation to the military contribution of individual dominions and colonies relatively little has been written about the Empire as a whole As such An Imperial World at War makes an important contribution to the historiography relating to the British Empire and its wartime experience It argues that the war needs to be viewed in imperial terms that the role of forces drawn from the Empire is poorly understood and that the war's impact on colonial societies is barely grasped at all in conventional accounts Through a series of case studies the volume demonstrates the fundamental role played by the Empire in Britain's war effort and highlights some of the consequences for both Britain and its imperial territories Themes include the recruitment and utilization of military formations drawn from imperial territories the experience of British forces stationed overseas the use of strategic bases located in the colonies British policy in the Middle East and the challenge posed by growing American power the occupation of enemy colonies and the enemy occupation of British colonies colonial civil defence measures financial support for the war effort supplied by the Empire and the commemoration of the war The Afterword anticipates a new decentred history of the war that properly acknowledges the role and importance of people and places throughout the colonial and semi colonial world This volume emanates from a conference organized as part of the Home Fronts of the Empire Commonwealth project The project was generously funded by the Arts and Humanities Research Council and led by Yasmin Khan and Ashley Jackson with Gajendra Singh as Postdoctoral Research Assistant

African Literatures in English Gareth Griffiths, 2014-09-19 Here is an introduction to the history of English writing from East and West Africa drawing on a range of texts from the slave diaspora to the post war upsurge in African English language and literature from these regions

Ere Roosevelt Came Duse Mohamed Ali, 2024-01-18 An outstanding contribution to literary Pan Africanism Rey Bowen University of Chichester A compelling addition to the canon of Pan African creative writing from the 1930s The editors show how Ali brought to life core themes of African American literature for readers in colonial Africa Stephanie Newell Professor Yale University Ali was a major force in early twentieth century Pan Africanism The introductory material offers essential tools for today's readers to appreciate this extraordinary yet previously inaccessible novel Dr Leslie James Queen Mary University of London

Ere Roosevelt Came is a short novel by early Pan Africanist Duse Mohamed Ali Originally serialized in Ali's Nigerian magazine The Comet in 1934 it grapples with the rise of global fascism and white supremacy and the growing geopolitical influence of the USA in the interwar period This is a fantastical intricately woven and speculative story about how Black American airmen organizing in secret fight an international assemblage of white supremacists and Russian foreign agents bent on instigating a new world war The narrative reveals how Black liberation struggles Bolshevism and the rise of so called colored Japanese empires were bound together in the Pan African literary imaginary Written by a Sudanese Egyptian serialized in a West African magazine and set in the USA Ere Roosevelt Came is a Pan African novel par excellence and a fascinating historical document that conveys the complexities of Black internationalism in the interwar years The novel is presented with two original contextualizing essays and appendices featuring selected other writings to provide further insight into Ali s vision of a Pan African future Duse Mohamed Ali 1866 1945 was a playwright historian journalist editor and publisher He inspired many Black nationalists including a young Marcus Garvey whom he mentored Marina Bilbija is Assistant Professor of English at Wesleyan University Connecticut Alex Lubin is Professor of African American Studies at Penn State University Pennsylvania He is the author of several books

Print Culture and the First Yoruba Novel Karin Barber, 2012-06-01 First appearing as a series of letters to a local newspaper The Life Story of Me Segilola caused a sensation in Lagos in the late 1920s The lifelike autobiography of a repentant courtesan it regaled the reader with risqu escapades pious moralising and vivid evocations of urban popular culture The narrative and the commentary that sprang up around it in the Yoruba press offer a unique view of life in colonial Lagos Today it is recognised as I B Thomas s work and hailed as the first Yoruba novel in a major African literary tradition This volume presents the edited Yoruba text with translation selected newspaper correspondence and an introductory essay showing how the text emerged from the Yoruba print culture of the time Print Culture and the First Yoruba Novel has won the Paul Hair Prize 2013

The Oxford Handbook of Africa and Economics Célestin Monga, Justin Yifu Lin, 2015 A popular myth about the travails of Africa holds that the continent s long history of poor economic performance reflects the inability of its leaders and policymakers to fulfill the long list of preconditions to be met before sustained growth can be achieved These conditions are said to vary from the necessary quantity and quality of physical and human capital to the appropriate institutions and business environments While intellectually charming and often elegantly formulated that conventional wisdom is actually contradicted by historical evidence and common sense It also suggests a form of intellectual mimicry that posits a unique path to prosperity for all countries regardless of their level of development and economic structure In fact the argument underlining that reasoning is tautological and the policy prescriptions derived from it are fatally teleological low income countries are by definition those where such ingredients are missing None of today s high income countries started its growth process with the required and complete list of growth ingredients Unless one truly believes that the continent of Africa and most developing countries are ruled predominantly if not exclusively by plutocrats with a high propensity for sadomasochism the conventional view must be re examined debated and questioned This volume the second of the Oxford Handbook of Africa and Economics reassesses the economic policies and practices observed across the continent since independence It offers a collection of analyses by some of the leading economists and development thinkers of our time and reflects a wide range of perspectives and viewpoints Africa s emergence as a potential economic powerhouse in the years and decades ahead amply justifies the scope and ambition of the book Nigeria and the Death of Liberal England Peter J. Yearwood, 2018-07-18 This book shows how a stormy parliamentary debate over the sale of German properties in Nigeria on 8 November 1916 began the process which brought down Asquith and made Lloyd George prime minister The colonial secretary Bonar Law who was also leader of the Conservative Party wanted neutral firms to bid Usually presented as a policy imposed on him by doctrinaire Liberal free traders it was in fact that of the colonial government which hoped that encouraging foreign competition would prevent the Nigerian export economy becoming controlled by a ring of mainly Liverpool firms Seeing itself as the defender of Nigerian interests the Colonial Office endorsed this The large British companies got up an agitation which was taken over by Sir Edward Carson the one significant opposition politician as part of his attack on supposed German influence in high places Law counter attacked by arguing that a supposedly patriotic cause masked the greed of an emergent cartel He succeeded because smaller British and African firms trying to break into the now profitable produce export trade had already painted that picture By defeating Carson in the debate Law became again an effective party leader who hoped to re invigorate the coalition but instead found himself working with Lloyd George to sideline Asquith Based on underused sources and overturning established interpretations the book situates the debate within the context of the development of the Nigerian economy the conflicts between the major firms the role of oils and fats in wartime and the emergence of Nigerian nationalism

African Diasporas in the New and Old Worlds, 2021-11-01 In the humanities the term diaspora recently emerged as a promising and powerful heuristic concept It challenged traditional ways of thinking and invited reconsiderations of theoretical assumptions about the unfolding of cross cultural and multi ethnic societies about power relations frontiers and boundaries about cultural transmission communication and translation The present collection of essays by renowned writers and scholars addresses these issues and helps to ground the ongoing debate about the African diaspora in a more solid theoretical framework Part I is dedicated to a general discussion of the concept of African diaspora its origins and historical development Part II examines the complex cultural dimensions of African diasporas in relation to significant sites and figures including the modes and modalities of creative expression from the perspective of both artists writers and their audiences finally Part III focusses on the resources collections and archives and iconographies that are available today As most authors argue the African diaspora should not be seen merely as a historical phenomenon but also as an idea or ideology and an object of representation By exploring this new ground the essays assembled here provide important new insights for scholars in American and African American Studies Cultural Studies Ethnic Studies and African Studies The collection is rounded off by an annotated listing of black autobiographies Studies in Southern Nigerian History Boniface I. Obichere, 2005-07-27 First Published in 1982 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Romancing the Gun Ndaeyo Uko, 2004 This book s insight on media practice shakes conventional notions of the role and enabling environment of the modern press It rattles the academic tradition by illustrating that Nigeria's hard hitting press has not only thrived better under military rule but that it welcomed and supported military rule By questioning conventional wisdom and mental habits Romancing the Gun unveils the power and irresponsibility of the Nigerian press Africa's and one of the world's freest presses and provides crucial pieces in the puzzle of global media practice Imperial Justice Bonny Ibhawoh,2013-10-03 Imperial Justice explores the imperial control of judicial governance and the adjudication of colonial difference in British Africa Focusing on the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council and the colonial regional Appeal Courts for West Africa and East Africa it examines how judicial discourses of native difference and imperial universalism in local disputes influenced practices of power in colonial settings and shaped an evolving jurisprudence of Empire Arguing that the Imperial Appeal Courts were key sites where colonial legal modernity was fashioned the book examines the tensions that permeated the colonial legal system such as the difficulty of upholding basic standards of British justice while at the same time allowing for local customary divergence which was thought essential to achieving that justice The modernizing mission of British justice could only truly be achieved through recognition of local exceptionality and difference Natives who appealed to the Courts of Empire were entitled to the same standards of justice as their civilized colonists yet the boundaries of racial ethnic and cultural difference somehow had to be recognized and maintained in the adjudicatory process Meeting these divergent goals required flexibility in colonial law making as well as in the administration of justice In the paradox of integration and differentiation imperial power and local cultures were not always in conflict but were sometimes complementary and mutually reinforcing The book draws attention not only to the role of Imperial Appeal Courts in the colonies but also to the reciprocal place of colonized peoples in shaping the processes and outcomes of imperial justice A valuable addition to British colonial literature this book places Africa in a central role and examines the role of the African colonies in the shaping of British Imperial jurisprudence Historical Dictionary of Nigeria Toyin Falola,Ann Genova,Matthew M. Heaton,2018-06-21 The Historical Dictionary of Nigeria Second Edition introduces Nigeria's rich and complex history Readers will find a wealth of information on pre 20th century history Nigeria under British colonial rule and important post independence issues while providing greater attention to Nigeria's role in international relations diaspora and contributions to arts film and culture in particular This revised edition covers major developments since the last edition such as the rise of the terrorist group Boko Haram and the election of Muhammadu Buhari to the presidency in 2015 among others This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Nigeria Second Edition contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 1 000 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Nigeria Newsprint Literature and Local Literary Creativity in West Africa, 1900s-1960s Stephanie Newell,2023 Winner 2024 Gustav Ranis International Book Prize Groundbreaking examination of literary production in West

African newspapers and local printing presses in the first half of the 20th century which adds an African perspective to transatlantic Black studies and shows how African newsprint creativity has shaped readers ways of imagining subjectivity and society under colonialism From their inception in the 1880s African owned newspapers in British West Africa carried an abundance of creative writing by local authors largely in English Yet to date this rich and vast array of work has largely been ignored in critical discussion of African literature and cultural history This book for the first time explores this under studied archive of ephemeral writing from serialised fiction to poetry and short stories philosophical essays articles on local history travelogues and reviews and letters and argues for its inclusion in literary genres and anglophone world literatures Combining in depth case studies of creative writing in the Ghana and Nigeria press with a major reappraisal of the Nigerian pamphlets known as Onitsha market literature and focusing on non elite authors the author examines hitherto neglected genres styles languages and crucially readerships She shows how local print cultures permeated African literary production charting changes in literary tastes and transformations to genres and styles as they absorbed elements of globally circulating English texts into formats for local consumption Offering fresh trajectories for thinking about local and transnational African literary networks while remaining attuned to local textual cultures in contexts of colonial power relations anticolonial nationalism the Cold War and global circuits of cultural exchange this important book reveals new insights into ephemeral literature as significant sites of literary production and contributes to filling a gap in scholarship on colonial West Africa
