Reel Black Talk:

Historical Dictionary of African American Cinema S. Torriano Berry, Venise T. Berry, 2015-05-07 As early as 1909 African Americans were utilizing the new medium of cinema to catalogue the world around them using the film camera as a device to capture their lives and their history The daunting subject of race and ethnicity permeated life in America at the turn of the twentieth century and due to the effect of certain early films specific television images and an often biased news media it still plagues us today As new technologies bring the power of the moving image to the masses African Americans will shoot and edit on laptop computers and share their stories with a global audience via the World Wide Web These independently produced visions will add to the diverse cache of African American images being displayed on an ever expanding silver screen This wide range of stories topics views and genres will finally give the world a glimpse of African American life that has long been ignored and has yet to be seen This second edition of Historical Dictionary of African American Cinema covers its history through a chronology an introductory essay appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 1400 cross referenced entries on actors actresses movies producers organizations awards and terminology this book provides a better understanding of the role African Americans played in film history This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about African American cinema African American Cinema Through Black Lives Consciousness Mark A. Reid, 2019-01-12 The interdisciplinary quality of the anthology makes it approachable to students and scholars of fields ranging from film to culture to African American studies alike Black Directors in Hollywood Melvin Donalson, 2003-12-01 Hollywood film directors are some of the world's most powerful storytellers shaping the fantasies and aspirations of people around the globe Since the 1960s African Americans have increasingly joined their ranks bringing fresh insights to movie characterizations plots and themes and depicting areas of African American culture that were previously absent from mainstream films Today black directors are making films in all popular genres while inventing new ones to speak directly from and to the black experience This book offers a first comprehensive look at the work of black directors in Hollywood from pioneers such as Gordon Parks Melvin Van Peebles and Ossie Davis to current talents including Spike Lee John Singleton Kasi Lemmons and Carl Franklin Discussing 67 individuals and over 135 films Melvin Donalson thoroughly explores how black directors storytelling skills and film techniques have widened both the thematic focus and visual style of American cinema Assessing the meanings and messages in their films he convincingly demonstrates that black directors are balancing Hollywood's demand for box office success with artistic achievement and responsibility to ethnic cultural and gender issues Kids Talk Susan M. Hoyle, Carolyn Temple Adger, 1998-09-10 Between early childhood and adulthood language acquisition is succeeded by a bloom of repertoire for managing interaction a growing sensitivity to the relation of language and society an expanding ability to wield power through the strategic use of language and an increasing sophistication in framing speech activities This book examines a wide range of language practices among school age children and teenagers using data from naturally occurring recorded talk and from careful observation of interaction in peer groups The contributors analyze talk at play at school and at work documenting the growing communicative skills of young people while always focusing on what young speakers themselves do with and through language Theoretical constructs to which the contributors appeal include Goffman's notion of footing and Hymes communicative competence as well as multiple characterizations of discourse structure The chapters show older children as strategic language users dynamic actors who are often concerned with defining themselves as a distinctive group different from adults yet who just as often display proficiency at sophisticated discourse activities that presage those of adulthood
