Reenvisioning Landscapearchitecture:

Re-envisioning Landscape/architecture Catherine Spellman, Peter Cook, Christine Boyer, 2003 Re envisioning Landscape Architecture suggests that the relationship between landscape and architecture might be imagined over and over again in such a way that each is defined less as a quantifiable object and more as an idea a way of seeing act of making and way of engaging culture and society The essays collected here offer many interpretations and possibilities for this relationship with the common assumption that it should be considered at every negotiation between realms of thought and whenever culture and place are to be incorporated with understanding and meaning The collection is based in a belief that the landscape architecture relationship is at the center of all inspired design therefore in one way or another each essay addresses how this relationship is created nurtured and maintained to ensure the making of integrated design work

Re-Envisioning Education Rajni Shankar-Brown, 2022-09-01 With increasing diversity and widening disparities in the United States and globally there are significant challenges and opportunities throughout the educational landscape Today s educational stakeholders particularly public school administrators and teachers must re envision education and collectively build equity centered systems structures and practices Confronting systemic inequality in education can be a daunting task but it is nonetheless imperative Connecting theory to practice this book aims to promote inclusive educational excellence and will offer valuable insights and inspiration to a wide range of educational stakeholders Affirming diversity and advancing social justice requires dismantling oppressive customs and structures inside and outside of the classroom fostering an equitable school culture building inclusive learning environments and increasing collective efficacy though best practice Creating healthier schools and communities requires authentically investing in and supporting historically and socially marginalized students and families Rooted in social justice and weaving together diverse voices from the field of education this edited volume will examine equity focused pre K 12 pedagogical practices and showcase high impact initiatives Educators play a vital role in ensuring positive student outcomes and success but often report feeling inadequately prepared for current challenges Unfortunately growing challenges are contributing to turnover rates and shortages as well as perpetuating social inequities among pre K 12 students instead of dismantling them A research study by the National Association of Secondary School Principals NASSP and the Learning Policy Institute LPI reveals that public schools with higher percentages of low income students and students of color are more likely to experience administrative and teacher turnover which compounds equity issues affecting already vulnerable students This edited volume will provide educational stakeholders i e school administrators teachers service providers parents guardians nonprofit leaders community members with a deeper understanding of pedagogical practices that affirm diversity and promote social justice while offering a current view of educational inequalities juxtaposed with an urgent call to action School districts across the United States must recognize inequalities and provide increasingly diverse students with needed support and resources particularly as social disparities continue to widen and adversely impact millions of students Through a collection of diverse voices from the field of education university educators pre K 12 district leaders schools administrators and teachers Nonprofit leaders serving children and youth this book will illuminate current social inequalities impacting pre K 16 students establish the need to affirm diversity and advance social justice share practical examples of transformative initiatives including mindful school family community partnerships feature evidence based pedagogical practices and provide an array of helpful resources for 21st century educational stakeholders

Values in Landscape Architecture and Environmental Design M. Elen Deming,2015-11-09 The successful realization of diversity resilience usefulness profitability or beauty in landscape design requires a firm understanding of the stakeholders values This collection which incorporates a wide variety of geographic locations and cultural perspectives reinforces the necessity for clear and articulate comprehension of the many factors that guide the design process As the contributors to this collection reveal dominant and emerging social political philosophical and economic concerns perpetually assert themselves in designed landscapes from manifestations of class consciousness in Napa Valley vineyards to recurring themes and conflicts in American commemorative culture as seen in designs for national memorials One essay demonstrates the lasting impact of the doctrine of Manifest Destiny on the culture and spaces of the Midwest while another considers the shifting historical narratives that led to the de domestication and subsequent re wilding of the Oostvaardersplassen in the Netherlands These eleven essays help foster the ability to conduct a balanced analysis of various value systems and produce a lucid visualization of the necessary tradeoffs Offering an array of case studies and theoretical arguments Values in Landscape Architecture and Environmental Design encourages professionals and educators to bring self awareness precision and accountability to their consideration of landscape designs

Re-Imagining Resilient Productive Landscapes Carla Brisotto,Fabiano Lemes de Oliveira,2022-03-09 This book explores how lessons from past urban planning experiences can inform current debates on urban agriculture Productive landscapes today have been posited as instruments for the positive transformation related to territorial fragility and abandonment promoting social cohesion food security and wider environmental and economic benefits The book will re map the way in which seeming landscape limitations and challenges can be turned into potential innovation and a new lease of urban rural life It does so by drawing on significant past urban agricultural experiences in planning as vectors for new critical reflections relevant to re igniting ideas for future envisioning of urban scenarios in which productive landscapes play fundamental transformative roles The focus is on planning ideas and the roles of key individual planners all of which have designed agricultural strategies for the city at some point in their careers It intends to help us today reimagine urban rural relationships and the transformation of under or mis used urban open spaces peri urban areas fringe conditions and in between spaces

Re-Envisioning the Public Research University Andrew Furco,Robert H. Bruininks,Robert J. Jones,Kateryna Kent,2021-12-24 This volume explores the numerous and competing demands that face America's public research universities and considers how institutions and their leaders can best navigate this challenge to ensure longevity relevance and success on the local national and global stage Today's public research universities have the unique challenge of responding to new societal pressures and policies while remaining true to their core educational missions and values Highlighting the multiple roles that universities must now fulfil as institutions of higher learning as research bodies as institutions with global reputations and as organizations that serve the public the volume asks how they can best evolve in the rapidly changing education landscape Tackling subjects such as faculty culture the role of technology financial sustainability institutional identity diversity and organizational development chapters identify innovative and transformative mechanisms for acclimatizing the public research university to current educational academic and societal needs This text will benefit researchers academics and educators with an interest in higher education educational reform and policy and the sociology of education more broadly

Architecture for Flowing and Connecting Spaces Nicolò Chierichetti,Raffaella Cavallaro,2025-09-01 Ceci n est pas une conf rence sur la mobilit As infrastructures of movement often prioritize technical efficiency they risk neglecting the qualitative and experiential dimensions of space an oversight that architectural thinking is distinctively positioned to address Architecture offers a special perspective to address this gap particularly in light of SDG 09 Industry Innovation and Infrastructures and SDG 11 Sustainable Cities and Communities and in reference to the principles of the EAAE Charter By engaging with mobility through a transversal approach the conference explores how architectural design can contribute to reimagining spaces to overcome functionalist engineering limitations also considering the ecological climate and social impacts of mobility spaces as something more than mere built objects Through the examination of design methodologies and prototype case studies the conference attempts to unveil the potential of architectural design and research tools to enrich unconventional discussions about mobility in urban and peri urban contexts its spatial configurations and experiential qualities Although mobility is intended as a framework the discourse will focus on the spaces above below in between and to the sides of the ordinary boundaries of architectures of flow as well as on the spaces of new forms of movement The conference Passages Architecture for Flowing and Connecting Spaces invited contributions which critically address the role of Architecture in the Shaping the spaces of mobility and in their interference around the sessions of Intersection Collateral and Evolution

Reimagining Detroit John Gallagher, 2010-10-15 Suggests ways for Detroit to become a smaller but better city in the twenty first century and proposes productive uses for the city's vacant spaces Experts estimate that perhaps forty square miles of Detroit are vacant from a quarter to a third of the city a level of emptiness that creates a landscape unlike any other big city Author John Gallagher who has covered urban redevelopment for the Detroit Free Press for two decades spent a year researching what is going on in Detroit precisely because of its open space and the dire economic times we face Instead of presenting another account of the city's decline Reimagining Detroit Opportunities for Redefining an American City showcases the innovative community building work happening in the city and focuses on what else can be done to make Detroit leaner greener and more economically self sufficient Gallagher conducted numerous interviews visited community projects and took many of the photographs that accompany the text to uncover some of the strategies that are being used and could be used in the future to make twenty first century Detroit a more sustainable and desirable place to live Some of the topics Gallagher discusses are urban agriculture restoring vacant lots reconfiguring Detroit's overbuilt road network and reestablishing some of the city's original natural landscape He also investigates new models for governing the city and fostering a more entrepreneurial economy to ensure a more stable political and economic future Along the way Gallagher introduces readers to innovative projects that are already under way in the city and proposes other models for possible solutions from as far away as Dresden Germany and Seoul South Korea and as close to home as Philadelphia and Youngstown to complement current efforts Ultimately Gallagher helps to promote progressive ideas and the community leaders advancing them and offers guidance for other places dealing with the shrinking cities phenomenon Readers interested in urban studies and environmental issues will enjoy the fresh perspective of Reimagining Detroit

Past Matters Caroline Miller, 2009-03-26 Past Matters brings together a group of largely Australian and New Zealand academics who in a series of case studies consider how planning concepts were adopted adjusted adapted and extended in a Pacific Rim setting The early chapters explore the interplay between British and American planning models and local circumstances in Australia Japan and New Zealand The main body of chapters recount difficulties faced by indigenous peoples with respect to housing needs and more generally re asserting themselves in what began as colonial urban areas as well as others that look at community meanings liberalism and exclusion on the street and the power of sectional interests The latter chapters also pose questions about urban heritage in terms of what and whose interests are at stake in these debates The volume concludes with two convergent chapters that outline some practices by which heritage of a more day to day suburban sort can be protected within a planning system The collection centres on Australia and New Zealand but extends to include chapters on Canada and Japan The viewpoints offered serve as a gentle reminder of the limitations of Metropolitan Theory The Great Reimagining Bree T. Hocking, 2015-02-01 While sectarian violence has greatly diminished on the streets of Belfast and Derry proxy battles over the right to define Northern Ireland's identity through its new symbolic landscapes continue Offering a detailed ethnographic account of Northern Ireland's post conflict visual transformation this book examines the official effort to produce new civic images against a backdrop of ongoing political and social struggle Interviews with politicians policymakers community leaders cultural workers and residents shed light on the deeply contested nature of seemingly harmonized urban landscapes in societies undergoing radical structural change Here the public art process serves as a vital means to understanding the wider politics of a transforming public sphere in an age of globalization and transnational connectivity Learning Country in Landscape Architecture David S. Jones, 2021-02-27 This book strategically focuses upon the feasibility of positioning Indigenous Knowledge Systems into tertiary built environment education and research in Australia Australian tertiary education has little engaged with Indigenous peoples and their Indigenous Knowledge Systems and the respectful translation of their Indigenous Knowledge Systems into tertiary education learning In contrast while there has been a dearth of discussion and research on this topic pertaining to the tertiary sector the secondary school sector has passionately pursued this topic There is an uneasiness by the tertiary sector to engage in this realm overwhelmed already by the imperatives of the Commonwealth's Closing the Gap initiative to advance Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander tertiary education successes and appointments of Indigenous academics As a consequence the teaching of Indigenous Knowledge Systems relevant to professional disciplines particularly landscape architecture where it is most apt is overlooked and similarly little addressed in the relevant professional institute education accreditation standards Brutalism as Found Nicholas Thoburn, 2024-03-19 A critical appropriation of Brutalism in the crisis conditions of today The Robin Hood Gardens public housing estate in East London completed in 1972 was designed by Alison and Peter Smithson as an ethical and aesthetic encounter with the flux and crises of the social world Now demolished by the forces of speculative development this Brutalist estate has been the subject of much dispute But the clichéd terms of debate a concrete monstrosity or a modernist masterpiece have marginalized the estate's residents and obscured its architectural originality Recovering the social in the architectural this book centers the estate's lived experience of a multiracial working class not to displace the architecture's sensory qualities of matter and form but to radicalize them for our present Immersed in the materials atmospheres social forms and afterlives of this experimental estate Robin Hood Gardens is reconstructed here as a socio architectural expression of our times out of joint

Reimagining Communication: Action Michael Filimowicz, Veronika Tzankova, 2020-08-04 As a part of an extensive exploration Reimagining Communication Action investigates the practical implications of communication as a cultural industry media ecology and a complex social activity integral to all domains of life The Reimagining Communication series develops a new information architecture for the field of communications studies grounded in its interdisciplinary origins and looking ahead to emerging trends as researchers take into account new media technologies and their impacts on society and culture The diverse and comprehensive body of contributions in this unique interdisciplinary resource explore communication as a form of action within a mix of social cultural political and economic contexts They emphasize the continuously expanding horizons of the field by engaging with the latest trends in practical inquiry within communication studies Reflecting on the truly diverse implications of communicative processes and representations Reimagining Communication Action covers key practical developments of concern to the field It integrates diverse theoretical and practice based perspectives to emphasize the purpose and significance of communication to human experience at individual and social levels in a uniquely accessible and engaging way This is an essential introductory text for advanced undergraduate and graduate students along with scholars of communication broadcast media and interactive technologies with an interdisciplinary focus and an emphasis on the integration of new technologies

Reimagining with Christian Doctrines Grace Ji-Sun Kim, J. Daggers, 2014-01-10 This collection demonstrates a constructive potential in reimagining with doctrines which unlocks them from centuries of patriarchal constraint It opens the way for glimpsing divine action in the economy of salvation while human struggles for justice are placed within a wider arena when discrete theological resources are deployed in this way
