Critical Reflections on Regional Competitiveness Gillian Bristow, 2010-04-05 Since the early 1990s governments and development agencies have become increasingly preoccupied with the pursuit of regional competitiveness However there is considerable confusion around what exactly regional competitiveness means how it might be achieved whether and how it can be measured and whether it is a meaningful and appropriate goal for regional economies The central aim of this book is to provide a comprehensive and critical account of these debates with reference to theory policy and practice and thus to explore the meaning and value of the concept of regional competitiveness The book is structured into three parts Part one introduces the concept of regional competitiveness by tracing its origins and exploring its different meanings in regional economic development This will critically engage with political economy approaches to understanding the nature and dominance of the competitiveness discourse Part two interrogates the pursuit of regional competitiveness in policy and practice This critically evaluates the degree to which the pursuit of competitiveness is encouraging convergence in policy agendas in regions through an examination of key determinants of policy sameness and difference notably benchmarking and devolved governance Part three explores the limitations to regional competitiveness and explores whether and how its predominance in the policy discourse might be challenged by alternative agendas such as sustainable development and wellbeing This focuses on the developing qualitative character of regional development This volume critically engages with the theory and policy of regional competitiveness thus providing the first integrated critique of the concept for undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as academics interested in regional development and policy It will unpack the concept of regional competitiveness and explain its usefulness limitations and policy appeal as well as examining its sustainability in the light of evolving governance structures and the imperatives of broadening regional development agendas

Reflections on Regionalism Charles J. Calrow, 1936

Chinese Foreign Relations: Reflections On Knowledge Production Ming Wan, 2024-11-12 With China's global ascendancy Chinese foreign policy has become a popular area of study for scholars around the world Rather than simply contributing to this subject this book sets out to reflect on the field itself using as samples some of the author's previous work both published and unpublished covering different areas of Chinese foreign policy and adopting different approaches In doing so it examines how knowledge about Chinese foreign policy has developed focusing on areas such as traditions values perspectives and regionalism The field of Chinese foreign policy has evolved along with international relations and foreign policy analysis Studies on specific topics have generally been of high quality thanks to the competitive and extensive nature of academic research and exchange despite a perceived failure to predict Beijing's current assertive foreign policy orientation Looking forward this book reflects on how certain current tendencies excessive focus on national security narrowing of academic exchange and access between China and the West and a shift to rivalry driven analysis threaten to lower the quality of future Chinese foreign policy studies in Western countries Architectural Regionalism Vincent B. Canizaro,2012-03-20 In this rapidly globalizing world any investigation of architecture inevitably leads to considerations of regionalism But despite its omnipresence in contemporary practice and theory architectural regionalism remains a fluid concept its historical development and current influence largely undocumented This comprehensive reader brings together over 40 key essays illustrating the full range of ideas embodied by the term Authored by important critics historians and architects such as Kenneth Frampton Lewis Mumford Sigfried Giedion and Alan Colquhoun Architectural Regionalism represents the history of regionalist thinking in architecture from the early twentieth century to today Reflections on Regionalism Margaret Kingsland,Montana State University--Bozeman,1992 The New Politics of Regionalism Ulf Engel,Heidrun Zinecker,Frank Mattheis,Antje Dietze,Thomas Plötze,2016-10-04 This edited volume approaches regionalism as one potential pattern in a changing global order Since the end of the Cold War different forms of territorialization have emerged and we are confronted with an increasing number and variety of actors that are establishing regional projects This volume offers an innovative contribution to the study of this new complexity by exploring constellations of regional actors spatial scales and imaginations beyond state centred perspectives as well as on multiple often overlapping levels The chapters analyse the emergence trajectories and outcomes of regionalisms from the perspective of the Global South specifically concentrating on regional projects in Latin America and Africa but also in the Asia Pacific They attempt to identify the specific conditions and junctures of different forms of region making in their external global and internal local national dimensions The volume also places special emphasis on interactions spatial entanglements and comparisons between regionalisms in different parts of the world By expanding beyond the perspective of North South transfers this book seeks to better understand the dynamics and diversity of interregional interactions This volume will appeal to scholars of global studies international political economy international relations human geography and development studies as well as area studies specialists who focus on Latin America and Africa Critical Reflections on Regional Competitiveness Gillian Bristow,2010-04-05 The book is structured into three parts Part 1 introduces the concept of regional competitiveness by tracing its origins and exploring its different meanings in regional economic development This will critically engage with political economy approaches to understanding the nature and dominance of the competitiveness discourse Part 2 interrogates the pursuit of regional competitiveness in policy and practice This critically evaluates the degree to which the pursuit of competitiveness is encouraging convergence in policy agendas in regions through an examination of key determinants of policy sameness and difference notably benchmarking and devolved governance Part 3 explores the limitations to regional competitiveness and explores whether and how its predominance in the policy discourse might be challenged by alternative agendas such as sustainable development and wellbeing This focuses on the developing qualitative character of regional development

Asean Matters! Reflecting On The Association Of Southeast Asian Nations Yoong Yoong Lee,2011-04-26 The initiative to establish the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN Community was adopted by the ten leaders at the 2003 Bali Summit in Indonesia Since then the concept of a community building process in ASEAN has become an issue that attracts a great deal of attention from scholars and experts around the world ASEAN Matters Reflecting on the Association of Southeast Asian Nations carries essays with different perspectives on critical issues relating to the three pillars in building the ASEAN Community namely the ASEAN Political and Security Community the ASEAN Economic Community and the ASEAN Socio Cultural Community In a nutshell this book provides broad and invaluable insights into the role ASEAN plays in enhancing peace prosperity and stability in the Southeast Asian region Written in a highly accessible style the contents include both a thorough review of current issues and a succinct overview of the past and future direction of ASEAN The book reiterates the continued and strengthening relevance of ASEAN 43 years after its founding Unlike most other books on ASEAN a majority of the essays are written by former professional staff at the ASEAN Secretariat as well as from current office holders This gives the volume a high degree of authenticity and unique insights More interestingly it also includes viewpoints from experts scholars diplomats and officials who either have extensive research knowledge or had been involved in ASEAN s external and economic relations with the dialogue partners such as China India Japan the Republic of Korea Australia New Zealand and the European Union EU among others

Reflections on Architecture, Society and Politics Graham Cairns,2016-10-04 Reflections on Architecture Society and Politics brings together a series of thirteen interview articles by Graham Cairns in collaboration with some of the most prominent polemic thinkers and critical practitioners from the fields of architecture and the social sciences including Noam Chomsky Peggy Deamer Robert A M Stern Daniel Libeskind and Kenneth Frampton Each chapter explores the relationship between architecture and socio political issues through discussion of architectural theories and projects citing specific issues and themes that have led to and will shape the various aspects of the current and future built environment Ranging from Chomsky s examination of the US Mexico border as the architecture of oppression to Robert A M Stern s defence of projects for the Disney corporation and George W Bush this book places politics at the center of issues within contemporary architecture

Regionalism and Africa's Development S.K.B. Asante,2016-07-27 A critical appraisal of regionalism as a key strategy in Africa s development explaining the failures thus far of attempts at regional integration on the continent This is the first text to highlight the main features of the new post 1990 regional initiatives such as the all embracing African Economic Community and World Bank IMF African Development Bank EC and French initiatives and the challenges to Africa from trading blocs elsewhere in the post Uruguay Round environment

Governing Urban Regions Through Collaboration Joël Thibert,2016-04-22 With the demise of the Old Regionalist project of achieving good regional governance through amalgamation voluntary collaboration has become the modus operandi of a large number of North American metropolitan regions Although many researchers have become interested in regional collaboration and its determinants few have specifically studied its outcomes This book contributes to filling this gap by critically re evaluating the fundamental premise of the New Regionalism which is that regional problems can be solved without regional higher government In particular this research asks to what extent does regional collaboration have a significant independent influence on the determinants of regional resilience Using a comparative Canada U S mixed method approach with detailed case studies of the San Francisco Bay Area the Greater Montreal and trans national Niagara Buffalo regions the book examines the direct and indirect impacts of inter local collaboration on policy and policy outcomes at the regional and State Provincial levels The book research concentrates on the effects of bottom up state mandated and functional collaboration and the moderating role of regional awareness higher governmental initiative and civic capital on three outcomes environmental preservation socio economic integration and economic competitiveness In short the book seeks to highlight those conditions that favor collaboration and might help avoid the collaborative trap of collaboration for its own sake More specifically this research concentrates on the effect of bottom up state mandated and functional collaboration the moderating role of regional awareness governmental initiative and civic capital on environmental preservation socio economic integration and economic competitiveness In short the book seeks to understand whether and how urban regional collaboration contributes to regional resilience

Urban Research Monitor ,1998 Urban and Regional Policies for Metropolitan Livability Michael S Hamilton,Patricia Sue Atkins,2014-12-18 In today s public policy arena the regional level is gaining increased attention as problems in policy and service delivery continue to spill over traditional urban government boundaries This authoritative work focuses on the growing role of regions in addressing and resolving local governance problems Urban and Regional Policies for Metropolitan Livability provides a concise up to date and systematic treatment of the problems and issues involved in urban and regional policy concerns Each policy chapter is written by a respected expert in the area and the book covers all the key policy issues that confront contemporary metropolitan areas including transportation the environment affordable housing crime employment poverty education and regional governance Each chapter outlines an issue which is followed by current thinking on problem diagnosis and problem solving as well as the prognosis for future policy success

Integrating Schools in a Changing Society Erica Frankenberg,Elizabeth H. Debray,2011 In this comprehensive volume a roster of leading scholars in educational policy and related fields offer eighteen essays seeking to illuminate new ways for American public education to counter persistent racial and socioeconomic inequality in our society Drawing on extensive research the contributors reinforce the key benefits of racially integrated schools examine remaining options to pursue multiracial integration and discuss case examples that suggest how to build support for those efforts

The Unintended Consequences of Interregionalism Elisa Lopez-Lucia, Frank Mattheis,2020-12-30 This edited book brings a new analytical angle to the study of comparative regionalism by focussing on the unintended consequences of interregional relations The book satisfies the need to go beyond the consideration of the success or failure of international policies It sheds light on complex interactions involving multiple actors individual and institutional driven by various representations interests and strategies and which often result in unintended consequences that powerfully affect the socio political context in which they unfold By providing a new conceptual framework to understand how interregionalism brings about social change the book examines the effects on the individual and institutional actors of interregional relations and the effects on the social structures that constitute interregionalism It also examines interregionalism s transformational character for structures of regional and international governance as well as societies This book will be of key interest to scholars and students in the fields of comparative regionalism interregionalism EU studies international and regional organisations global governance and more broadly to international relations international politics and comparative area studies Regional Worlds: Advancing the Geography of Regions Martin Jones,Anssi

Paasi,2017-10-02 A key concern in the debate and empirical research on the geography of regions is the evolution of the conceptualizations and practical uses of the idea of region This idea prioritises both the intellectual and the practical development of regional studies This book drives the discussion further It stresses the complex forms of agency advocacy involved in the production and reproduction of regional spaces and space of regionalism as well as the importance of geohistory and context The book moves beyond the territorial relational divide that has characterized debates on regions and regional borders since the 1990s The contributors answer key questions from different conceptual and concrete contextual angles and to motivate readers to reflect on the perpetual significance of regional concepts and how they are mobilized by various actors to maintain or transform the contested spatialities of societal power relations This book was based on a special issue of Regional Studies Liquid Regionalism in the Americas Karina L. Pasquariello Mariano,Regiane Nitsch

Bressan,Bruno Theodoro Luciano,2025-02-25 This book develops a comprehensive analysis of contemporary regionalism in the Americas which the authors characterise as Liquid Regionalism given its unstable flexible and loose characteristics It innovates by introducing a new concept to assess regional initiatives in the American continents contributing to Latin American and comparative regionalism research agendas The book analyses major regional projects in the Americas and develops these into a novel typology of consultation cooperation and integration This typology helps explain the level of commitments and institutional depth of regional initiatives across the continent The book is for scholars postgraduate and undergraduate students interested in the regional and political dynamics of the Americas across the social sciences including international relations political science sociology international political economy international trade and history
