Cody's home life is a messy, too often terrifying story of neglect and abuse. Cody himself is a smart kid, a survivor with a wicked sense of humor that helps him see past his circumstances and begin to try to get himself out. Autumn is quite literally on the other side of the tracks from him. Her home life is loving and secure, and she is in with the popular girls at school even if she has a secret life as a glasses wearing self-professed comic book nerd at home. And even if the pressure to fit in at school requires hours of time spent making herself look perfect. Returning home from a movie one evening, Autumn comes across Cody face down in the laneway behind her house. All Cody knows is that he can't take another beating from his father like the one he just narrowly escaped. He can't go home, but he doesn't have anywhere else to go either. Autumn won't turn her back on him even if they never really were friends at school. She agrees to let him hide out in her dad's art studio at night. Over the next couple of days of Autumn sneaking Cody food and bandages, his story comes out. And so does hers. Told in alternating narratives, Autumn Bird and the Runaway is a breathtaking collaboration by two of Canada's finest writers of books for young readers. Infused with themes of identity, belonging, and compassion, it's a story that reminds us that we are all more than our circumstances and we are all more connected than we think. The Other Side of Perfect Melanie Florence, Richard Scrimger, 2024-04-02 Two kids from two different worlds form an unexpected friendship in this lens into the interworking of empathy. As a 72-year-old author of more than thirty successful romance novels, Kate Caldwell had all but given up on finding her perfect love connection. To offset her loneliness, she spends her time writing and visiting with her granddaughter Ellie who lives near Kate's Texas Hill Country home. While the first two books of her newest Passion series had been best sellers partly because of the help of her secret collaborator Captain Edward Peregrine, Kate now faces a creative shut down as she tries to start the third book. Her publisher is pressuring her to put more explicit love-making scenes in her novels which goes against Kate's principles. She believes love was more than just sex. At the same time, Edward seems to have abandoned her. Frustrated, Kate and Ellie embark on a two-week cruise to the Panama Canal in hopes that it will get Kate's creative juices flowing again. Edward returns to Kate on the first night of the cruise. They settle their past differences and begin collaborating on the third book, The Fiery Passion of a Thousand Burning Suns. After Edward's visit, Kate is finally making progress with her book and is well into the first draft after a few days. At her dinner table aboard the cruise ship, she meets two attractive and available men: David Mitchell, a professor traveling partly on business and partly for pleasure, and Marco Antonini, traveling with his sister. Both men offer Kate the love possibilities that she so desired, and they open up feelings that she had long suppressed. Little did Kate know that troubled waters lay ahead or that she was in for the adventure of her life as a merging of the time continuum brings forth conflicts and desires that upset the tranquility of her life yet brings her closer to realizing her dream of true love.
