Reform Of The Cap And Rural Development In Southern Europe:

The Reform of the CAP and Rural Development in Southern Europe George Stathakis, 2017-10-24 Today the use of the term countryside reflects a dual historical shift due to the decreasing importance of agriculture both in terms of employment and production in European economies and the shift toward the environment An increasing part of rural populations is being drawn into non agricultural sectors such as tourism construction manufacturing and the conventional and innovative services thereby granting a more diversified and contemporary role to the countryside The environmental shift has questioned many of the very fundamental premises governing the relationship between social practices and nature Agenda 2000 and the ongoing debate concerning the CAP reforms are connected to a large extent with these new realities This engaging book focuses on the prospects for the development of the Southern European countryside during a transitional period of a major policy paradigm shift Bringing together case studies from Portugal Spain France Italy and Greece the book discusses the key issues mentioned above as well as the restricting factors and prospects of the adjustments required

The Reform of the CAP and Rural Development in Southern Europe Charalampos P. Kasimēs, George Stathakis, 2003 Taking into account Agenda 2000 and the ongoing debate concerning the CAP reforms this engaging book brings together important case studies to focus on the prospects for the development of the Southern European countryside

Power and Gender in European Rural Development Henk de Haan, 2017-11-28 Since the early 1990s new public and private actors emphasizing issues such as landscape nature environment and food safety have challenged EU rural development policies This book looks at this innovative framework and in particular the impacts of the interactions between established interests and newcomers in local power relations Specific attention has been given to the gendered nature of these processes Case studies from throughout Western Europe analyze local rural power relations and present overviews of the significance of rural gender relations The book demonstrates that traditional and new forms of social organization in rural areas create new forms of political participation Changing forms of social capital and political participation not only influence the relation between state and civil society but also male female relationships The book argues that the dynamics of these gendered power relations produce competing discourses which can often hinder policy making and implementation

Agriculture in Mediterranean Europe Dionisio Ortiz Miranda, Eladio Vicente Arnalte Alegre, Ana Maria Moragues Faus, 2013-06-25 This volume illustrates and deepens the understanding of current agrarian dynamics developing in Mediterranean countries in the light of recent theoretical contributions The book compiles and analyses a set of Mediterranean case studies that show the range of transformations shaping contemporary agriculture in Southern Europe

Young People in Rural Areas of Europe Birgit Jentsch, 2017-07-05 Based on a two year European research project on policies and young people in rural development this edited volume examines these issues and compares young people's experiences of rural life in the UK Ireland Finland France Germany Austria and Portugal It reviews relevant policies and highlights not only the pressures on young people in rural areas but also what might be done to address these issues Unravelling desertification M. Juntti,2023-08-28 This book analyses processes of desertification from a social science perspective and unravels the policy related to drivers of desertification Desertification is addressed both as a concept surrounded by a multitude of different discourses and as a tangible unsustainable process that is connected to a complex set of policies and changing land management practices The focus is on Southern Europe where desertification has been a long standing problem in many areas and where in some places the loss of productive capacity has worsened considerably over the last few decades By focusing on four specific case study areas in Portugal Spain Italy and Greece the scope of the book will cover the human dimension of desertification exploring in particular how the framework of existing policies has affected land management decisions and desertification processes The emphasis will be on how policies may have contributed to desertification alleviation and mitigation as well as to a worsening of desertification processes By using an actor network approach the book specifically investigates the importance of networks of actors that shape the nature and direction of policies that affect desertification processes In this sense this book aims at providing a first glance into the complex policy economic and socio cultural networks that operate at the local regional and national levels in areas of Southern Europe affected by desertification and to analyse how these networks hinder or promote the implementation of policies aimed at alleviating the threat of desertification With its broad remit this exciting book will appeal to many different audiences not only including academics and students of various disciplines but also practitioners at the local regional Mediterranean and international e g EU spatial levels in a variety of fields such as environmental and agricultural policy making agricultural extension services farming organisations environmental NGOs media representatives and many other environmental stakeholder groups Rural Sustainable Development in the Knowledge Society Dr Hilary Tovey,Dr Karl Bruckmeier,2012-11-28 Based on the EU funded CORASON research project this volume brings together and compares studies into rural and sustainable development processes in 12 European countries In doing so it identifies key trends and reveals the changing nature of development processes on the way towards a knowledge society The book examines the differences between the preconditions and contexts relevant to rural development strategies and those relevant to sustainable development strategies It explores whether the concept goals and nature of rural development is better understood and adopted by rural actors than those of sustainable development Finally by focusing on the ideas and practices of sustainable resource management a component in both rural and sustainable development objectives it links with knowledge used by actors involved in rural development Southern Europe in the Mediterranean Context Eric Vaz,2020-01-15 Since the process of Southern Europe s integration in the European Union the Mediterranean region has seen a more considerable gap between central and northern European countries and its Southern European counterpart Thus in a European context of social cohesion it becomes necessary to better understand Southern Europe without escaping to the common perception of the complexity of Mediterranean culture As a significant player

throughout history Southern Europe consistently established a platform of diversity and freedom bringing peace between different historic cultural traditions Moreover the southern frontier of Europe to Africa and Asia has become a crucial determinant in the current times of change Environmental Challenges in the Mediterranean 2000-2050 Antonio Marquina Barrio,2004-02-29 This book addresses six key factors that will affect environmental policies in the Mediterranean region during the next fifty years population growth climate change soil erosion and desertification water scarcity food production and urbanization and pollution The authors assess these as potential sources of violent conflict The interdisciplinary approach makes this a relevant and useful reference for a broad range of professionals specialists and researchers The New Social Division Donatella della Porta,Tiina Silvasti,Sakari Hänninen,Martti Siisiäinen,2016-03-11 This volume addresses issues of precariousness in a broad interdisciplinary perspective looking at socio economic transformations as well as the identity formation and political organizing of precarious people The collection bridges empirical research with social theory to problematize and analyse the precariat International Migration and Rural Areas Myriam Simard,2016-04-22 While immigrants are still predominantly choosing urban areas to locate to there is now increasing evidence of immigration to rural areas which poses its own challenges for those relocating from the scarcity of high quality jobs to the provision of public and private services Addressing the shortcomings in current research this book employs an innovative approach by exploring this relationship from a cross national comparative global perspective It draws lessons from case studies across a range of geographical and political contexts including Canada the USA Ireland Scotland Greece and Russia Bringing together migration experts from a range of academic disciplines International Migration and Rural Areas contributes to conceptual developments and also identifies policy concerns which can be pursued at national sub national and supra national levels As such it will appeal to policy makers as well as scholars across a range of disciplines including geography politics demography social policy sociology and anthropology Environmental Challenges in the Mediterranean 2000-2050 Antonio Marquina,2012-12-06 This book collects most of the contributions prepared for the NATO Advanced Research Workshop ARW on Environmental Challenges in the Mediterranean 2000 2050 The ARW took place in Madrid from 2 to 5 of October 2002 Scholars and researchers from North and South of the Mediterranean and other countries from NATO gathered in Madrid for discussing several important factors that could affect Mediterranean security in the next 50 years In this regard the first chapter presents the different debates regarding environmental security that took place in the last decade This chapter is an introductory chapter and takes into account the possible audience in the Southern Mediterranean and the wishes of some contributors For this reason the chapter deals in extenso with the question of human security and the different approaches The ARW dealt with issues that may affect the supply of fundamental goods for human living To this end the complex question of climate change its impact in the Mediterranean the predicted increase in temperatures and predictions about rainfall are analysed As part of this approach a chapter about solar variability and climate change is also added

The Politics of Southern Europe José Magone, 2003-02-28 European integration has had a profound impact on the politics of Southern Europe a region that was initially at the margin of the decision making processes of the European Union but is gradually becoming more and more influential This volume offers a comparative overview of modern politics in Spain Portugal Italy and Greece focusing in particular on the process of integration of these countries into the European Union and on the impact of European public policy The author analyzes the development of Southern European political systems from the establishment of democratic governments to the most recent political events looking at each individual system and finding patterns similarities of development as well as differences between them Among the topics examined are the building of institutions the parties and party systems foreign policies the political culture of each country and the recent efforts towards the creation of a space of security and peace in the Mediterranean

Handbook of Rural Studies Paul Cloke, Terry Marsden, Patrick Mooney, 2006-01-26 This is a unique interpretation of rural issues that will become essential reference for students scholars politicians developers and rural activists Imre Kovach President European Society for Rural Sociology Research director Institute for Political Sciences Budapest

Women's Work and Lives in Rural Greece Dr Gabriella Lazaridis, 2012-12-28 This new volume explores the limits and possibilities of economic change in transforming the lives of women in rural Greece at a time of great economic and political change It is based on ethnographic research conducted in two communities of Western Crete Nohia and Platanos where Lazaridis concentrates on three activities women are involved in handcrafts market gardening and olive growing Her rich and fascinating account of the changing dynamics of rural life in a still remote part of Europe draws on a wealth of statistical and demographic data from Greek government and state archives The result is this important contribution to social anthropology rural sociology and to the literature on gender and development

Living with the Land Liesbeth van de Grift, Dietmar Müller, Corinna R. Unger, 2022-11-07 For a long time agriculture and rural life were dismissed by many contemporaries as irrelevant or old fashioned Contrasted with cities as centers of intellectual debate and political decision making the countryside seemed to be becoming increasingly irrelevant Today politicians in many European countries are starting to understand that the neglect of the countryside has created grave problems Similarly historians are remembering that European history in the twentieth century was strongly influenced by problems connected to the production of food access to natural resources land rights and the political representation and activism of rural populations Hence the handbook offers an overview of historical knowledge on a variety of topics related to the land It does so through a distinctly activity centric and genuinely European perspective Rather than comparing different national approaches to living with the land the different chapters focus on particular activities from measuring to settling the land from producing and selling food to improving agronomic knowledge from organizing rural life to challenging political structures in the countryside Furthermore the handbook overcomes the traditional division between East and West North and South by embracing a transregional approach that allows readers to gain an understanding of similarities and differences across national and ideological borders in twentieth century Europe Environmental Politics in Southern Europe K. Eder, M. Kousis, 2012-12-06 Europe is sometimes credited with a polis but not a demos Political integration and economic globalisation cannot diminish local identity and social memories This fascinating collection of national case studies shows why there will always be a local demos located in ecology economy and society But there will never be a transnational demos precisely because locality is the basis for meaningful sustainability Long may it triumph Tim O Riordan CSERGE University of East Anglia The book offers a refreshing perspective on the diversity of Europe and at the same time on the interdependence of the policies economies and societies of European countries Going beyond the dichotomies of good and bad and leaders and laggards in environmental matters the authors contribute to a different understanding of the North South divide in the process of European integration Angela Liberatore European Commission Directorate General for Research This is a self consciously revisionist volume whose findings are theoretically significant policy relevant and timely Its insistence on bringing society back in its debunking of the notion of a Mediterranean syndrome its emphasis on developmental leapfrogging capacity of late comers to emerge as leaders in contexts of late modernity and its systematic attempt to reconceptualize the politics of Europeanization should be carefully listed to students and policy makers concerned with collective action Southern Europe European integration and environmental politics P Nikiforos Diamandouros University of Athens European Spatial Research and Policy , 2004 Economic Development and Social Change Yiorgos Stathakis, Gianni Vaggi, 2006-05-11 In this volume leading scholars are brought together to illuminate the advancement of the study of development economics with particular emphasis on the question of growth and development Surviving Global Change? Darren Halpin, 2017-11-28 This engaging volume investigates the fate of national industry associations amidst global change through analysis of interest group organizations representing farmers and agricultural producers It asks how these groups have fared during a period of global change and examines the challenges inherent in their operation in the 21st century Case studies from North America Europe and Australasia provide illuminating research into farm interest groups at the national level and organizational features of individual groups It will be of value to scholars and researchers in the fields of global governance political science and rural studies
