

Electricity industry reform and regulation/1

- The reform of electricity markets encompasses a wide range of measures.
- In general electricity industry restructuring implied:
 - ✓ a separate transmission company;
 - ✓ partially or totally privately owned generation companies;
 - ✓ competition in generation;
 - ✓ retail supply opened to competition;
 - ✓ privately owned transmission and distribution network with third party access based on published and non-discriminatory terms and conditions.
- Electricity industry restructuring has been accompanied also by the reform of the institutional design resulting in a set of institutional bodies:
 - ✓ ministry handling most regulatory responsibilities directly;
 - ✓ independent regulatory agencies separate from ministry taking care of some particular responsibilities operating on the base of public consultation and other procedures meant to enhance transparency;
 - ✓ presence of ministerial regulatory agencies subordinated to the ministry but operating autonomously in the management of regulatory affairs.

Modernizing Infrastructure in Transformation Economies Christian von Hirschhausen, 2002-01-01 The design of infrastructure policies is a controversial issue in the transition economies of Eastern Europe where the dismal state of infrastructure was widely regarded to be one of the major obstacles to economic recovery and sustained growth With the imminent enlargement of the EU Christian von Hirschhausen provides a detailed reflective analysis of the state of infrastructure development in Eastern Europe The Future of Russian Gas and Gazprom Jonathan P. Stern, 2005 The Russian gas industry provides 50% of Russian domestic energy supplies a substantial proportion of CIS gas supplies and around 20% of European gas demand Declines in production at existing fields mean that Gazprom will face increasingly difficult decisions about moving to higher cost fields on the Yamal Peninsula The alternative will be increasing imports from Central Asian countries and allowing other Russian gas producers to increase their role in the industry Russian exports to Europe will gradually increase and deliveries of Russian LNG will commence to Asia and the both coasts of North America Pipeline gas deliveries to East Asian countries may have a longer time horizon Export projects aimed at new markets will depend crucially on the maintenance of oil and gas prices at the levels of 2003 05 European exports will also depend on the pace of EU market liberalisation and Gazprom's ability to agree mutually acceptable terms for transit principally with Ukraine and Belarus Reform liberalisation and restructuring of the Russian gas industry have been more substantial than has generally been recognised Most important has been price reform which in 2005 allowed Russian industrial customers to become profitable to serve at regulated prices Price increases may significantly reduce future increases in domestic gas demand The increasing need for production from companies other than Gazprom will ensure that liberalised access to networks expands considerably over the next decade In the 2000s Gazprom reclaimed its CIS gas business from intermediaries while maintaining its de facto monopoly of exports to Europe and establishing a similar degree of authority over future exports to Asia The merger of Gazprom and Rosneft will provide the potential to become a force in the domestic and international oil markets particularly given the authority that the president has conferred on the company in terms of Russian energy policy OECD Economic Surveys: Russian Federation 2006 OECD,2006-12-05 This 2006 edition of OECD's periodic review of the Russian economy finds an economy enjoying robust growth but requiring strengthening of the macroeconomic framework to sustain that growth Public administration urgently needs reform and raising Imitation

The Regulation of Turkish Network Industries Muzaffer Eroğlu, Matthias Finger, 2022-01-01 This book brings together academics and experts on Turkish network industries It provides fundamental information on the current developments regarding regulation of the different network industries in Turkey Turkey has gone through a liberalization process in most of the network industries during the past 20 years In most of them independent regulatory authorities have been established but some network industries are still remaining under the central or local government regulatory regime As a result there is now a very complicated regulatory regime in place which makes Turkey's regulatory system difficult to understand for practitioners academics lawyers researchers and investors This book offers unique insight into Turkey's regulatory regime in various network industries It also offers a historical background to regulation a description of the current regulatory regimes as well as an analysis of the foreseeable evolutions The book covers all the important network industries in Turkey No similar book is available on the market to date Moreover the book provides an extensive analysis of the current regulatory regimes in the energy the transport and the telecommunications industries This book should be of interest to anyone wishing to understand Turkish regulation and will be very helpful handbook to researchers who are interested in regulation of network industries not only in Turkey but also in other developing countries as Turkey is quite representative of other emerging countries Readers will acquire a thorough understanding of the state of play of the Turkish network industries and their regulation

Utilities Reform in Twenty-First Century Australia Malcolm Abbott, Bruce Cohen, 2021-07-01 Utilities Reform in 21st Century Australia Providing the Essentials traces the development and consequences of the economic reform measures undertaken in the utilities sector in Australia communications energy water wastewater services and transport in the last years of the 20th century and early decades of the 21st century In doing so it looks at the process of reform across industries and across the state and federal jurisdictions to identify what motivations the various governments had for pursuing reform how change varied across jurisdictions and what issues arose in the process Although by the mid 1990s all states and territories and the Australian Government were committed to reforming utilities as part of the National Competition Policy not all pursued this reform with the same degree of speed and breadth of action The broad trends of economic reform in Australia and abroad are also touched upon to provide an outline of the wider context in which the reform of the utilities occurred This book therefore explores the relationship between politics and society on the one hand and economic reform on the other as well on as the efforts of governments in Australia to promote economic growth and the wealth of Australians in an increasingly complex and challenging global economic climate

Russian Federation International Monetary Fund, 2002-04-04 The Selected Issues paper and Statistical Appendix analyzes output developments in the Russian Federation since the 1998 crisis It outlines near term growth prospects for the economy The paper highlights that output growth accelerated in 1999 and the first half of 2000 but has slowed since then The initial output recovery was led by import substitution as a result of the large exchange rate depreciation in 1998 One finding in the context of an overall policy package is that the real exchange rate and oil prices were the main determinants of growth after the 1998 crisis
