The Reformation of Historical Thought Mark A. Latin Literatures of Medieval and Early Modern Times in Europe and Beyond Francesco Stella, Lucie Doležalová, Danuta Shanzer, 2024-07-15 The textual heritage of Medieval Latin is one of the greatest reservoirs of human culture Repertories list more than 16 000 authors from about 20 modern countries Until now there has been no introduction to this world in its full geographical extension Forty contributors fill this gap by adopting a new perspective making available to specialists but also to the interested public new materials and insights The project presents an overview of Medieval and post-medieval Latin Literatures as a global phenomenon including both Europe and extra-European regions It serves as an introduction to medieval Latin's complex and multi-layered culture whose attraction has been underestimated until now Traditional overviews mostly flatten specificities yet in many countries medieval Latin literature is still studied with reference to the local history Thus the first section presents 20 regional surveys including chapters on authors and works of Latin Literature in Eastern Central and Northern Europe Africa the Middle East

Asia and the Americas Subsequent chapters highlight shared patterns of circulation adaptation and exchange and underline the appeal of medieval intermediality as evidenced in manuscripts maps scientific treatises and iconotexts and its performativity in narrations theatre sermons and music The last section deals with literary interfaces that is motifs or characters that exemplify the double sided or the long term transformations of medieval Latin mythologemes in vernacular culture both early modern and modern such as the legends about King Arthur Faust and Hamlet

Asia in the Making of Europe, Volume II: A Century of Wonder. Book 2 Donald F. Lach, 2010-01-15 Praised for its scope and depth Asia in the Making of Europe is the first comprehensive study of Asian influences on Western culture For volumes I and II the author has sifted through virtually every European reference to Asia published in the sixteenth century he surveys a vast array of writings describing Asian life and society the images of Asia that emerge from those writings and in turn the reflections of those images in European literature and art This monumental achievement reveals profound and pervasive influences of Asian societies on developing Western culture in doing so it provides a perspective necessary for a balanced view of world history Volume I The Century of Discovery brings together everything that a European could know of India Southeast Asia China and Japan from printed books missionary reports traders accounts and maps The New York Review of Books Volume II A Century of Wonder examines the influence of that vast new body of information about Asia on the arts institutions literatures and ideas of sixteenth century Europe

A Short History of the Renaissance in Northern Europe Malcolm Vale, 2020-04-02 The concept of a Renaissance in the arts in thought and in more general culture North of the Alps often evokes the idea of a cultural transplant which was not indigenous to or rooted in the society from which it emerged Classic definitions of the European Renaissance during the 14th 15th and 16th centuries have seen it as what was in effect an Italian import into the Gothic North Yet there were certainly differences divergences and dichotomies between North and South which have to be addressed Here Malcolm Vale argues for a Northern Renaissance which while cognisant of Italian developments displayed strong continuities with the indigenous cultures of northern Europe But it also contributed novelties and innovations which often tended to stem from and build upon those continuities A Short History of the Renaissance in Northern Europe while in no way ignoring or diminishing the importance of the Hellenic and Roman legacy seeks other sources and different uses of classical antiquity for a rather different kind of Renaissance if such it was in the North
