Reformed Church In China 1842 1951:

The Reformed Church in China, 1842-1951 Gerald Francis De Jong, 1992      From Mission to Church Eugene P. Heideman, 2001 In the nineteenth century the Scudders went to India with the avowed intention to confine their efforts to evangelistic preaching By the time the Reformed Church mission became a part of the Church of South India it was one of the most heavily institutionalized churches in the nation supporting agricultural and industrial efforts one of India's leading hospitals and numerous educational institutions This work by Eugene Heideman himself a missionary to India analyzes the causes for the shift in missionary emphasis in India illuminating in the process an intriguing yet little known component of the Reformed Church's witness      A Study of the Emergence and Early Development of Selected Protestant Chinese Churches in the Philippines Jean Uy Uayan, 2017-06-30 Dr Jean Uayan comprehensively weaves the story of six Protestant Chinese churches in the Philippines into the local history of their individual settings in this important study Uncovering new insight and historical information from extensive primary and secondary sources Uayan presents a rich and previously unacknowledged heritage and support from four American mission organisations during the US occupation from 1898 1946 The seeds sown amongst Chinese communities across the Philippines resulted in indigenous churches that took differing journeys to full independence and now are also bearing fruit in missionary activity in South Fujian China This book is an important contribution towards a global church history acknowledging the work of the Holy Spirit establishing and building up the church of Jesus Christ among the nations      A Protestant Church in Communist China John Craig William Keating, 2012-02-16 Freedom of religious belief is guaranteed under the constitution of the People's Republic of China but the degree to which this freedom is able to be exercised remains a highly controversial issue Much scholarly attention has been given to persecuted underground groups such as Falun but one area that remains largely unexplored is the relationship between officially registered churches and the communist government This study investigates the history of one such official church Moore Memorial Church in Shanghai This church was founded by American Methodist missionaries By the time of the 1949 revolution it was the largest Protestant church in East Asia running seven day a week programs As a case study of one individual church operating from an historical rather than theological perspective this study examines the experience of people at this church against the backdrop of the turbulent politics of the Mao and Deng eras It asks and seeks to answer questions such as were the people at the church pleased to see the foreign missionaries leave Were people forced to sign the so called Christian manifesto Once the church doors were closed in 1966 did worshipers go underground Why was this particular church especially chosen to be the first re opened in Shanghai in 1979 What explanations are there for its phenomenal growth since then A considerable proportion of the data for this study is drawn from Chinese language sources including interviews personal correspondence statistics internal church documents and archives many of which have never previously been published or accessed by foreign researchers The main focus of this study is on the period from 1949 to 1989

a period in which the church experienced many ups and downs restrictions and limitations The Mao era in particular remains one of the least understood and seldom written about periods in the history of Christianity in China This study therefore makes a significant contribution to our evolving understanding of the delicate balancing act between compromise co operation and compliance that categorizes church state relations in modern China Christianity in Modern China David Cheung,2004 This monograph studies a significant episode in Chinese Christianity Focusing on the origins of Protestantism in South Fujian it investigates the evolution of the churches which pioneered in indigenization and ecclesiastical union in China during the 19th century Cross-Cultural Encounters Gloria Shuhui Tseng,2021-09-21 Doctors nurses teachers and evangelists the men and women of the Amoy Mission sowed the seeds of vibrant Christian community in China s Fujian Province This book tells the stories of those remarkable missionaries whose legacy endures to this day Letters to Hazel Mary L.  Robert Benedetto, Donald K. McKim, 2009-10-06 As its name implies the Reformed tradition grew out of the 16th century Protestant Reformation The Reformed churches consider themselves to be the Catholic Church reformed The movement originated in the reform efforts of Huldrych Zwingli 1484 1531 of Zurich and John Calvin 1509 1564 of Geneva Although the Reformed movement was dependent upon many Protestant leaders it was Calvin s tireless work as a writer preacher teacher and social and ecclesiastical reformer that provided a substantial body of literature and an ethos from which the Reformed tradition grew Today the Reformed churches are a multicultural multiethnic and multinational phenomenon The second edition of the Historical Dictionary of the Reformed Churches contains information on the major personalities events facts movements and beliefs of the Reformed churches This is done through a list of acronyms and abbreviations a chronology an introductory essay appendixes a bibliography and over 800 cross referenced dictionary entries on leaders personalities traces the intellectual and spiritual journeys of Chinese Protestant intellectuals Zhao Zichen Wu Yaozong and Cai Yongchun among many in the tumultuous 20th century China from the fall of the Qing Dynasty through the Cultural Revolution These leaders strove to align their Christian faith with the challenges of a nation in upheaval initially advocating a Liberal Synthesis that fused Christian ethics with national renewal As wars and revolutions swept across China figures like Wu Yaozong turned to socialism while others like Zhao and Cai embraced more conservative theological positions The rise of the CCP during the Chinese Civil War divided their paths yet all remained dedicated to a role of Christianity in China s future      The Oxford

Negotiating the Christian Past in China Jifeng Liu,2022-08-16 At the turn of the twenty first century Xiamen s pursuit of World Heritage Site designation from UNESCO stimulated considerable interest in the city s Christian past History enthusiasts both Christian and non Christian devoted themselves to reinterpreting the legacy of missionaries and challenged official narratives of Christianity s troubled associations with Western imperialism In this book Jifeng Liu documents the tension that has inevitably emerged between the established official history and these popular efforts This volume elucidates the ways in which Christianity has become an integral part of Xiamen a Chinese city profoundly influenced by Western missionaries Drawing on extensive interviews locally produced histories and observations of historical celebrations Liu provides an intimate portrait of the people who navigate ideological issues to reconstruct a Christian past reproduce religious histories and redefine local power structures in the shadow of the state Liu makes a compelling argument that a Christian past is being constructed that combines official frameworks unofficial practices and nostalgia into social memory a realm of dynamic negotiation that is neither dominated by the authoritarian state nor characterized by popular resistance In this way Negotiating the Christian Past in China illustrates the complexities of memory and missions in shaping the city's cultural landscape church state dynamics and global aspirations This groundbreaking study assumes a perspective of globalization and localization in both the past and the present to better understand Chinese Christianity in a local national and global context It will be welcomed by scholars of religious studies and world Christianity and by those interested in the church state relationship in China
