Urban Watershed Forestry Manual Karen Cappiella,2005

Public Parks, Private Gardens Colta Ives,2018-03-05 The spectacular transformation of Paris during the 19th century into a city of tree lined boulevards and public parks both redesigned the capital and inspired the era s great Impressionist artists The renewed landscape gave crowded displaced urban dwellers green spaces to enjoy while suburbanites and country dwellers began cultivating their own flower gardens As public engagement with gardening grew artists increasingly featured flowers and parks in their work Public Parks Private Gardens includes masterworks by artists such as Bonnard Cassatt C zanne Corot Daumier Van Gogh Manet Matisse Monet and Seurat Many of these artists were themselves avid gardeners and they painted parks and gardens as the distinctive scenery of contemporary life Writing from the perspective of both a distinguished art historian and a trained landscape designer Colta Ives provides new insights not only into these essential works but also into this extraordinarily creative period in France s history

Measuring Public Space: The Star Model Dr Georgiana Varna,2014-10-28 In the rapidly expanding public space debate of the past few years a recurring theme is the loss of publicness of contemporary urban public places This book takes up the challenge to find an objective way to prove or disprove this phenomenon By taking the reader through a systematic and multi disciplinary literature review it asks the deceptively simple question What is publicness It answers this by first developing a new theoretical approach The dual nature of public space and secondly a new analytical tool for measuring it The Star Model of Publicness This pragmatic approach to analysing public space is tested then on three new public places recently created on the post industrial waterfront of the River Clyde in the city of Glasgow UK By seeing where and why certain public places fail direct and informed interventions can be made to improve them and through this contribute to the building of more attractive and sustainable cities By adopting a multi disciplinary approach to shed light on this slippery concept this book shows how urban design can complement other disciplines when tackling the complex task of understanding and improving the built environment s public realm It also bridges the gap between theory and practice as it draws from empirical research to suggest more quantitative approaches towards auditing and improving public places

Regenerating Urban Land Rana Amirtahmasebi, Mariana Orloff, Sameh Wahba, Andrew Altman, 2016-06-02 Regenerating Urban Land draws on the experience of eight case studies from around the world The case studies outline various policy and financial instruments to attract private sector investment in urban regeneration of underutilized and unutilized areas and the requisite infrastructure improvements In particular each case study details the project cycle from the scoping phase and determination of the initial amount of public sector investment to implementation and subsequent leveraged private sector funds This manual analyzes rates of return on the investments and long term financial sustainability Regenerating Urban Land guides local governments to systematically identify the sequence of steps and tasks needed to develop a regeneration policy framework with the participation of the private sector The manual also formulates specific policies and instruments for expanding private sector participation structuring effective administrative and legal frameworks utilizing land readjustment assembly methods determining duration of contracts adequate phasing and timeline and balancing the distribution of risk and sustainability measures

Hybrid Modernity Mary Padua, 2020-07-26 This book provides a detailed historical and design analysis of the development of parks and modern landscape architecture in late 20th century China It questions whether the fusion of international influences with the local Chinese design vocabulary in late 20th century China has created a distinctive and novel approach to the design of public parks Hybrid Modernity proposes a new theory for examining the design of public parks built in post Mao China since the reforms and sets the various processes for China s late 20th century socio cultural context Drawing on modernization theory research on China s modernity local and global cultural trends it illustrates through a range of case studies ways hybrid modernity defines a new design genre and language for the spatial forms of parks that emerged in China s secondary cities Featured case studies include the Living Water Park in Chengdu Sichuan province Zhongshan Shipyard Park in Guangdong Province Jinji Lake Landscape Master Plan in Suzhou Jiangsu province and the West Lake Southern Scenic Area Master Plan in Hangzhou Zhejiang province This book argues that these forms represent a new stage in China's history of landscape architecture. The work reveals that as a new profession, landscape architecture has greatly contributed to China's massive urban experiment. This book is an ideal read for students enrolled in landscape architecture, architecture, fine arts, and urban planning programs who are engaged in learning the arts and international design education.
