Rewriting The Word American Women Writers And The Bible:

Rewriting the Word Amy B. Brown, 1999-05-30 Women writers have often felt alienated from both the Bible and the canonical literary tradition that has been built on its foundation Yet contemporary American women writers seem to be as haunted by the Bible as their nineteenth century predecessors This study of feminist biblical revision argues that women writers contentious dialogues with the Bible ultimately reconstruct the writers own basis of authority The author traces the evolution of this phenomenon from the mid nineteenth century to the present and analyzes biblical revision in works by Emily Dickinson H D Anne Sexton Sylvia Plath Gloria Naylor and Toni Morrison Irigaray, Incarnation and Contemporary

Women's Fiction Abigail Rine, 2013-10-03 Draws on Irigaray s feminist theory to explore how contemporary women writers refigure ideas of the sacred in their fiction Retellings — The Bible in Literature, Music, Art and Film J.Cheryl

Exum, 2007-11-27 In recent years biblical scholars and students have become increasingly interested in studying retellings of biblical stories in the arts not only for their relation to the biblical text but also for the story they have to tell or if they are not strictly retellings for the light they might shed on the biblical text The eight lively contributions to this volume illustrate a range of exciting approaches to retellings of the Bible in literature music art and film and reveal something of the scope of this fascinating and rapidly expanding area of inquiry The present collection of essays appears concurrently in a special issue of the journal Biblical Interpretation Since it was founded in 1993 Biblical Interpretation has played a key role in fostering the publication of articles in the newly developing area of the reception history of the Bible in the arts Originally published as issue 4 5 of Volume 15 2007 of Brill s journal Biblical Interpretation Sacred Femininity and the Politics of Affect in

African American Women's Fiction Vicent Cucarella Ramón, 2018-10-25 This book presents the way in which African American women writers Hannah Crafts Zora Neale Hurston and Toni Morrison have followed the spiritual endeavor of black Christianity as created by early nineteenth century spiritual narratives to construct a sacred reading of the black female self The sacred femininity that puts the ethics and aesthetics of African American women at the center of a certain mode of African Americanness relies on a view of spirituality that joins women ontologically and validates affective modes of representation as an innovative means to obtain social and personal empowerment The Search for Wholeness and Diaspora Literacy in Contemporary African American Literature Silvia Castro-Borrego, 2011-05-25 This volume has as a cohesive argument the exploration of the different manifestations of the search for wholeness and spirituality in the writings of contemporary African American women writers covering different literary genres such as fiction both novels and short stories drama and poetry Together with the issue of spirituality the African American search for wholeness is analyzed as a source of creativity and agency As expressed in the contemporary literature of black women writers starting in the 1980s the search for wholeness reflects a beauty realized through the healing of the spirit and the body and is a process that takes on dimensions of reconciling the past and the present the mythical and the real the spiritual and the physical all in the context of an emerging world view that welcomes synthesis and expects both synthesis and generative contradictions The book will be a valuable collection for scholars of African American literature comparative American Ethnic literature American literature and spirituality as well as women s studies In addition it will be an important text for both undergraduate and graduate students in those fields As Professor Johnnella Butler 2006 points out the African American search for wholeness is tightly linked to the search for freedom and agency Ever since the 19th century African American writers have given expression to an African American self which functions in Western civilization simultaneously as a colonized other and an assertive self Due to the continuous ordeal of the African Diaspora this self is caught in between the binaries proposed by the material and the spiritual world seeking a balance where the person can become whole The search for wholeness feeds from cultural roots that imply the presence of ancestral spiritualism rememory and double consciousness Contemporary black women writers reflect the metaphor of building spiritual bridges seeking the possibilities of building a bridge to the archetypal African past that is carried in their memories as a presence that offers sustenance via spiritual reconnection Their works seek to bridge the gap between the myths and traditions of the past and contemporary African American culture The texts included in this collection are examples of writing as an exercise of what V v Clark calls Diaspora literacy The texts written by contemporary African American women writers explicitly show how to recognize and read the cultural signs left scattered along the road of progress In this way material acquisition is achieved along with cultural dispossession becoming a metaphor for the history of the African in America The powerful message is that one should not exclude the other

Constructs of "home" in Gloria Naylor's Quartet Claudia Drieling, 2011 The Bible and Literature: The Basics Norman W. Jones, 2015-11-19 The Bible and Literature The Basics provides an interpretive framework for understanding the significance of biblical allusions in literature even for readers who have little prior knowledge of the Bible In doing so it surveys the Bible s influence on a broad range of English American and other Anglophone literatures from a variety of historical periods It also offers a greatest hits tour of the Bible focuses as much on 20th and 21st century literatures as on earlier periods addresses the Bible s relevance to contemporary issues in literary criticism such as poststructuralist postcolonial feminist queer and narrative theories includes discussion questions for each chapter and annotated suggestions for further reading This book explains why readers need a basic knowledge of the Bible in order to understand and appreciate key aspects of Anglophone literary traditions Women of Courage Rose Laub Coser, Laura S. Anker, Andrew Perrin, 1999-08-30 In the wake of World War I a diverse group of women emigrated from Europe to the United States under austere conditions and adapted in different ways to life in the new country Based on a major new study that includes in depth interviews with 100 Italian and Jewish women who immigrated to the New York City area in the early 1900s this volume explores family and work lives led by these women and the relative importance of cultural factors to the two groups adjustment to American life The interviews trace the process of adapting to life in the U S paying special attention to the specific experiences of women immigrants and the challenges they faced in surmounting gender and cultural barriers both within their families and in their new communities This innovative interdisciplinary study uses feminist approaches to explore immigrant women s lives from childhood to old age The result is a nuanced view of the similarities and differences between the two groups whose distinct family structures and cultural backgrounds led to different responses to the same pressures and difficulties

The King James Bible after Four Hundred Years Hannibal Hamlin, Norman W. Jones, 2010-12-02 2011 marked the 400th anniversary of the King James version of the Bible No other book has been as vital to the development of English writing or indeed to the English language itself This major collection of essays is the most complete one volume exploration of the King James Bible and its influence to date The chapters are written by leading scholars from a range of disciplines who examine the creation of the King James Bible as a work of translation and as a linguistic and literary accomplishment They consider how it differed from the Bible versions which preceded it and assess its broad cultural impact and precise literary influence over the centuries of writing which followed in English and American literature until today The story will fascinate readers who approach the King James Bible from the perspectives of literary linguistic religious or cultural history

Nineteenth-Century American Women Writers and Theologies of the Afterlife Jennifer McFarlane-Harris, Emily Hamilton-Honey, 2021-07-12 This collection analyzes the theme of the afterlife as it animated nineteenth century American women s theology making and appeals for social justice Authors like Harriet Beecher Stowe Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Martha Finley Jarena Lee Maria Stewart Zilpha Elaw Rebecca Cox Jackson Catharine Maria Sedgwick Elizabeth Palmer Peabody Belinda Marden Pratt and others wrote to have a voice in the moral debates that were consuming churches and national politics These texts are expressions of the lives and dynamic minds of women who developed sophisticated systematic spiritual and textual approaches to the divine to their denominations or religious traditions and to the mainstream culture around them Women do not simply live out theologies authored by men Rather Nineteenth Century American Women Writers and Theologies of the Afterlife A Step Closer to Heaven is grounded in the radical notion that the theological principles crafted by women and derived from women s experiences intellectual habits and organizational capabilities are foundational to American literature itself
