Richard Rawlinson A Tercentenary Memorial:

Richard Rawlinson Georgian Rawlinson Tashjian, David R. Tashjian, Brian J. Enright, 1990 The Orders of Knighthood and the Formation of the British Honours System, 1660-1760 Antti Matikkala, 2008 Sheds considerable new light on the nature development and functions of the orders in a key phase of their history and goes a long way to explaining how such archaic institutions could flourish in a culture that is commonly thought anti traditional and especially hostile to the middle ages Professor JONATHAN BOULTON University of Notre Dame This is the first comprehensive study to set the British orders of knighthood properly into the context of the honours system by analysing their political social and cultural functions from the Restoration of the monarchy to the end of George II s reign It examines the revival of the Order of the Garter and the proposals to establish the Orders of the Royal Oak and the Esquires of the Martyred King at the Restoration the foundation 1687 and the revival 1703 4 of the Order of the Thistle as well as the foundation of the Order of the Bath 1725 It establishes just how central a part the orders played in the British high political life and its comprehensive and multidimensional approach carefully contrasts the idealistic discourse of virtue and honour to the real workings of the honours system it also makes the case for the Chivalric Enlightenment The orders over the water the Garter and the Thistle conferred by the Jacobite claimants are discussed for the first time in the context of the established British honours system Overall the comparison between the socially very restricted British and the increasingly meritocratic Continental orders highlights the isolation of the British honours system from the European tendencies Richard Rawlinson Georgian Rawlinson Tashjian, David R. Tashjian, Brian J. Enright, 1990 Biography of Richard Rawlinson who was born 3 January 1690 in London England He was the son of Thomas Rawlinson and Mary Taylor Richard attended St John s College Oxford England and recieved the degree of D C L He lived his life in England but never married Richard died in the year 1755 in England

The Quest for Cardenio David Carnegie, Gary Taylor, 2012-09-06 Bringing together leading scholars critics and theatre practitioners this collection of essays is devoted to The History of Cardenio a play based on Don Quixote and said to have been written by Shakespeare and the young man who was taking his place John Fletcher The Protestant International and the Huguenot Migration to Virginia David E. Lambert, 2010 In 1700 King William III assigned Charles de Saily to accompany Huguenot refugees to Manakin Town on the Virginia frontier The existing explanation for why this migration was necessary is overly simplistic and seriously conflated Based largely on English language sources with an English Atlantic focus it contends that King William III grateful to the French Protestant refugees who helped him invade England during the Glorious Revolution 1688 and win victory in Ireland 1691 rewarded these refugees by granting them 10 000 acres in Virginia on which to settle Using French language sources and a wider more European focus than existing interpretations this book offers an alternative explanation It delineates a Huguenot refugee resettlement network within a Protestant International highlighting the patronage of both King William himself and his valued Huguenot associate Henri de Ruvigny Lord Galway By

1700 King William was politically battered by the interwoven pressures of an English reaction against his high profile foreign favorites Galway among them and the Irish land grants he had awarded to close colleagues to Galway and others This book asserts that King William and Lord Galway sponsored the Manakin Town migration to provide an alternate location for Huguenot military refugees in the worst case scenario that they might lose their Irish refuge Enlightened Oxford Nigel Aston,2023-09-19 Enlightened Oxford aims to discern establish and clarify the multiplicity of connections between the University of Oxford its members and the world outside to offer readers a fresh contextualised sense of the University s role in the state in society and in relation to other institutions between the Williamite Revolution and the first decade of the nineteenth century the era loosely describable though not without much qualification as England s ancien regime Nigel Aston asks where Oxford fitted in to the broader social and cultural picture of the time locating the University s importance in Church and state and pondering its place as an institution that upheld religious entitlement in an ever shifting intellectual world where national and confessional boundaries were under scrutiny Enlightened Oxford is less an inside history than a consideration of an institutional presence and its place in the life of the country and further afield While admitting the degree of corporate inertia to be found in the University there was internal scope for members so inclined to be creative in their teaching open new research lines and be unapologetic Whigs rather than unrepentant Tories For if Oxford was a seat of learning rooted in its past and with an increasing antiquarian awareness of its inheritance yet it had a surprising capacity for adaptation a scope for intellectual and political pluralism that was not incompatible with enlightened values Robert Willis (1800-1875) and the Foundation of Architectural History Alexandrina Buchanan,2013 The first full scale biography of Robert Willis the founding father of architectural history WINNER of the Cambridge Association for Local History book award 2016 Robert Willis was the archetypal nineteenth century polymath Officially as Jacksonian Professor of Natural and Experimental Philosophy at the University of Cambridge he specialized in the study of mechanism which he also taught at the Royal School of Mines in London In the field of science he was an experimentalist inventor and educational innovator Meanwhile in his spare time he pursued his passion pioneering the serious study of architectural history Initially his work was aimed at architects his role in providing an intellectual underpinning to the contemporary Gothic Revival was acknowledged by the award of the gold medal of the Royal Institute of British Architects in 1862 However his main contribution was more historical Starting with Canterbury in 1844 over the course of his career he investigated almost every English cathedral and developed an approach combining documentary and archaeological research which remains in use today His studies culminated in the monumental Architectural History of the University of Cambridge still the definitive account of its subject In this fascinating and lavishly illustrated intellectual biography drawn from extensive archival and architectural research the author sheds new light on the interconnections between Willis s varied fields of interest and his fundamental role in the creation of a discipline ALEXANDRINA BUCHANAN is both an architectural historian and an archivist her introduction to archives came through cataloguing the papers of Robert Willis at the Cambridge University Library She is now Lecturer in Archive Studies at the University of Liverpool

Empires of the Plain Lesley Adkins, 2025-06-25 Well told story of a life dedicated to scholarship with great adventures and derring do an unexpected bonus Kirkus Reviews From 1827 Henry Rawlinson fearless soldier sportsman and imperial adventurer of the first rank spent twenty five years in India Iran Iraq and Afghanistan in the service of the East India Company During this time he survived the dangers of disease and warfare including the disastrous First Anglo Afghan War A gifted linguist fascinated by history and exploration he became obsessed with cuneiform the world s earliest writing An immense inscription high on a sheer rock face at Bisitun in the mountains of western Iran carved on the orders of King Darius the Great of Persia over 2 000 years ago was the key to understanding the many cuneiform scripts and languages Only Rawlinson had the physical and intellectual skills courage self motivation and opportunity to make the perilous ascent and copy the monument Here Lesley Adkins relates the story of Rawlinson s life and how he triumphed in deciphering the lost languages of Persia and Babylonia overcoming his brilliant but bitter rival Edward Hincks While based in Baghdad Rawlinson became involved in the very first excavations of the ancient mounds of Mesopotamia from Nineveh to Babylon an area that had been fought over by so many powerful empires His decipherment of the inscriptions resurrected unsuspected civilizations revealing intriguing details of everyday life and forgotten historical events By proving to the astonished Victorian public that people and places in the Old Testament really existed and furthermore that documents and chronicles had survived from well before the writing of the Bible Rawlinson became a celebrity and assured his own place in history

Anglo-Saxon Manuscripts and their Heritage Phillip Pulsiano, Elaine M. Treharne, 2018-12-13 First published in 1998 this volume brings together some of the best recent work on the period before and after the Norman Conquest and makes an irresistible case for a number of fundamental revisions in our understanding of the culture of Anglo Saxon and Norman England Combining the use of novel techniques such as digital image processing with the best current practice in textual and iconographic study this volume broadens the scope and applicability of manuscript studies showing for example the falsity of prevailing notions of the vitality and status of the native English tongue after the Conquest The essays combine to make a coherent and persuasive demonstration of the benefits of not remaining bound to the physical artifact but rather connecting codicology with practical and theoretical applications within manuscript studies and other historical disciplines
