Rift-lines Within European Regulatory Framework for Biosimilars when Taking Heterogeneity and Variation During Lifecycle of the Reference Biologic and the Biosimilar Into Account Malik Osmane, 2014 Biopharmaceutical medicinal products biologics represent a huge financial market Thus upon patent protection expiry of the innovator reference biologic there is interest from industry to gain a portion of this market by launching a similar biologic at a reduced development cost thus boosting potential gains The EMA responded to this desire and lead the guidance process with industry on the topic of biosimilars Based on the experience gained with biosimilars in the past the EMA started to introduce a second generation series of guidance documents which take into account the past current and possibly future challenges of biosimilars Those proposals were evaluated by EMA and partially incorporated into new guidance documents This work highlights the challenges and risks associated with biosimilar submissions for large and complex bio molecules such antibodies Results There are unaddressed questions for the regulator with regard to the unsolved dynamic of heterogeneity and variations of the quality profile which have potential implications on safety and efficacy This is neglected and not taken into account seriously enough by the stakeholders Solution Further the only in my view progressive way to deal with such foreseeable situations from the biosimilar developer s point of view is to incorporate a design space

The Southern Transjordan Edomite Plateau and the Dead Sea Rift Valley Burton

MacDonald,2015-03-12 Burton MacDonald presents an in depth study of the archaeology and history of human presence over the past five six thousand years in the southern segment of the Transjordan Edomite Plateau and the Dead Sea Rift Valley to the west The evidence from archaeology for the area spans the entire period though the time for which literary evidence is available is only the past 4000 years from the Middle Bronze Age 2000 1550 BC Once literary evidence is available however it complements the archaeological record and as can be amply demonstrated the written records can be clarified only through the archaeological data These two sources are thus used to describe environments resources industries settlement patterns and the lifestyles of the inhabitants of this pivotal region The result is a story of the people who lived in the area from the Bronze Age through the Islamic period What is evident is that there were differences in certain archaeological periods in settlement patterns as well as lifestyles between those who lived on the southern segment of the Plateau and those who lived in the Dead Sea Rift Valley or in the lowlands immediately to the west Moreover it is obvious that when there were periods of trade and industry for example the spice trade and copper mining and processing the population of the area was higher Stable governance brought about growth in population and prosperity But other factors also played their part in these ebbs and flows of population climatic fluctuations affecting the availability of water and arable land the development and adoption of new technologies in farming practices raw material extraction and industrial methods processes and transportation and political change resulting in periods of relative stability and instability in government
