Grainger, 2020-08-30 A historian of the ancient world examines the epic rise and fall of the Celtic tribes who invaded the Mediterranean and lands further east The eastern Celtic tribes known to the Greeks as Galatians exploited the waning of Macedonian power after Alexander the Great's death to launch increasingly ambitious raids and expeditions into the Balkans In 279 BC they launched a major invasion defeating and beheading the Macedonian king Ptolemy Keraunos before sacking the Greeks most sacred oracle at Delphi Eventually forced to withdraw northwards they were defeated by Antigonos Gonatus at Lysimachia in 277 BC but remained a threat A large Galatian contingent was invited to cross to Asia to intervene in a war in Bithynia but they went on to seize much of central Anatolia for themselves founding the state of Galatia They remained a force in the region and their warriors served as mercenaries in many armies throughout the eastern Mediterranean In this authoritative history John Grainger explores the fortunes of these eastern Celts down to their eventual subjugation by the Romans Galatia becoming a Roman province in 30 BC Catalogue Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology.
