The Rise and Fall of New France, Volume One George McKinnon Wrong,1970 Gateways to Empire Daniel J. Weeks,2019-07-15 In Gateways to Empire Quebec and New Amsterdam to 1664 historian Daniel Weeks has provided the first comprehensive comparative study of the North American fur trading colonies New France and New Netherland While neither colony profited very much if at all from the fur trade though many individuals fortunes were undoubtedly made Weeks finds that New France which far outpaced New Netherland in this trade grew more slowly and had greater difficulty sustaining itself As he demonstrates in Gateways to Empire other factors including New Netherland s openness to religious and ethnic diversity and wider connections to the Atlantic World allowed it to become more economically secure than its rival north of the St Lawrence And yet in both cases the principal towns of these European colonies Quebec and New Amsterdam moved beyond their initial purposes as hubs for trade with the indigenous peoples to become gateways to European settlement In this New Amsterdam by the late 1640s was singularly successful so that it rapidly fostered the production of new European towns in its hinterlands organizing the landscape for settlement and also for trade within the European dominated Atlantic World system The Seabound Coast William Johnston,William G.P. Rawling,Richard H. Gimblett,John MacFarlane,2011-01-14 Commended for the 2011 Keith Matthews Award From its creation in 1910 the Royal Canadian Navy was marked by political debate over the countrys need for a naval service The Seabound Coast Volume I of a three volume official history of the RCN traces the story of the navys first three decades from its beginnings as Prime Minister Sir Wilfrid Lauriers tinpot navy of two obsolescent British cruisers to the force of six modern destroyers and four minesweepers with which it began the Second World War The previously published Volume II of this history Part 1 No Higher Purpose and Part 2 A Blue Water Navy has already told the story of the RCN during the 1939-1945 conflict Based on extensive archival research The Seabound Coast recounts the acrimonious debates that eventually led to the RCNs establishment in 1910 its tenuous existence following the Laurier governments sudden replacement by that of Robert Borden one year later and the navys struggles during the First World War when it was forced to defend Canadian waters with only a handful of resources From the effects of the devastating Halifax explosion in December 1917 to the U boat campaign off Canadas East Coast in 1918 the volume examines how the RCNs task was made more difficult by the often inconsistent advice Ottawa received from the British Admiralty in London In its final section this important and well illustrated history relates the RCNs experience during the interwar years when anti war sentiment and an economic depression threatened the services very survival Battles
