Contractualisation of Family Law - Global Perspectives Frederik Swennen, 2015-07-06. This volume presents global and comparative perspectives on the perpetual pendular movement of family law between status and contract. It contributes to the topical academic debate on family law exceptionalism by exploring the blurred lines between public law, private law, and family law and sheds light on the many shades of grey that exist. The contributions focus on both substantive and procedural family law on parents and children and on life partners with particular attention for contractual arrangements of family formations and of conflict resolution. The hypothesis underlying all contributions was the trend towards contractualisation of family law. A convergent research outcome resulting from the comparison of national reports was the ambivalent position of family law in legal systems worldwide. That comparison shows that whereas family law is clearly moving towards contract with regard to old family formations, the contrary is true for new family formations. The movement towards contract is rarely considered to be contractualisation pur sang with civil effect. The movement towards status finally does not necessarily witness family law exceptionalism vis-à-vis private law in view of the increasing State interventionism in private law relations in general. In sum, as the volume shows, the high permeability of the demarcations between the State, the family, and the market impedes a categorical approach. This volume is based on the general and selected national reports on the topic 'Contractualisation of Family Law' that were presented at the XIXth International Congress of Comparative Law in Vienna in July 2014.

Global Perspectives on Women's Sexual and Reproductive Health Across the Lifecourse Shonali Choudhury, Jennifer Toller Eerausquin, Melissa Withers, 2017-09-19. This expansive survey spotlights pervasive issues affecting girls and women's sexual and reproductive health across the lifecourse. Research from diverse countries around the world analyzes the complex relationships among biological, psychological, sociocultural, and economic issues, particularly in terms of inequities as they shape women's lives. Major challenges and possibilities for intervention are examined in their national context and with their global implications, including child marriage, motherhood, reproductive care, and access to fertility, childbearing, contraception, abortion, HIV, STIs, gender-based violence, sexual pleasure, and menopause. In these forceful dispatches, a consistent human rights perspective emphasizes women's control, autonomy, and agency in all stages of their lives. A sampling of topics covered: Girl child marriage, a persistent global women's health and human rights violation; Investigating challenges and resilience among women living with obstetric fistula in Kenya; A qualitative exploration of mainstream and social media reflections on abortion; A continuum of severity of sexual intimate partner violence among black women in the United States; Economic empowerment to improve sexual and reproductive health among women and girls. Summarizing an interdisciplinary field on research and practical levels, Global Perspectives on Women's Sexual and Reproductive Health Across the Lifecourse will be an invaluable text for undergraduate and graduate courses in a wide range of fields, including public health, global health,
