Merryweather Dan Ryan, 2011-06-24 Merryweather USMC is a story about two young men in 1833 living in South Carolina One would become a United States Marine Corps General the other an admiral in the United States Navy This book describes in vivid detail what may have occurred in the United States Marine Corps between 1837 and 1867 The narration is by the Marine Corps General born in Port Royal South Carolina He will serve in Florida during the Seminole Wars Mexico and finally the Civil War He is wounded at Gettysburg and is awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor He is promoted to Commandant of the Marine Corps and he occupies the highest USMC office in Washington D C The historical events of 1837 through 1867 are carefully followed The imagination of the author provides rich characters in powerful settings from the battlefields of Mexico to those in America The time old love story between a man and woman is woven throughout the book when the general meets the daughter of John Randolph Adams The Adams are those from the time of the Mayflower two US Presidents and statesmen of America The general and Miss Adams are like oil and water He can not stand her and she is convinced that this is the man she will marry Scenes are set carefully with attention to accurate research of the low country of South Carolina as well as our Nation's Capital circa 1837 1867 The People's Standard History of the United States written by Edward S Ellis and published by Western Book Syndicate and copyrighted by the Woolfall Company have provided background materials maps of the period and needed information on how the federal government was organized and functioned during this period of our history Dear Readers This is a story of America's admirals and generals from 1833 to 1877 These were trying times in the history of our country In 1822 a young man was accepted into the Carlisle Military College of South Carolina Another was accepted into the United States Military Academy at West Point One became an admiral the other a general One lived in Port Royal South Carolina where he worked on his father's shrimp boats The other was born on a plantation south of Beaufort South Carolina and sailed aboard his father's merchant ships they were both in tune with the sea So when the two institutions asked for their selection of military service they choose the Navy One became an admiral the other a brigadier general in the United States Marine Corps This is a work of fiction Its location was inspired by my home which I leased on Dataw Island from 2003 through 2008 The next barrier island in the chain is called Pollarowanna Island and if was chosen as the fictional setting for the Caldwell family plantation To my knowledge there was never a Caldwell living in Beaufort The fictional account is based in part on the lives of the Barnwell and Bull families who lived during these times They owned the homes described along Bay Street And yes they did have a Vice Admiral in the family The historical events which are outlined in this book all took place The dates and locations are accurate but the characters are the products of my overactive imagination Some persons mentioned however are real You can not write about this period of our history without making reference to commanding admirals or generals Sincerely Dan Ryan

The Hackney Stud Book Hackney Horse Society, 1896

Toussaint Louverture and the American Civil War Matthew J. Clavin, 2012-02-23 At the end of the eighteenth century a massive slave revolt rocked French Saint Domingue the most profitable European colony in the Americas Under the leadership of the charismatic former slave François Dominique Toussaint Louverture a disciplined and determined republican army consisting almost entirely of rebel slaves defeated all of its rivals and restored peace to the embattled territory The slave uprising that we now refer to as the Haitian Revolution concluded on January 1 1804 with the establishment of Haiti the first black republic in the Western Hemisphere The Haitian Revolution cast a long shadow over the Atlantic world In the United States according to Matthew J Clavin there emerged two competing narratives that vied for the revolution's legacy One emphasized vengeful African slaves committing unspeakable acts of violence against white men women and children The other was the story of an enslaved people who under the leadership of Louverture vanquished their oppressors in an effort to eradicate slavery and build a new nation Toussaint Louverture and the American Civil War examines the significance of these competing narratives in American society on the eve of and during the Civil War Clavin argues that at the height of the longstanding conflict between North and South Louverture and the Haitian Revolution were resonant polarizing symbols which antislavery and proslavery groups exploited both to provoke a violent confrontation and to determine the fate of slavery in the United States In public orations and printed texts African Americans and their white allies insisted that the Civil War was a second Haitian Revolution a bloody conflict in which thousands of armed bondmen American Toussaints would redeem the republic by securing the abolition of slavery and proving the equality of the black race Southern secessionists and northern anti-abolitionists responded by launching a cultural counterrevolution to prevent a second Haitian Revolution from taking place

A Child of Nature Robert Williams Buchanan, 1896      The Florist's Journal, 1840      Circle the Wagons! Gregory F. Michno, Susan J. Michno, 2008-10-17 It's a cinematic image as familiar as John Wayne's face a wagon train circling as a defensive maneuver against Indian attacks This book examines actual and fictional wagon train battles and compares them for realism It also describes how fledgling Hollywood portrayed the concept of westward migration but as the evolving industry became more accurate in historical detail how filmmakers then lost sight of the big picture
