Martin Buber And Human Sciences:

Martin Buber and the Human Sciences Maurice Friedman,2012-02-01 The specific focus of Martin Buber and the Human Sciences is dialogue as the foundation of and integrating factor in the human sciences using dialogue in the special sense which Buber has made famous mutuality presentness openness meeting the other in his or her uniqueness and not just as a content for one's own thought categories and knowing as deriving in the first instance from mutual contact rather than knowledge of a subject about an object By the human sciences the authors editors mean material that can be meaningfully approached in a dialogic way hence the humanities education psychology speech communication anthropology history sociology and economics The essays in Martin Buber and the Human Sciences demonstrate that thirty years after Buber's death his influence is still resonating in many countries and in many fields Martin Buber and the Eternal Maurice S. Friedman,1986 Martin Buber Maurice S. Friedman,2003-09-02 Martin Buber The Life of Dialogue the first study in any language to provide a complete overview of Buber's thought remains the definitive guide to the full range of his work and the starting point for all modern Buber scholarship Maurice S Friedman reveals the implications of Buber's thought for theory of knowledge education philosophy myth history and Judaic and Christian belief This fully revised and expanded fourth edition includes a new preface by the author an expanded bibliography incorporating new Buber scholarship and two new appendices in the form of essays on Buber's influence on Emmanuel Levinas and Mikhail Bakhtin An Analysis of Martin Buber's I and Thou Simon Ravenscroft,2018-05-20 Martin Buber's I and Thou argues that humans engage with the world in two ways One is with the attitude of an I towards an It where the self stands apart from objects as items of experience or use The other is with the attitude of an I towards a Thou where the self enters into real relation with other people or nature or God Addressing modern technological society Buber claims that while the I It attitude is necessary for existence human life finds its meaning in personal relationships of the I Thou sort I and Thou is Buber's masterpiece the basis of his religious philosophy of dialogue and among the most influential studies of the human condition in the 20th century Dialogue as a Means of Collective Communication Bela H. Banathy,Patrick M. Jenlink,2006-02-28 Dialogue as a Means of Collective Communication offers a cross disciplinary approach to examining dialogue as a communicative medium Presented in five parts the book takes the reader on a journey of exploring the power and potential of dialogue as a means for communication In particular this volume comes at a time when the global society's attention has been directed to creating more productive conversations in the name of world peace and harmony It provides a unique new work on dialogue that brings the reader into a dialogue with dialogue offering an opportunity to understand the communicative potential of dialogue In the book readers are introduced to five sections Section I examines the historical and cultural perspectives of conversation This examination helps to create a foundation for a deeper study of the emergent and salient aspects of conversation as it relates to cultural creativity and human systems design Section II offers the reader an examination of dialogue through different philosophical

The Communicative Relationship Between Dialogue and Care Marie Baker-Ohler, Annette Holba, 2009 This book provides insight into the nature of the relationship between dialogue and care The work is textured and mindful of the human need for authentic communication between embedded human communicative agents This is because the authors are well versed in the field having published articles books and book chapters dealing with the cultivation of human communication and human relationships through aspects of care dialogue and other philosophical preconditions This study approaches the relationship of care and dialogue through a constructive hermeneutic approach situated within the current historical moment while relying on a rich and textured historical tradition of philosophical writings that invite new discussion on the value of this relationship In a historical era of rapidly changing technologies it is often easier to text twitter and e mail in a hypertext mode that fails to acknowledge the dialogic potential in human relationships This book reminds us that even in these technologically sophisticated times we gain more in human relationships through care and dialogue than in quick instant communication It is unique from other books dealing with the relationship between dialogue and care in human relationships because it integrates literature involving communication ethics and philosophies of communication framed around the metaphor of care to provide a more textured insight related to human communication The discussion is an alternative to a social scientific approach Readers will gain a thorough and comprehensive understanding of the issues involved from different perspectives Many other books on these matters are also theoretically laden with deep philosophical concepts but they are often devoid of connections to everyday experiences which limits application of the ideas The authors address this by a text that explores those philosophical and theoretically laden concepts related to care in an applied manner so that the practice of these ideas is situated within actual human interaction This study provides an in depth exploration specifically dealing with care as a philosophical and ethical paradigm for living in the world This book is distinctive as it encompasses theorists scholars from multiple perspectives that include sociological psychological philosophical and from both social science and humanities approaches all of which come together within a communication framework The purpose of this book is to provide readers with the opportunity to consider multiple ways of enhancing human communication through discovering how the notion of care has the ability to shape and guide communicative exchanges Care is posited as a philosophy of communication and more specifically as a communicative ethic that can be embraced in interpersonal and organizational communicative contexts Our goal is to provide a textured understanding of care as it relates to human communication and as it is foregrounded in philosophical thought This text will help develop philosophical understanding of this topic that is inescapably linked to human communication This book will interest all in communication sociology psychology and anthropology

One Beat More Kevin Aho, 2022-02-25 A keen athlete in his late forties philosophy professor Kevin Aho hadn t given much thought to his own mortality until he suffered a sudden heart attack that left him fighting for his life Confronted with death for the first time he realized that the things he thought gave his life meaning such as his independence or his ability to plan his own future were in tatters Aho turned to those thinkers who have reflected deeply on the meaning of life and the anxiety of living when every heartbeat might be your last the existentialists Armed with insights from the likes of Kierkegaard Heidegger Nietzsche and de Beauvoir he found new meaning and comfort in a view of life that strives for authenticity and accepts aging and death as part of what makes life worthwhile Existentialism asks us to face the frailty of our existence and to live with a sense of urgency and gratitude toward its manifold beauties It is only then that we can be released from patterns of self deception and begin to appreciate what truly matters in our fleeting precious lives
