this book introduces Anglophone architects and historians to a little known figure from a period that is recognized as one of the most productive and influential in the Western architectural tradition Ann Marie Borys presents Vincenzo Scamozzi as a traveler and an observer the first Western architect to respond to the changing shape of the world in the Age of Discovery Pointing out his familiarity with the expansion of knowledge in both natural history and geography she highlights that his truly unique contribution was to make geography and cartography central to the knowledge of the architect In so doing she argues that he articulated the first fully realized theory of place Showing how geographic thinking influences his output Borys demonstrates that although Scamozzi s work was conceived within an established tradition it was also influenced by major cultural changes occurring in the late 16th century

Exotic Animals in the Art and Culture of the Medici Court in Florence Angelica Groom,2018-10-22 The book examines the roles that rare and exotic animals played in the cultural self fashioning and the political imaging of the Medici court during the family s reign first as Dukes of Florence 1532 1569 and subsequently as Grand Dukes of Tuscany 1569 1737 The book opens with an examination of global practices in zoological collecting and cultural uses of animals The Medici s activities as collectors of exotic species the menageries they established and their deployment of animals in the ceremonial life of the court and in their art are examined in relation to this wider global perspective The book seeks to nuance the myth promoted by the Medici themselves that theirs was the most successful princely serraglio in early modern Europe

Mapping Different Geographies Karel Kriz,William Cartwright,Lorenz Hurni,2010-09-15 This book is the outcome of the work of contributors who participated in the wo shop Mapping Different Geographies MDG in February 2010 held in Puchberg am Schneeberg Austria This meeting brought together cartographers artists and geoscientists who research and practice in applications that focus on enhancing o to one communication or develop and evaluate methodologies that provide inno tive methods for sharing information The main intention of the workshop was to investigate how different geographies are being mapped and the possibilities for developing new theories and techniques for information design and transfer based on place or location So as to communicate these concepts it was important to appreciate the many contrasting meanings of mapping that were held by workshop participants Also the many and varied viewpoints of what different geographies are were ela rated upon and discussed Therefore as the focus on space and time was embedded within everyone s felds of investigation this was addressed during the workshop This resulted in very engaging discourse which in some cases exposed the restrictions that certain approaches need to consider For participants this proved to be most useful as this allowed them to appreciate the limits and restrictions of their own approach to understanding and representing different geographies As well the workshop also was most helpful as a vehicle for demonstrating the common ground of interest held by the very diverse areas of endeavour that the workshop participants work within

Cartographies of Travel and Navigation James R. Akerman,2010-11-15 Finding one s way with a map is a relatively recent phenomenon In premodern times maps were used if at all mainly for planning journeys in advance not for guiding travelers on the road With the exception of navigational sea charts the use of maps by travelers only became common in the modern era indeed in the last two hundred years maps have become the most ubiquitous and familiar genre of modern cartography Examining the historical relationship between travelers navigation and maps Cartographies of Travel and Navigation considers the cartographic response to the new modalities of modern travel brought about by technological and institutional developments in the twentieth century Highlighting the ways in which the travelers operators and planners of modern transportation systems value maps as both navigation tools and as representatives of a radical new mobility this collection brings the cartography of travel by road sea rail and air to the forefront placing maps at the center of the history of travel and movement Richly and colorfully illustrated Cartographies of Travel and Navigation ably fills the void in historical literature on transportation mapping

Provenance and Possession K. J. P. Lowe, 2024-04-09 A thought provoking study of how knowledge of provenance was not transferred with enslaved people and goods from the Portuguese trading empire to Renaissance Italy In the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries Renaissance Italy received a bounty of goods from Portuguese trading voyages fruits of empire that included luxury goods exotic animals and even enslaved people Many historians hold that this imperial opening up of the world transformed the way Europeans understood the global In this book K J P Lowe challenges such an assumption showing that Italians of this era cared more about the possession than the provenance of their newly acquired global goods With three detailed case studies involving Florence and Rome and drawing on unpublished archival material Lowe documents the myriad occasions on which global knowledge became dissociated from overseas objects animals and people Fundamental aspects of these imperial imports including place of origin and provenance she shows failed to survive the voyage and make landfall in Europe Lowe suggests that there were compelling reasons for not knowing or caring about provenance and concludes that geographical knowledge like all knowledge was often restricted and not valued Examining such documents as ledger entries journals and public and private correspondence as well as extant objects and asking previously unasked questions Lowe meticulously reconstructs the backstories of Portuguese imperial acquisitions painstakingly supplying the context She chronicles the phenomenon of mixed ancestry children at Florence s foundling hospital the ownership of inanimate luxury goods notably those possessed by the Medicis and the acquisition of enslaved people and animals How and where goods were acquired Lowe argues were of no interest to fifteenth and sixteenth century Italians possession was paramount
