reference point for research within the Marxist tradition and a valuable resource for students on a range of courses in political and social theory

Marx and Mead Tom Goff, 2014-08-13 It has often been suggested that a resolution of issues generated by the sociological study of ideas might be reached through a synthesis of specific insights to be found in the works of Karl Marx and George Herbert Mead The present study originated in an investigation of this hypothesis particularly as it bears on the central issue of sociological relativism The author began by delineating the specific problems such a synthesis might resolve and in the process became aware that the nature and depth of differences separating the sociology of knowledge and its critics have never been fully analysed or understood This volume therefore opens with a clarification of these differences a clarification which leads to considerable redefinition of the problem as it has traditionally been understood by critics and proponents of the discipline alike The author points out in particular that it is less a debate than a thorough going contradiction which characterizes the literature dealing with the inadequacies of various formulations of the sociology of knowledge In consequence the study of Marx and Mead presented here is not simply yet another effort to discover a perspective which will satisfy the particular demands of the critics Rather it argues that an adequate perspective fully consistent with the central insight of the discipline that knowledge is radically social in character is to be found in a synthesis of elements in the perspectives of Marx and Mead

The Methodologies of Positivism and Marxism Norma R.A. Romm, 1991-06-18 Focusing on the methodological principles which underlie sociologists study of social reality this text offers clarification and outlines how the different approaches to study originate from various methodological and philosophical traditions

The Marx Machine Charles Barbour, 2012-01-01 This book employs recently developed techniques of literary criticism philosophical argumentation and bibliographical or manuscript analysis to bring Marx's early works and especially his early polemics into conversation with his most contemporary post Marxist critics It argues that some of Marx's best known concepts ideology and historical materialism for example in fact represent responses to the kinds of arguments that many people mount against them today

Marxism, Science, and the Movement of History Alan R. Burger, Hyman R. Cohen, David H. DeGroot, 1980

Recent Marxian Theory John F. Sitton, 1996-07-03 This book brings together some of the more prominent recent analyses within the Marxian tradition that bear on the topics of class formation and social conflict in contemporary capitalism After examining debates over historical agency class structure and electoral dynamics it explores the provocative arguments of analytical Marxists Claus Offe Jürgen Habermas and Immanuel Wallerstein In light of these discussions the author concludes that even if the variety of forces contemporary capitalism structurally generates do not promote the formation of a revolutionary proletariat class relations continue to be important for analyzing the historical trajectory of and challenges to capitalism although not in the way that Marx imagined

Routledge Handbook of Marxian Economics David M. Brennan, David Kristjanson-Gural, Catherine P. Mulder, Erik K. Olsen, 2017-03-16 Most developed economies are characterized by high levels of inequality and an inability to provide stability or opportunity for many of their

Theory and Methods Chris Philo, 2017-05-15 This volume tackles the complex terrain of theory and methods seeking to exemplify the major philosophical social theoretic and methodological developments some with clear political and ethical implications that have traversed human geography since the era of the 1960s when spatial science came to the fore Coverage includes Marxist and humanistic geographies and their many variations over the years as well as ongoing debates about agency structure and the concepts of time space place and scale Feminist and other positioned geographies alongside poststructuralist and posthumanist geographies are all evidenced as well as writings that push against the very limits of what human geography has embraced over these fifty plus years The volume combines readings that are well known and widely accepted as classic with readings that while less familiar are valuable in how they illustrate different possibilities for theory and method within the discipline The volume also includes a substantial introduction by the editor contextualising the readings and in the process providing a new interpretation of the last half century of change within the thoughts and practices of human geography
