Modular

Forms: A Classical And Computational Introduction (2nd Edition) Lloyd James Peter Kilford, 2015-03-12 Modular Forms is a graduate student level introduction to the classical theory of modular forms and computations involving modular forms including modular functions and the theory of Hecke operators. It also includes applications of modular forms to various subjects such as the theory of quadratic forms, the proof of Fermat's Last Theorem, and the approximation of  $\pi$ . The text gives a balanced overview of both the theoretical and computational sides of its subject, allowing a variety of courses to be taught from it. This second edition has been revised and updated. New material on the future of modular forms, as well as a chapter about longer form projects for students, has also been added.

African Christian Theology, Volume 1, Number 2, September 2024 Joshua Robert Barron, 2024-12-20 African Christian Theology is the academic journal of the Association for Christian Theological Education in Africa (ACTEA). The mission of ACTEA is to strengthen theological education through accreditation, scholarship, and support services to serve the church and transform society. The journal is one way in which ACTEA engages theological educators and church leaders in addressing relevant issues facing the church and society in Africa. African Christian Theology serves the whole of Africa and provides a venue for conversations between different regions of Africa, as well as an organ through which African voices can address World Christianity at large. Following in the footsteps of Kwame Bediako, Byang Kato, K. Mana Lamin, Sanneh, Andrew F. Walls, and Isaac Zokou, the journal promotes World Christianity perspectives through deep engagement with African contextual realities. Articles are published in English, French, and Portuguese; each article has a trilingual abstract in those languages. ACTEA was founded in 1976 by the Theological and Christian Education Commission of the Association of Evangelicals in Africa (AEA). Under its continued sponsorship, ACTEA operates with internal autonomy in the accreditation of programmes of theological education throughout Africa in order to stimulate the improvement and standardization of such programmes and in order to secure academic recognition for such programmes wherever possible, especially among the constituencies of these institutions in Africa and among similar institutions and their constituencies overseas.

presents a faithful picture of the systems concerned Separate chapters deal with the various types of property rights their creation transfer and destruction with security rights such as mortgages pledges retention of title as well as with harmonising and unifying efforts at the EU and global level Through the functional approach taken by the Ius Commune Casebooks this volume clearly demonstrates that traditional comparative insights no longer hold The law of property used to be regarded as a product of historical developments and political ideology which were considered to be almost set in stone and assumed to render any substantial form of harmonisation or approximation very unlikely Even experienced comparative lawyers considered the divide between common law and civil law to be so deep that no common ground so it was thought could be found However economic integration in particular integration of financial markets and freedom of establishment has led to the integration of particular areas of property law such as mortgage law and enforceable security instruments eg retention of title This pressure towards integration has led comparative lawyers to refocus their interest from contract tort and unjustified enrichment to property law and delve beneath its surface This book reveals that today property law systems are closer to one another than previously assumed that common ground can be found and that differences can be analysed in a new light to enable comparison and further the development of property law in Europe
