Insider's Guide to Better Nursing Home Care Donna M. Reed, 2008-11-25 No Marketing Blurb What Can be Done in Nursing Homes United States. Congress. Senate. Special Committee on Aging. Subcommittee on Long-Term Care, 1975 Nursing Home Federal Requirements, 8th Edition James E. Allen, 2014-07-09 The book lists all the federal requirements that are evaluated by state surveyors during the annual survey visit to nursing homes and for complaint visits. The exhibit section contains forms used by surveyors to gather data during the survey visit. Visually the format makes the regulations easy to read. If nursing home staff used the book to prepare for a survey they would be well prepared. Marcia Flesner PhD RN MHCA University of Missouri Columbia From Doody's Review Nursing homes are now the most highly regulated environments in the United States in the service of maximizing the quality of each resident's life. This user friendly guide has been updated to provide all of the requisite information needed by nursing home staff to prepare for a visit from federal surveyors. It provides the most current federal guidelines and the procedures used by federal surveyors in certifying facilities for participation in Medicare and Medicaid funding. It describes every aspect and service of a nursing home that is subject to inspection and includes the nearly 20% of new requirements established during the past three years with an emphasis on the new Minimum Data Set 3.0. The guide not only presents federal requirements and explanatory guidelines but also explains how to best interpret these guidelines so nursing home staff can be optimally prepared for a survey visit. It reflects changes in regulations regarding end of life care, nasogastric tube regulations and rights to establish advance directives. The guide also provides information straight from CMS's Internet Only Manual New Features of Eighth Edition. Describes how to best use the updated manual. Focuses on Minimum Data Set 3.0. Explains clearly how to interpret the new requirements 20% of which have been updated. Presents new quality measures. Includes new CMS forms. Reflects changes in regulations regarding end of life care, nasogastric tube regulations and rights to establish advance directives. End of Life in Care Homes Jeanne Samson Katz, Sheila M. Peace, 2003-04-03 In our society the overwhelming majority of people die in later life. They typically die slowly of chronic diseases with multiple co-existing problems over long periods of time. They spend the majority of their final years at home but many will die in hospitals or care homes. This book explores the possibilities for improving the care of older people dying in residential care and nursing homes. It argues that there are aspects of palliative care that given the right circumstances are transferable to dying people in settings that are not domestic or hospice based. End of Life in Care Homes describes what happens in nursing and residential care homes when a resident is dying, how carers cope and the practical health and emotional challenges that carers face on top of their day to day work. Based on detailed research from both the UK and US the book shows how the situation can be improved. Nursing and Nursing Education Division of Health Care Services, 1983-02 Results are presented of a study of nursing and nursing education that focused on the need for continued federal support of nursing education, ways to attract nurses to medically underserved areas and approaches to encourage nurses to stay in the profession. Findings are presented on whether the aggregate supply of generalist nurses will be sufficient to meet future demand and how changes that could occur in the health care system might affect demand Attention is also directed to how the current and future supply of nurses may be influenced by the costs of nursing education and the sources of education financing and education for generalist positions in nursing In addition the supply and demand situation for nurses educationally prepared for advanced professional positions in nursing is examined The influence of employer policies and practices in utilization of nursing resources on demand and supply is also addressed Finally areas in which further data and studies are needed to better monitor nursing supply and demand are identified In addition to 21 recommendations appendices include information on Nursing Training Act appropriations state reports on nursing issues certificates for specialist registered nurses projections of registered nurse supply and requirements and doctoral programs in nursing SW
