Food and Society William C. Whit,1995-01-01 The importance of food is undeniable Yet because it is so close and obvious we often fail to pay attention to it In Food and Society A Sociological Approach author William C Whitt attempts to develop a multi level multidisciplinary approach to the relationship between food and the larger world Organized from the experiences of food consumption through its preparation distribution storage and production this book discusses the role of food in past societies the basics of nutrition contemporary issues including body size food and culture food production world hunger and food innovation The Lancet ,1927 The Long Year Thomas J. Sugrue,Caitlin Zaloom,2022-01-25 Some years 1789 1929 1989 change the world suddenly Or do they In 2020 a pandemic converged with an economic collapse inequalities exploded and institutions weakened Yet these crises sprang not from new risks but from known dangers The world like many patients met 2020 with a host of preexisting conditions which together tilted the odds toward disaster Perhaps 2020 wasn't the year the world changed perhaps it was simply the moment the world finally understood its deadly diagnosis In The Long Year some of the world's most incisive thinkers excavate 2020's buried crises revealing how they must be confronted in order to achieve a more equal future Keeanga Yamahtta Taylor calls for the defunding of police and the refunding of communities Keisha Blain demonstrates why the battle against racism must be global and Adam Tooze reveals that COVID 19 hit hardest where inequality was already greatest and welfare states weakest Yarimar Bonilla Xiaowei Wang Simon Balto Marcia Chatelain Gautam Bhan Ananya Roy and others offer insights from the factory farms of China to the elite resorts of France the meatpacking plants of the Midwest to the overcrowded hospitals of India The definitive guide to these ongoing catastrophes The Long Year shows that only by exposing the roots and ramifications of 2020 can another such breakdown be prevented It is made possible through institutional partnerships with Public Books and the Social Science Research Council International Health Law and Ethics André den Exter,2015 International Health Law and Ethics Basic Documents contains a collection of treaty documents and soft law on health care rights and health ethics used in health law training programs Regional documents and explanatory reports on health care rights which are derived from international human rights law provide a way of unwrapping government obligations in health care making rights more specific accessible and judicially accountable In addition soft law declarations and medical ethics contribute to understanding the moral meaning of human rights in health care As such the principles and standards provide practical guidance for States when dealing with equal access to health care services the rights of categories of patients biomedical research organ donation and transplantation genetics and public health These topics structure the approach of International Health Law and Ethics This guide covers the basic documents while general comments and explanatory reports amplify the principles embodied in the human rights treaties The authoritative interpretations clarify a European approach on the State's obligations concerning health care rights and ethics This volume is an initiative of the Erasmus Observatory on Health Law It will be a helpful guide for all trainers health care professionals and students interested in human rights issues in health care Habilitation, Health, and Agency Lawrence C. Becker,2012-06-15 Lawrence C Becker introduces an unconventional set of background ideas for future philosophical work on normative theories of basic justice The organizing concept is habilitation the process of equipping a person or thing with functional abilities or capacities The specific proposals drawn from the concept of habilitation are independent of any particular set of distributive principles The result is a framework for theory that includes a metric for the pursuit of basic justice but not a normative theory of it The basic idea is that receiving and providing habilitation is a lifelong necessity for human beings from their nearly helpless newborn state through their struggles to survive and thrive thereafter even into the most severe diminishments of old age This lifelong human necessity underlies all questions about basic justice and the possibilities for habilitation define the circumstances under which those questions arise Focusing on the circumstances of habilitation calls attention to the central role of physical and psychological health Without basic good health in both domains it is not possible to cope with the habilitative demands of one's physical and psychological endowments and one's physical and social environments And for human beings a particular aspect of human health effectively sums up these matters namely human agency the nature and extent of the ability to act effectively The book proposes specifically that normative theories of basic justice adopt the habilitation framework What then appears to follow is that the most plausible comprehensive metric for assessing progress toward basic justice will be the level and distribution of basic good health Moreover achieving robustly healthy agency will be the most plausible tactical target for making progress toward basic justice no matter what one's favored distributive principles might be Library of
