Islamic Masculinities Lahoucine Ouzgane, 2013-07-04 This innovative book outlines the great complexity variety and difference of male identities in Islamic societies From the Taliban orphanages of Afghanistan to the caf s of Morocco from the experience of couples at infertility clinics in Egypt to that of Iraqi conscripts it shows how the masculine gender is constructed and negotiated in the Islamic Ummah It goes far beyond the traditional notion that Islamic masculinities are inseparable from the control of women and shows how the relationship between spirituality and masculinity is experienced quite differently from the prevailing Western norms Drawing on sources ranging from modern Arabic literature to discussions of Muhammad s virility and Abraham s paternity it portrays ways of being in the world that intertwine with non Western conceptions of duty to the family the state and the divine

Reconceiving the Second Sex Marcia C. Inhorn, Maruska la Cour Mosegaard, Tine Tjørnhøj-Thomsen, Helene Goldberg, 2009-08-01 Extensive social science research particularly by anthropologists has explored women s reproductive lives their use of reproductive technologies and their experiences as mothers and nurturers of children Meanwhile few if any volumes have explored men s reproductive concerns or contributions to women s reproductive health Men are clearly viewed as the second sex in reproduction This volume argues that the marginalization of men is an oversight of considerable proportions It sheds new light on male reproduction from a cross cultural global perspective focusing not only upon men in Europe and America but also those in the Middle East Asia and Latin America Both heterosexual and homosexual married and unmarried men are featured in this volume which assesses concerns ranging from masculinity and sexuality to childbirth and fatherhood

Transforming Ethnographic Knowledge Rebecca Hardin, Kamari Maxine Clarke, 2012-08-06 The ethnographic methods that anthropologists first developed to study other cultures fieldwork participant observation dialogue are now being adapted for a broad array of applications such as business conflict resolution and demobilization wildlife conservation education and biomedicine In Transforming Ethnographic Knowledge anthropologists trace the changes they have seen in ethnography as a method and as an intellectual approach and they offer examples of ethnography s role in social change and its capacity to transform its practitioners Senior scholars Mary Catherine Bateson Sidney Mintz and J Lorand Matory look back at how thinking ethnographically shaped both their work and their lives and George Marcus suggests that the methods for teaching and training anthropologists need rethinking and updating The second part of the volume features anthropologists working in sectors where ethnography is finding or claiming new relevance Kamari Maxine Clarke looks at ethnographers involvement or non involvement in military conflict Csilla Kalocsai employs ethnographic tools to understand the dynamics of corporate management Rebecca Hardin and Melissa Remis take their own anthropological training into rainforests where wildlife conservation and research meet changing subsistence practices and gendered politics of social difference and Marcia Inhorn shows how the interests in mobility and diasporic connection that characterize a new generation of ethnographic work also apply to medical technologies as those mediate fertility and relate to social status in the Middle East

Substantial Relations Sandra Bärnreuther, 2021-12-15 Substantial Relations examines global reproductive medicine in India focusing on in vitro fertilization Since the 1970s India has played a central but shifting role in shaping global reproductive medicine from a provider of raw material to a producer of knowledge and technology to a creator of a thriving medical market that attracts patients from all over the world Relying on archival material and oral history Substantial Relations traces the path of this transnational historical trajectory This book also examines the contemporary making of IVF in Delhi Drawing on ethnographic research in homes hospitals and laboratories Sandra Bärnreuther provides deep insights into the intricacies of clinical life and everyday experience by depicting IVF users quest for offspring and their fears of establishing unwanted ties as well as the minute engagements of clinicians and laboratory staff with reproductive substances Thinking through substances metaphorically and materially Sandra Bärnreuther provides a novel and rich analysis of the various relations that the burgeoning IVF sector in India has relied on and generated Substantial Relations contributes to a broader understanding of reproductive medicine as a global phenomenon constantly in the making situating India in the midst of rather than peripheral to this process
