The Liquidation of the Church Kees de Groot, 2017-09-13 Is religion dying out in Western societies Is personal spirituality taking its place Both stories are inadequate Institutional religion is not simply coming to an end in Western societies Rather its assets and properties are redistributed large parts of the church have gone into liquidation Religion is crossing the boundaries of the parish and appears in other social contexts In the fields of leisure health care and contemporary culture religion has an unexpected currency The metaphor of liquidation provides an alternative to approaches that merely perceive the decline of religion or a spiritual revolution Religion is becoming liquid By examining a number of case studies in the Netherlands and beyond including World Youth Day television spiritual centers chaplaincy mental healthcare museums and theatre this book develops a fresh way to look at religion in late modernity and produces new questions for theological and sociological debate It is both an exercise in sociology and an exercise in practical theology conceived as the engaged study of religious praxis As such the aim is not only to get a better understanding of what is going on but also to critique one sided views and to provide alternative perspectives for those who are active in the religious field or its surroundings

Spirituality in Social Work and Education Janet Groen, Diana Coholic, John R. Graham, 2013-01-24 Over the past ten years the fields of social work and education have grappled separately with definitions of spirituality ways to integrate spirituality into the classroom and the rendering of spirituality as a meaningful concept for practitioners students and researchers Social work and education have many commonalities in areas of engagement with children families and communities For the first time this book brings together these two professional disciplines for interdisciplinary discussions that advance our knowledge in the broad area of spirituality The book s three sections reflect broad topic areas created to facilitate dialogue between the contributors all of whom have established expertise in exploring spirituality in education or social work The first section of the book explores the historical and theoretical underpinnings of spirituality in education and social work Examination of our respective heritages uncovers the religious roots within our professions and reveals a present understanding of spirituality that calls for active engagement in challenging oppression and working toward social justice

The second section shifts the focus to the pedagogical implications of incorporating spirituality into higher education classrooms. The varied level of acceptance and the tensions that come from including spirituality implicitly or explicitly in the programs and coursework in our respective faculties are illuminated by authors in both professions. The final section explores issues related to practising and teaching in the field from a spiritually sensitive perspective. Proceedings RMRS, 1998

Natural Communion Gabriel Ricci, 2019-06-03 The academic treatment of the environment and nature since the 1980s has been formalized in sub disciplines like environmental history, environmental philosophy, ecocriticism, and eco spirituality. Within these disciplines, the concept of nature has been variously employed to reorient humanity to a holistic moral standard. In each case, there is general consensus that inquiry ought to turn on moral considerations of the interaction of humans and the environment, with implied admonitions to live sustainably. Lending credence to the Earth as a superorganism in its own right, these modern ecological expressions can be traced to Rachel Carson's revelations in Silent Spring. However, they have a long pre history which appears in monistic philosophy, the spirit of Deism in both Romanticism and the Enlightenment, and in political expressions of the idea of Nature's God designed to promote a secular vision of the state and to overturn predatory religious rivalries. With this literary momentum, Natural Communion, volume 40 of Religion and Public Life, gathers interdisciplinary essays which reconfigure humanity within an ecotheological anthropology and which treat the idea of the sacred from the perspective of an Earth centered spirituality, thus redefining humanity's response to ecological challenges and initiating a new status within a more expansive cosmology complete with a naturalized conception of Divine Reality.

Perspectives on Complementary and Alternative Medicine: A Reader Geraldine Lee Treweek, Tom Heller, Julie Stone, Hilary MacQueen, Jeanne Katz, 2019-07-23 Complementary and alternative medicine (CAM) is an emerging and increasingly popular group of treatments, therapies, and philosophies of health and wellbeing. It is a fascinating and fast changing area of social life which also poses an interesting challenge to current healthcare delivery and policy making. This reader presents a lively and engaging collection of classic, controversial, and new readings on CAM and covers issues including changes in the way CAM is developing and being delivered, holism, and what this concept means to CAM practice, changes in consumption and the health consumer that have led to increased interest in CAM, the safety and effectiveness of CAM treatments, how integration is being achieved in contemporary society. The text provides insight into many of the current and complex issues surrounding CAM and will appeal to everyone who is concerned with or who has an interest in complementary and alternative healthcare. The book will be essential reading for students of CAM, health studies, nursing, medicine, and allied health subjects, as well as medical sociology and modern health policy.

Cultivating the Spirit Alexander W. Astin, Helen S. Astin, Jennifer A. Lindholm, 2010-10-26 Cultivating the Spirit THIS GROUNDBREAKING WORK IS BASED on a five year study of how students change during the college years and the role college plays in facilitating the development of their spiritual qualities. Students, the authors argue, grapple with the big questions in life: Who am I? What are my values Do I have a mission in life Why am I in college What kind of person do I want to be What sort of world do I want to help to create Their answers to these questions help determine their academic and career choices and are tied to the development of personal qualities such as empathy caring and social responsibility The study finds that while students religious engagement declines during college at the same time they become substantially more caring tolerant connected with others and actively engaged in a spiritual quest Spiritual growth also enhances academic performance leadership development and satisfaction with college The study provides strong evidence pointing to specific experiences during college that can contribute to students spiritual growth The need for spiritual development in college is apparent Two thirds of the students in the study express a strong interest in spiritual matters well over half report that their professors never encourage discussions of religious or spiritual matters and about the same proportion report that professors never provide opportunities to discuss the purpose and meaning of life Cultivating the Spirit aims to raise the awareness of academic administrators faculty and the public at large to the vital role that spirituality plays in student learning and development Throughout the book the authors identify strategies for enhancing students development and encourage the academy to give greater priority to the spiritual aspects of students educational and personal development

Sociology of Religion for Generations X and Y Adam Possamai, 2016-04-08 Generations X and Y are plugged into the contemporary world of consumption popular culture and the internet These generations treat knowledge and belief as a more flexible concept often focusing on the practical rather than the theoretical and often drawing on conflicting sources in both popular and cyber culture Their approach to religious belief and practice requires a new way of studying the sociology of religion Sociology of Religion for Generations X and Y examines key world religions Buddhism Christianity and Islam as well as newer religious groups such as Scientology New Age Witchcraft and online communities such as Jediism and Matrixism The book covers a range of key concepts secularisation and modernisation re enchantment the McDonaldisation of society and the easternisation of the west Each chapter opens with a case study from popular culture or the internet which takes the reader to the heart of the topic being discussed Employing both classical sociological theory and contemporary critical theory Sociology of Religion for Generations X and Y explains where contemporary religion and spirituality are coming from where they are now and where they are going
