miraculous but in fact understandable processes by which poets and writers confer those powers on us how they teach us the work of imaginative creation Writers from Homer to Heaney Scarry argues instruct us in the art of mental composition even as their poems progress just as painters understand paint composers musical sounds and sculptors stone or metal verbal artists understand and deploy the only material in which their creations will get made the backlit tissue of the human imagination In her brilliant synthesis of cognitive psychology literary criticism and philosophy she explores the five principal formal practices by which writers bring things to life for their readers she calls them radiant ignition rarity dyadic addition and subtraction stretching and floral supposition The transforming power of these mental practices can be seen in their appearance in great literature of course but also in applying them to and watching how they revise our own daydreams Dreaming by the Book is not only an utterly original work of literary analysis but a sequence of on the spot mental experiments

In Search of La Grande Illusion Nicholas Macdonald, 2013-11-22 This is an extended analysis of the film from different perspectives The first half is largely a discussion of the cinematic technique with key sequences analyzed shot by shot The second half approaches the film from many other angles including its history the critical reception Renoir's life and career and film theory e.g. film in relation to music A case is made that Renoir's career was inconsistent especially after La Règle du jeu but also during the 1930s And rather than emphasizing the humanist anti-war thrust of La Grande Illusion the film is approached as a work of art that is deeply expressive cinematically

Somewhere Over the Rainbow Daniel Ross Goodman, 2020-08-24 Why do we watch movies If we read in search of more life as Harold Bloom is fond of saying then we watch movies this book proposes in search of wonder We watch movies in search of awe inspiring visions transformative experiences and moments of emotional transcendence and spiritual sublimity We watch movies for many of the same reasons that we engage in religion to fill our ordinary evenings and weekends with something of the extraordinary to connect our isolated individual selves to something that is greater than ourselves and because we yearn for something that is ineffable but absolutely indispensable This book through an exploration of some of the most intriguing films of the past two decades illustrates how movies are partners with religion in inspiring conveying and helping us experience what Abraham Joshua Heschel refers to as radical amazement the sense that our material universe and our ordinary lives are filled with more wonders than we can ever imagine and that it takes spiritually as well as cinematically trained eyes to uncover these ever present ocular gems In addition to illustrating how films utilize religious themes and theological motifs to convey a sense of wonder this book offers new interpretations of key films from canonical American directors such as Martin Scorsese Terrence Malick Richard Linklater Wes Anderson and the Coen brothers
