Reordering The Natural World Humans And Animals In The City:

Reordering the Natural World Annabelle Sabloff, 2001-01-01 With this text Sabloff not only provides insight into the study of relations between humans and the natural world she lays a cornerstone for building a new structure for the study of anthropology itself BOOK JACKET City Creatures Gavin Van Horn, Dave Aftandilian, 2015-11-03 This anthology explores Chicago's surprisingly diverse wildlife through essays poetry paintings and photographs We usually think of cities as the domain of humans but we are just one of thousands of species that call the urban landscape home While Chicago residents are likely familiar with squirrels pigeons and dogs many would be surprised to learn about the leafhoppers and water bears black crowned night herons and bison beavers and massasauga rattlesnakes that are living alongside them City Creatures introduces readers these and other creatures through a variety of creative contributions Contributors bring a story based approach to this urban safari taking readers on birding expeditions to the Magic Hedge at Montrose Harbor on the North Side canoe trips down the South Fork of the Chicago River better known as Bubbly Creek and insect collecting forays or restoration work days in the suburban forest preserves The book is organized into six sections each highlighting one type of place in which people might encounter animals in the city and suburbs For example schoolyard chickens and warrior wasps populate Backyard Diversity and a chorus of deep freeze frogs awaits in Water Worlds Its powerful combination of insightful narratives numinous poetry and full color art will help readers see the city and the creatures who share it with us in an entirely new light Human-wildlife Conflict Megan M. Draheim, Francine Madden, Julie-Beth McCarthy, Edward C. M. Parsons, 2015 This is the first human wildlife conflict HWC book to focus on the marine system exploring the complexity of HWC in marine based conservation through the Level of Conflict model a theoretical yet highly practical tool developed in the peace building field Urban Animals Tora Holmberg, 2015-03-27 The city includes opportunities as well as constraints for humans and other animals alike Urban animals are often subjected to complaints they transgress geographical legal as and cultural ordering systems while roaming the city in what is often perceived as uncontrolled ways But they are also objects of care conservation practices and bio political interventions What then are the more than human experiences of living in a city What does it mean to consider spatial formations and urban politics from the perspective of human animal relations This book draws on a number of case studies to explore urban controversies around human animal relations in particular companion animals free ranging dogs homeless and feral cats urban animal hoarding and crazy cat ladies The book explores zoocities the theoretical framework in which animal studies meet urban studies resulting in a reframing of urban relations and space Through the expansion of urban theories beyond the human and the resuscitation of sociological theories through animal studies literature the book seeks to uncover the phenomenon of humanimal crowding both as threats to be policed and as potentially subversive In this book a number of urban controversies and crowding technologies are analysed finally pointing at alternative modes of trans species urban politics through the promises of humanimal crowding of proximity and collective agency The exclusion of animals may be an urban ideology aiming at social order but close attention to the level of practice reveals a much more diverse disordered and perhaps disturbing experience Wildlife and Society Michael J. Manfredo, 2009 Winner of The Wildlife Society's 2009 Wildlife Publication Award for outstanding edited book As human populations around the world continue to expand reconciling nature conservation with human needs and aspirations is imperative The emergence in recent decades of the academic field of human dimensions of fish and wildlife management is a proactive response to this complex problem Wildlife and Society brings together leading researchers in the range of specialties that are relevant to the study of human dimensions of fish and wildlife work around the globe to provide theoretical and historical context as well as a demonstration of tools methodologies and idea sharing for practical implementation and integration of practices Chapters document the progress on key issues and offer a multifaceted presentation of this truly interdisciplinary field The book presents an overview of the changing culture of fish and wildlife management considers social factors creating change in fish and wildlife conservation explores how to build the social component into the philosophy of wildlife management discusses legal and institutional factors examines social perspectives on contemporary fish and wildlife management issues Wildlife and Society is uniquely comprehensive in its approach to presenting the past present and future of human dimensions of fish and wildlife research and application It offers perspectives from a wide variety of academic disciplines as well as presenting the views of practitioners from the United States Europe Africa and Latin America It is an important new reference for anyone concerned with fish and wildlife management or environmental conservation and protection Other Selves Janice Anne Fiamengo, 2007 The most recent installment of the Reappraisals series which examines the range of meanings associated with animals in the Canadian literary imagination Animals and Agency Sarah McFarland, Ryan Hediger, 2009-06-02 While many scholars who write about animals deal with animal agency in some way this volume is the first to position the question of nonhuman agency as the primary focus of inquiry Section I presents studies of actual animals demonstrating agency Section II moves agency into new terrain while considering key representations of animal agency in literature Section III analyzes animals as mediators and as conveyances of human to human communication and Section IV investigates the agency of beings who defy conventional species categories The Envoi demonstrates how the microscopic polyp is interwoven into notions of agency and mythical superagency This volume's interdisciplinary explorations press hard on issues of agency to open up space for more questions about how we can understand relationships between the human and the nonhuman Encyclopedia of Environment and Society Paul Robbins, 2007-08-27 As befits the topic this beautifully packaged wonderfully illustrated interdisciplinary resource has more than 1200 entries written by specialists A helpful reader's guide groups topics like agriculture conservation and ecology movements and regulations politics pollution and society A resource guide chronology glossary and list of the UN's economic indicators complete the set Library Journal this important work gives a well focused snapshot of environmentalism in the early 21st Century and it will remain valuable into the future both for its content and as a yardstick to measure progress toward sustainability and conservation

Summing Up Recommended Undergraduates and general readers CHOICE Booklist Editors Choice 2008 This superb interdisciplinary work should find a place on the shelves of every public and academic library that has the least bit of interest in environment issues which should mean just about all

Booklist Starred Review Where does the environment leave off and society begin When expanding production and consumption drives greenhouse gas emissions that warm the planet which in turn influence the conditions of economic expansion it is unclear where the climate ends and the economy begins This fact is not new to our era however our social and natural sciences have only recently come to grips with the incredible complexity of the world described by understanding the environment and society as being of a piece As a result in the last decade there has been an unprecedented explosion of new concepts theories facts and techniques that follow from such an understanding The Encyclopedia of Environment and Society brings together multiplying issues concepts theories examples problems and policies with the goal of clearly explicating an emerging way of thinking about people and nature With more than 1 200 entries written by experts from incredibly diverse fields this innovative resource is a first step toward diving into the deep pool of emerging knowledge The five volumes of this Encyclopedia represent more than a catalogue of terms Rather they capture the spirit of the moment a fascinating time when global warming and genetic engineering represent only two of the most obvious examples of socio environmental issues

Key Features Examines many new ideas about how the world works what creates the daunting problems of our time and how such issues might be addressed whether by regulation markets or new ethics Demonstrates how theories of environmental management based on market efficiency may not be easily reconciled with those that focus on population and both may certainly diverge from those centering on ethics justice or labor Offers contributions from experts in their fields of specialty including geographers political scientists chemists anthropologists medical practitioners development experts and sociologists among many others Explores the emerging socio environmental problems that we face in the next century as well as the shifting and expanding theoretical tools available for tackling these problems Covers regions of North America in greater detail but also provides a comprehensive picture that approaches as effectively as possible a cohesive global vision

Key Themes Agriculture Animals Biology and Chemistry Climate Conservation and Ecology Countries Geography History Movements and Regulations Organizations People Politics Pollution Society Packed with essential and up to date information on the state of the global socio environment the Encyclopedia of Environment and Society is a time capsule of its historic moment and a record of where we stand at the start of the 21st century making it a must have resource for any library These inspiring volumes provide an opportunity for more new ways of thinking behaving and living in a more than human world

Animals and Society Margo DeMello, 2012-08-21 Considering that much of human society is structured through its interaction with non human animals and since human society relies heavily on the exploitation of animals to serve human needs human animal studies has become a rapidly expanding field of research featuring a number of distinct positions perspectives and theories that require nuanced explanation and contextualization The first book to provide a full overview of human animal studies this volume focuses on the conceptual construction of animals in American culture and the way in which it reinforces and perpetuates hierarchical human relationships rooted in racism sexism and class privilege Margo DeMello considers interactions between humans and animals within the family the law the religious and political system and other major social institutions and she unpacks the different identities humans fashion for themselves and for others through animals Essays also cover speciesism and evolutionary continuities the role and preservation of animals in the wild the debate over zoos and the use of animals in sports domestication agricultural practices such as factory farming vivisection animal cruelty animal activism the representation of animals in literature and film and animal ethics Sidebars highlight contemporary controversies and issues with recommendations for additional reading educational films and related websites DeMello concludes with an analysis of major philosophical positions on human social policy and the future of human animal relations

Routledge Handbook of Human-Animal Studies Garry Marvin, Susan McHugh, 2014-04-16 Human animal studies is an academic field that has grown exponentially over the past decade It explores the whys hows and whats of human animal relations why animals are represented and configured in different ways in human cultures and societies around the world how they are imagined experienced and given significance what these relationships might signify about being human and what about these relationships might be improved for the sake of the individuals as well as the communities concerned The Routledge Handbook of Human Animal Studies presents a collection of original essays from artists and scholars who have established themselves internationally on the basis of specific and significant new contributions to human animal studies This international interdisciplinary handbook will be of interest to students and scholars of human animal studies sociology anthropology biology environmental studies geography cultural studies history philosophy media studies gender studies literature psychology ethology and visual studies

Species Cleansing Gabriela Jarzębowska, 2024-09-09 The book scrutinizes post war rat control programs in Poland exploring their intricate intersections with politics science and ideology It delves into the impact of prevailing cultural narratives concerning problematic urban rodents on pest control and sanitary programs as well as the ways in which biological factors shape challenge or impede political modernization initiatives Employing urban rat populations as an unequivocal exemplar of an undesirable element the author constructs an inquiry into the strategies of political exclusion The analysis of rat extermination schemes facilitates an exploration of the patterns of social progress within a semi peripheral country and the discursive shifts evident in political language regarding the troublesome non human urban residents

Hunger for the Wild Michael L. Johnson, 2007 Americans have had an enduring yet ambivalent obsession with the West as both a place and a state of mind Michael L. Johnson considers how that obsession originated how it has determined attitudes toward and activities in the West and how it has changed over the centuries City Life Adrian Franklin, 2010-05-31 Cities are more important as cultural entities than their mere function as dormitories and industrial sites Yet the understanding of what makes a city alive and appealing in cultural terms is still hotly contested why are some cities so much more interesting popular and successful than others In this engaging discussion in the text City Life Adrian Franklin takes the reader on a tour of contemporary western cities exploring their historical development and arguing that it is the transformative ritual and performative qualities of successful cities that makes a difference Emphasizing the importance of experience the book represents the fluid complexity of the city as a living space an environment and a posthumanist space of transformation It will be of interest to all those engaging with the difficulties of urban life in sociology human geography tourism and cultural studies departments Animal Places Jacob Bull, Tora Holmberg, Cecilia Åsberg, 2017-11-22 Nonhuman animals are ubiquitous to our human societies Interdisciplinary human animal research has for 50 years drawn attention to how animals are ever present in what we think of as human spaces and cultures Our societies are built with animals and through all kinds of multispecies interactions From public spaces and laboratories to homes farms and in the wilderness human and nonhuman animals meet to make space and place together through webs of power relations However the very spaces of these interactions are not mute or passive themselves The spaces where species meet matter and shape human animal relations This book takes as its starting point the relationship between place and human animal interaction It brings together the work of leading scholars in human animal studies from a variety of disciplinary and interdisciplinary backgrounds With a distinct focus on place physical space and biocultural geography the authors of this volume consider the ways in which space human and nonhuman animals co constitute each other how they make spaces together produce meaning around them struggle over access how these places are storied and how stories of spaces matter Presenting studies thematically and including a variety of nonhuman creatures in a range of settings this book delivers new understandings of the importance of nonhuman animals to understandings of place and the role of places in shaping our interactions with nonhuman creatures As pets as laboratory animals as exhibits as parasites as livestock as quarry as victims of disaster or objects of folklore this book offers insights into human animal intermingling at locales and settings of great relevance to many areas of research including geography sociology science and technology studies gender studies history and anthropology This book meets the evolving interest in human animal interaction anthrozoology and the environmental humanities in relation to the research on space and place that currently informs the humanities and the social sciences Multispecies Archaeology Suzanne E. Pilaar Birch, 2018-02-07 Multispecies Archaeology explores the issue of ecological and cultural novelty in the archaeological record from a multispecies perspective Human exceptionalism and our place in nature have long been topics of academic consideration and archaeology has been synonymous with an exclusively human past to the detriment of gaining a more nuanced understanding of one that is shared Encompassing more than just our relationships with animals the book considers what we can learn about the human past without humans as the focus of the question The volume digs deep into our understanding of interaction with plants fungi microbes and even the fundamental building blocks of life DNA Multispecies Archaeology examines what it means to be human and non human from a variety of perspectives providing a new lens through which to view the past Challenging not only the subject or object of archaeology but also broader disciplinary identities the volume is a landmark in this new and evolving area of scholarly interest

What Animals Mean in the Fiction of Modernity Philip Armstrong, 2008-02-19 What Animals Mean in the Fiction of Modernity argues that nonhuman animals and stories about them have always been closely bound up with the conceptual and material work of modernity In the first half of the book Philip Armstrong examines the function of animals and animal representations in four classic narratives Robinson Crusoe Gulliver's Travels Frankenstein and Moby Dick He then goes on to explore how these stories have been reworked in ways that reflect shifting social and environmental forces by later novelists including H G Wells Upton Sinclair D H Lawrence Ernest Hemingway Franz Kafka Brigid Brophy Bernard Malamud Timothy Findley Will Self Margaret Atwood Yann Martel and J M Coetzee What Animals Mean in the Fiction of Modernity also introduces readers to new developments in the study of human animal relations It does so by attending both to the significance of animals to humans and to animals own purposes or designs to what animals mean to us and to what they mean to do and how they mean to live

Animal Stories Susan McHugh, 2011 How cross species companionship is figured across a variety of media and why it matters Human-Animal Studies Margo DeMello, 2012-04 An exhaustive listing of books journals articles films conferences college programs organizations and websites from the new and exciting discipline of Human Animal studies The information was gathered by leading academics in the humanities the social sciences and the natural sciences this is the only reference of its kind This project was completed in conjunction with the book Teaching the Animal

Knowing Animals Laurence Simmons, 2007-03-31 In recent decades the humanities and social sciences have undergone an animal turn an efflorescence of interdisciplinary scholarship which is fresh and challenging because its practitioners consider humans as animals amongst other animals while refusing to do so from an exclusively or necessarily biological point of view Knowing Animals showcases original explorations of the animal turn by new and eminent scholars in philosophy literary criticism art history and cultural studies The essays collected here describe a lively bestiary of cultural organisms whose flesh is at least partly conceptual and textual paper tigers beast fables anthropomorphs humanimals l animot In so doing they investigate the benefits of knowing animals differently more closely less definitively more carefully less certainly Contributors include Laurence Simmons Alphonso Lingis Barbara Creed Tanja Schwalm Philip Armstrong Annie Potts Allan Smith Ricardo De Vos Catharina Landström Brian Boyd Helen Tiffin Ian Wedde

Senses in Cities Kelvin Low, Devorah Kalekin-Fishman, 2017-10-05 Urban landscapes are usually thought of first and foremost as engineered formations designed for functionality It is quite clear however that cities and towns are sites of social structure scenes of diversity and hotbeds of transgressions They are also sources of satisfying social relationships settings for actions negotiated on an everyday basis and opportunities for kinesthetic and aesthetic experiences Within these processes the senses mediate engagement with the optimism of urban growth the comfort of urban traditions and a consciousness of the diverse relationships that embellish urban living but also with the repellent sights and sounds that invade zones of comfort This book examines how qualities of place and their sensuous reorganisation elucidate particular sociocultural expressions and practices in urban life The collection illuminates how urban environments are distinguished valued or reconfigured with the senses as media for evaluating authentic spaces and places that endure and change over time
