Report from the Frontier Julian Burger, 1987 3 Life at the bottom State of the World, 1993 Lester Russell Brown, 1993
Indigenous Peoples and Tropical Forests Jason W. Clay, 1988 Tropical Deforestation Leslie Elmer Sponsel, Thomas N. Headland, Robert Converse Bailey, 1996 The authors present fresh perspectives on the major global crisis of deforestation from a wide range of fields including biological ecology forest history conservation biology anthropology political economy and development economics Sounds of the South Daniel Watkins Patterson, 1991 Beyond the familiar forms of Mississippi Delta Blues and mainstream country music the vernacular music of the South also ranges from the ceremonial music of Native Americans to shout singing in South Carolina sea islands Cajun fiddling and Mexican American conjunto music Sounds of the South assesses past efforts to document these richly varied musical forms and the challenges facing future work Sounds of the South a 1989 conference that gathered record collectors folklorists musicians record producers librarians archivists and traditional music lovers celebrated the official opening of the Southern Folklife Collection with the John Edwards Memorial Collection at the library of the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill Based on that conference Sounds of the South includes Bill Malone s account of his own career as fan and scholar of country music Paul Oliver on European blues scholarship and Ray Funk on researching Black Gospel Quartets The contributors look at a number of topics related to the role of the archivist folklorist in recording and documenting the music of the South evaluating past fieldwork and current needs in documentation archival issues prospects for the publication of recordings and changes in music and technology Written in an accessible style this volume will be of interest to all those concerned with preserving the music of the American South Indigenous peoples and human rights Patrick Thornberry, 2013-07-19 This study of the rights of indigenous peoples looks at the historical cultural and legal background to the position of indigenous peoples in different cultures including America Africa and Australia It defines indigenous peoples and looks at their position in international law Indigenous Traditions and Ecology John Grim, 2001 The authors a diverse group of indigenous and non native scholars and environmental activists address urgent questions facing indigenous communities as they struggle with threats to their own sovereignty increased market and media globalization and the conservation of endangered bioregions The New Resource Wars Al Gedicks, 1994 Gedicks paints a disturbing picture of the current environmental crisis but points to hopeful signs of resistance and coalition that could successfully block multinational corporations resources colonization of native lands Human Rights Internet Reporter , 1987 Settlements of Hope Ann Armbrrecht, 1989 Explorations In Global Ethics Sumner B Twiss, 2018-03-08 Inspired by the 1993 Parliament of the Worlds Religions this volume for the first time brings the scholarly discipline of comparative religious ethics into constructive collaboration with the community of interreligious dialogue The contributors draw from both communities of discourse in addressing questions of method and theory and global moral issues such as human rights distributive justice politics of war international business the environment and genocide in a cross cultural context Inspired by the 1993 Parliament of the World's Religions this volume for the first time brings the scholarly discipline of comparative religious ethics into constructive collaboration with the community of interreligious dialogue Its design is premised on two important insights First interreligious dialogue offers to comparative religious ethics a new more persuasive rationale agenda of issues and practical orientation Second comparative religious ethics offers to interreligious dialogue an arsenal of critical tools and methods which will enhance the sophistication of its practical work In this way both theory a dominant concern and strength of comparative religious ethics and praxis a dominant concern and strength of interreligious moral dialogue are joined together in mutual effort each contributing to the benefit of the other The volumes contributors share this vision of collaboration drawing explicitly from both communities of discourse in a manner that crosses disciplinary and professional boundaries to deal creatively and constructively with important methodological and global moral issue Although theory and practice cannot easily be separated in such a collaborative project for the purpose of clarity the volume is divided into two main parts The first specifically engages questions of method theory and the social role of the public intellectual the second on substantive moral themes and issues many of which were raised at the 1993 Parliament Taken together the volumes essays articulate and illustrate new ways of approaching contemporary moral concerns cross culturally yet with a rigor appropriate to our complex and pluralistic world
