Hiring of Dock Workers and Employment Practices in the Ports of New York, Liverpool, London, Rotterdam, and Marseilles Vernon H. Jensen, 1964 This study provides the opportunity to compare the hiring and employment practices within the context of local conditions as they exist in five major ports It tells how efforts at regulation are influenced by the various institutions and by market constraints and describes the impact of the differences emanating from the industrial relations systems of each of the countries in which the port is located In all these ports the basic problem to a large extent is still that of casual employment and the author describes the repeated attempts to achieve a solution and analyzes in detail the efforts that failed and those that succeeded
