Reporters Report Reporters:

In Other News Stephanie Forshee, Rosellen Downey, 2016-03-01 You've read an incredible article. You're thinking how did the reporter do that? In Other News: Reporters on Reporting digs into the stories of 12 journalists who have worked for leading news outlets including The Washington Post, BuzzFeed, NPR, TIME, ABC, the Los Angeles Times, and more. Finally, the reporter is the subject of the story. Reporters Report Reporters Curtis Daniel MacDougall, 1968 Newspaper Reporting and Correspondence Grant Milnor Hyde, 1912 A Journalist's Guide to the Internet Christopher Callahan, 2003 A Journalist's Guide to the Internet is a guide for students and professional journalists to learn how to use the Internet effectively in their daily reporting. The Reporters' Magazine, 1880 Investigative Reporting Marcy Burstin, 2018-06-18 Investigative Reporting provides a step-by-step approach for tackling any investigative story, teaching reporters the skills they need to overcome common obstacles during investigative work. Experienced reporter and instructor Marcy Burstin offers readers guidance on how to identify story ideas, craft a premise, seek out human sources, and documents, file public records requests, and analyze data. Including tips and advice from student and professional reporters, this comprehensive textbook also offers strategies for conducting interviews and for organizing information into a compelling story or series of stories that engage the reader through multimedia storytelling. Highlights of the new edition include updated examples and anatomies of news stories, extensive discussion of data reporting and analysis for investigative projects, guidance on how to request public records using state public records acts, and how to appeal denials of public records requests. Instruction on the use of free collaborative tools for organizing, sharing, and analyzing information. A new chapter on creating a fact-checking system. A section on careers in investigative journalism. Interviews with student investigative reporters from colleges across the country, with professional investigative reporters from non-profit news organizations, emerging journalistic outlets, and advocacy publications, and with staff and freelance reporters who produce stories for mainstream radio, television, print, and online news organizations. Court Reporters United States Congress, Senate, Committee on the Judiciary, 1943 An Introduction to News Reporting Jan Johnson Yopp, Beth A. Haller, 2005 An Introduction to News Reporting gives beginning reporters the tools to succeed by introducing them to news beats and the people, issues, sources, and stories associated with them. The text begins by reviewing the basics of reporting, including conducting interviews, developing sources, finding documents, and gathering information ethically and legally. It continues with a detailed look at the beats students are most likely to cover as beginning reporters: local government, education, business, police, and fire, courts, and others. Features: Covers the major beats in any news organization and lists sources for each beat, giving students the tools to begin reporting their stories. Includes the basics of newswriting so instructors can use the text in courses that combine newswriting and reporting. Provides activities at the end of every chapter, giving students a starting point for reporting the beat and guiding instructors in how to teach reporting skills. Provides a list of resources and

Web sites in every chapter to give students and instructors additional information on a particular beat and a starting point for researching stories

Jargon buster convergent journalism Media convergence is the most significant development in the news industry in the last century The ability to interchange text audio and visual communication over the Internet has fundamentally transformed the way news organizations operate Convergence has enabled media companies to gather disseminate and share information over a variety of platforms Throughout the history of journalism it has been common for journalists to study one medium such as traditional print or broadcast and to anticipate a career working only in their chosen field However the 21st century journalist has fluidity to write and deliver news content in a variety of formats source <http://www.convergencejournalism.com>

Broadcast News Writing Reporting and Producing presents a solid foundation for any student learning how to become a broadcast journalist in today's world of convergent journalism it is more important than ever that broadcast textbooks cover the most current trends in media Convergent journalism the coverage of news across multiple delivery platforms such as the internet television podcasts ipods blogs etc is here to stay broadcast journalism continues to morph as newer and more advanced content platforms are hatched and developed and broadcast journalists must understand how to write report and produce for multiple platforms simultaneously Just one crucial fact remains students will need training on how to perform successfully in a world in which current events aren't just shown on the ten o'clock evening news Broadcast News Writing Reporting and Producing will be completely overhauled to reflect the trends of convergent journalism on every page New co author Frank Barnas brings a multi faceted perspective of writing reporting and producing that allows for multi platform delivery systems and shows students with real world examples the functions and practices of today's media The new edition will be rewritten and restructured to accommodate common 16 week course modules and will be divided into four major sections of the news gathering writing reporting and producing Sidebars featuring how examples used in the text relate to convergence in journalism help students to draw connections easily between current stories and trends in the industry The comprehensive approach of this text brings a multi faceted perspective of writing reporting and producing that is needed more than ever in today's world of convergent journalism This newest edition is being completely overhauled by the experienced journalist Frank Barnas New photos and illustrations a restructuring of the text expanded end of chapter exercises newer and more relevant examples and more information on producing all contribute to giving readers what they need most a nuanced understanding of how the media of today function in a world without news boundaries

Environment Reporters in the 21st Century James Simon, JoAnn Myer Valenti, David B. Sachsman, 2011-12-31

Environment Reporters in the 21st Century is the story of a relatively new journalistic beat environmental reporting This book explores the development of the environmental beat as a specialty during the last thirty years It also discusses broader trends within American journalism resulting from technological changes that challenge traditional mediums especially newspapers and magazines The book is divided into three parts The first reviews the literature and explains the methodology The second describes the results of the authors research The third provides in depth accounts of environment reporters at work A final chapter puts the research in historical perspective viewing it in terms of the economic decline of the newspaper business and of local television news Journalists mediate a constant struggle among thousands of environmental activists corporate public relations people government officials and scientists to shape environmental reporting This volume tells the story of environmental reporting imaginatively and innovatively The New York State Reporter ,1901 The Mind of a Journalist Jim Willis,2009-07-30 Written by veteran journalist and noted professor Jim Willis with an epilogue by Marilyn Thomsen this book introduces journalistic decision making into the classroom alongside discussion of reporting and writing techniques Students peer inside the minds of a cross section of print broadcast and online journalists by way of exclusive interviews and additional research that provide a deep broad glimpse into how they perceive themselves their world and their craft Ultimately this provocative text provides added insights into how journalists think and why they do what they do Features and Benefits Original interviews with contemporary journalists at varying career stages Offers a rarely seen inside look at the world of journalists from media outlets such as the Los Angeles Times the Boston Globe CNN the Memphis Commercial Appeal KUSA Television in Denver and The Oklahoman Anecdotes involving how journalists work Translates abstract thinking into the reality of everyday journalism Interviews with several war reporters Portrays the impact of covering war on those reporting from the field An example of how different journalists approach traumatic stories such as 9 11 the Oklahoma City bombing and Hurricane Katrina Illuminates different orientations to conveying truth and dealing with ethical dilemmas involved in such disaster coverage Seasoned journalists examine the following areas Factors that lure young people into journalism as a career The stance journalists take toward the world they are assigned to cover Ethical dilemmas How close to get to a story or how far to distance themselves from it The socialization of journalists and the role their own personal ideologies may play in their work as reporters and editors How one s faith might influence the coverage of a story The mixing of news and entertainment The Mind of a Journalist is an appropriate and innovative supplement for a variety of media studies courses including Introduction to Journalism News Writing and Reporting Advanced Reporting Journalism and Society and Ethics among many others The Great Reporters David Randall,2005-09-01 Who are the greatest reporters in history This unique book is the first to try and answer this question Author David Randall searched nearly two centuries of newspapers and magazines consulted editors and journalism experts worldwide and the result is The Great Reporters 13 in depth profiles of the best journalists who ever lived They include nine Americans and four Britons ten men and three women whose lives were full of adventure wit and the considerable ingenuity required to bring the story home

Among chapters are those on the reporter who Booked himself onto a ship likely to be sunk by the Germans so he could report its torpedoing Was called out to a multiple shooting who interviewed 50 witnesses went back to the office and wrote a Pulitzer Prize winning story of 4 000 words in two and a half hours Was deemed useless by her teacher but who went on to become the greatest crime reporter in history Wrote a story that changed the map of Europe Out bluffed a top Soviet official to get into Russia so he could cover the appalling famine there Feigned madness to get herself locked up in an asylum so she could expose its terrible conditions Was the best ever to apply words to newsprint Became a national hero in America because he stood up for the little guy and his war reporting told it like it really was At the age of 63 and after three major operations went under cover in Iran so she could report on the regime s repression Was nearly fired for fouling up his first major assignment but went on to shock his nation with his courageous war reporting Wrote faster than anyone who could write better and better than anyone who could write faster Single handedly took on the tobacco industry Said no to William Randolph Hearst Each profile tells of the reporter s life and his or her major stories how they were obtained and their impact Packed with anecdotes and inspiring accounts of difficulties overcome the book quotes extensively from each reporter s work It also includes an essay on the history of reporting charting the technologies economics and attitudes that made it the way it is from the invention of the telegraph to the Internet The Great Reporters is not just the story of 13 remarkable people it is the story of how society s information hunter gatherers succeed in bringing us all what we need to know Voluntary Reporting of Greenhouse Gases ,1997 The Court Reporting System in United States District Courts, 1960 Charles Parker,Norman R. Tharp,1960 Voluntary Reporting Of Greenhouse Gases 1997, DOE/EIA-0608(97), May 1999, S/N 610-030-01068-7 ,1999 Reporting World War II G. Kurt Piehler,Ingo Trauschweizer,2023-04-25 This set of essays offers new insights into the journalistic process and the pressures American front line reporters experienced covering World War II Transmitting stories through cable or couriers remained expensive and often required the cooperation of foreign governments and the American armed forces Initially reporters from a neutral America documented the early victories by Nazi Germany and the Soviet invasion of Finland Not all journalists strove for objectivity During her time reporting from Ireland Helen Kirkpatrick remained a fierce critic of that country s neutrality Once the United States joined the fight after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor American journalists supported the struggle against the Axis powers but this volume will show that reporters even when members of the army sponsored newspaper Stars and Stripes were not mere ciphers of the official line African American reporters Roi Ottley and Ollie Stewart worked to bolster the morale of Black GIs and undermined the institutional racism endemic to the American war effort Women front line reporters are given their due in this volume examining the struggles to overcome gender bias by describing triumphs of Th r se Mabel Bonney Iris Carpenter Lee Carson and Anne Stringer The line between public relations and journalism could be a fine one as reflected by the U S Marine Corps creating its own network of Marine correspondents who reported on the Pacific island campaigns and had their work published by American media outlets Despite the pressures of censorship the best American reporters strove for accuracy in reporting the facts even when dependent on official communiqu s issued by the military Many wartime reporters even when covering major turning points sought to embrace a reporting style that recorded the experiences of average soldiers Often associated with Ernie Pyle and Bill Mauldin the embrace of the human interest story served as one of the enduring legacies of the conflict Despite the importance of American war reporting in shaping perceptions of the war on the home front as well as shaping the historical narrative of the conflict this work underscores how there is more to learn Readers will gain from this work a new appreciation of the contribution of American journalists in writing the first version of history of the global struggle against Nazi Germany imperial Japan and fascist Italy
