Jappel, 2012-12-06 The changing character of the IAU General Assemblies becomes most clear from a comparison of the agenda of the Brighton meeting with that of one of the earlier meetings The fourth General Assembly Cambridge Mass 1932 had about 240 participants registered guests included the Brighton meeting had about 2300 people attending The Cambridge meeting lasted 5 working days of which however three half days were exclusively devoted to excursions leaving four real meeting days At that time the nearly 30 commissions had each only one meeting during part of a morning or afternoon some commissions did not meet at all There was one public lecture by Sir Arthur Eddington on The Expanding Universe Most of the small European countries were represented by two or three delegates only but the delegations of France and Great Britain were composed of 20 and 18 scientists respectively at that time there were only two delegates from Germany After the Brighton General Assembly with about 200 commission meetings one commission met eleven times six Joint Discussions four Invited Discourses a Special Meeting and hardly time for excursions there were a few complaints about too many overlapping meetings      Transactions of the International Astronomical Union ,      Transactions of the International

Reports on Astronomy Edith Muller, 2012-03-30 Three years ago the Reports on Astronomy were for the first time published in three separate parts whereby related astronomical topics were collected in one volume and each volume was kept to a size of no more than about 250 pages The a m was to facilitate a wider distribution of individual volumes among astronomers and other scientists interested in specific subjects of astronomy The same system was adopted for the present volume A of the IAU Transactions which covers the activities in astronomical research from January 1976 to December 1978 The Commission Presidents were invited to restrict their reports to present a selection of the most important developments in the field of astronomy covered by their Commission and to avoid overlaps with other Commission reports As a re sult of the restriction in the number of pages some Commissions presen t a large concentrated list of references with little discussion whereas others review some of the most exciting recent research developments in their subject The distribution of the Commission Reports into the three parts of volume XVII A is as follows VOL XVII A PART 1 commission 4 Ephemerides 5 Documentation 6 Astronomical Telegrams 7 Celestial Hechanics 9 Instruments and Techniques 14 Fundamental
