Requiem for a Red Box John Timpson, Neil McAllister, Val Corbett, 1989-01-01 Street Furniture Design Eleanor Herring, 2016-07-14 Eleanor Herring's unique study of street furniture in post war Britain considers how objects which are now familiar parts of our urban environment were designed to populate public spaces Herring explores the design of lampposts post boxes parking meters and signage in the context of a government backed by various bodies keen to propagate good modern design in a Britain whose towns and cities had been laid waste by bombing and the privations of war She also considers the innate conservatism of local communities and councils wary of a standardised street design imposed from above She traces how the design of street furniture became the site of a fierce struggle which exposed deep seated anxieties about class taste and power Herring's original research draws on archival material and on interviews with leading figures in urban design including graphic designer Margaret Calvert and industrial designer Kenneth Grange The British Phonebox Nigel Linge, Andy Sutton, 2017-02-15 The full story of one of the most iconic public symbols in Britain Public relations and the making of modern Britain Scott Anthony, 2018-04-30 Public relations was established in Britain by a group of liberal intellectuals in the aftermath of the slump Central to the startling story of Britain's early public relations pioneers is Sir Stephen Tallents the inaugural President of the Institute of Public Relations Tallents was a public sector entrepreneur who lent his patronage to John Grierson's documentary film movement the BBC Overseas Service the development of Listener Research and the staging of the Festival of Britain A compelling portrait of how the social economic and media revolutions of early twentieth century reshaped national life Public relations and the making of modern Britain reveals a country struggling to cope with austerity and crisis that is at once very different from and yet surprisingly similar to our own This book includes the first reprint of Tallents influential The Projection of England for over fifty years It will interest students and scholars of media studies and modern British culture history and politics A REQUIEM FOR CAELUS R. Avant Garde Alice Lovejoy, 2014-12-29 A history of the Czechoslovakian military's connection to some of the nation's most innovative and subversive cinema. During the 1968 Prague Spring and the Soviet-led invasion and occupation that followed, Czechoslovakia's Army Film studio was responsible for some of the most politically subversive and aesthetically innovative films of the period. Although the studio is remembered primarily as a producer of propaganda and training films, some notable New Wave directors began their careers there, making films that considerably enrich the history of that movement. Alice Lovejoy examines the institutional and governmental roots of postwar Czechoslovak cinema and provides evidence that links the Army Film studio to Czechoslovakia's art cinema. By tracing the studio's unique institutional dimensions and production culture, Lovejoy explores the ways in which the military avant-garde engaged in dialogue with a range of global film practices and cultures. The print version of the book includes a DVD featuring sixteen short films produced by the Czechoslovak Ministry of Defense. The additional media files are not available on the eBook. Alice Lovejoy's revelatory study of the cinema culture wrought by the Czechoslovak Army Film studio is a cause for celebration among both cinephiles and media scholars. Lovejoy's curatorial enterprise brings these fascinating films to us for fresh examination. Seeing these artful army films nearly half a century later opens our eyes to work that requires us to reassess what we thought we knew about documentary, new waves, and world cinema itself. Dan Streible, New York University. Lovejoy restores these sometimes funny, sometimes poignant, and always innovative films to their proper place in film history while explaining the unique cultural politics that allowed them to blossom beneath the noses of the Stalinist government. Tom Gunning, University of Chicago. Filled with surprises for readers who thought they knew their Czech film history, this insightful book refutes many received ideas about Eastern European cultural politics during the Cold War and sketches a complex and nuanced relationship between artists and the socialist state. Rick Prelinger, UC Santa Cruz.
