Res 24 Anthropology And Aesthetics:

Res 24 Francesco Pellizzi, 1993 Res is a journal of anthropology and comparative aesthetics dedicated to the study of the object in particular cult and belief objects and objects of art The journal presents contributions by philosophers art historians archaeologists critics linguists architects artists and others Its field of inquiry is open to all cultures regions and historical periods Res also publishes iconographic and textual documents important to the history and theory of the arts Res appears twice yearly in the spring and autumn The journal is edited by Francesco Pellizzi More information about Res is available at www.resjournal.org The Problem of the Fetish William Pietz, 2002-11-18 A groundbreaking account of the origins and history of the idea of fetishism In recent decades William Pietz's innovative history of the idea of the fetish has become a cult classic Gathered here for the first time is his complete series of essays on fetishism supplemented by three texts on Marx blood sacrifice and the money value of human life Tracing the idea of the fetish from its origins in the Portuguese colonization of West Africa to its place in Enlightenment thought and beyond Pietz reveals the violent emergence of a foundational concept for modern theories of value belief desire and difference This book cements Pietz's legacy of engaging questions about material culture object agency merchant capitalism and spiritual power and introduces a powerful theorist to a new generation of thinkers The Fetish Revisited J. Lorand Matory, 2018-10-04 Since the early modern encounter between African and European merchants on the Guinea Coast European social critics have invoked African gods as metaphors for misplaced value and agency using the term fetishism chiefly to assert the irrationality of their fellow Europeans Yet as J Lorand Matory demonstrates in The Fetish Revisited Afro Atlantic gods have a materially embodied social logic of their own which is no less rational than the social theories of Marx and Freud Drawing on thirty six years of fieldwork in Africa Europe and the Americas Matory casts an Afro Atlantic eye on European theory to show how Marx's and Freud's conceptions of the fetish both illuminate and misrepresent Africa's human made gods Through this analysis the priests practices and spirited things of four major Afro Atlantic religions simultaneously call attention to the culture specific materially conditioned physically embodied and indeed fetishistic nature of Marx's and Freud's theories themselves Challenging long held assumptions about the nature of gods and theories Matory offers a novel perspective on the social roots of these tandem African and European understandings of collective action while illuminating the relationship of European social theory to the racism suffered by Africans and assimilated Jews alike Postcolonial Criticism and Representations of African Dictatorship Cecile Bishop, 2017-07-05 The figure of the dictator looms large in representations of postcolonial Africa Since the late 1970s writers film makers and theorists have sought to represent the realities of dictatorship without endorsing the colonialist cliches portraying Africans as incapable of self government Against the heavily politicized responses provoked by this dilemma Bishop argues for a form of criticism that places the complexity of the reader's or spectator's experiences at the heart of its investigations Ranging across literature film and political theory this study

calls for a reengagement with notions often seen as unwelcome diversions from political questions such as referentiality genre and aesthetics But rather than pit political approaches against formal and aesthetic procedures the author presents new insights into the interplay of the political and the aesthetic Cecile Bishop is a Junior Research Fellow in French at Somerville College Oxford

The Routledge Research Companion to Travel Writing Alasdair Pettinger, Tim Youngs, 2019-07-30 Showcasing established and new patterns of research The Routledge Research Companion to Travel Writing takes an interdisciplinary approach to scholarship and to travel texts themselves The volume adopts a thematic approach with each contributor considering a specific aspect of travel writing a recurrent motif an organising principle or a literary form All of the essays include a discussion of representative travel texts to ensure that the volume as a whole represents a broad historical and geographical range of travel writing Together the 25 essays and the editors introduction offer a comprehensive and authoritative reflection of the state of travel writing criticism and lay the ground for future developments

Inkface Miles P. Grier, 2023-12-28 In Inkface Miles P Grier traces productions of Shakespeare's Othello from seventeenth century London to the Metropolitan Opera in twenty first century New York Grier shows how the painted stage Moor and the wife whom he theatrically stains became necessary types reduced to objects of interpretation for a presumed white male audience In an era of booming print production popular urban theater and increasing rates of literacy the metaphor of Black skin as a readable transferable ink became essential to a fraternity of literate white men who by treating an elastic category of marked people as reading material were able to assert authority over interpretation and by extension over the state the family and commerce Inkface examines that fraternity's reading of the world as well as the ways in which those excluded attempted to counteract it

Contemporaneity Gevork Hartoonian,2023-02-14 Pursuing historical analogies between nineteenth century theories and the current practices captivated by digital reproducibility this book offers a critical take on architecture s contemporaneity through four essays tectonics materiality cladding and labor Fundamental to this proposition is the historicity of Gottfried Semper s theorization of architecture amidst the outpouring of new materials and construction techniques during the 1850s Starting with Semper s differentiation between theatricalization and the tectonic of theatricality this book examines thematic essential to architecture s self representation Even though the title of this book recalls the Semperian Four Elements of Architecture its argument encapsulates a unique historico theoretical project probing the tectonic of theatricality beyond Semper The invisible tie between technique and labor is the cord running through the four subjects covered in this book In exploring these subjects from the theoretical standpoint of Marxian dialectics this book s contribution is focused on but not limited to the topicality of labor today when its relationship with capital has been further obscured by the prevailing digitalization of commodity exchange value starting roughly in the 1990s Each essay examines Semper s theorization of architecture in contradistinction to the ways in which technology's mediation has dominated architecture's representation Burrowing through the invisible tie between technique and work asymptomatic of architecture's predicament in global capitalism Towards a Critique of Architecture's Contemporaneity advances the scope of architectural criticism beyond the exhausted formalism and architecture's turn to philosophy circa the 1980s and the present tendencies for presentism It will therefore be of interest to researchers and students of architectural history and theory Exhibiting Religion John P. Burris, 2001 In this revision of his dissertation in religion at U of California Santa Barbara Burris religious studies Stetson U explores the development of a comparative study of religion as this can be deduced from the exhibits on world religion and culture at 19th century world expositions The book's four main themes are the colonial mindset of the exhibiting of cultures and their religions the effect of evolutionary theory on the defining of American religious and social hierarchies the role of the expositions in popularizing the theory of social evolution and the denigration of primitive peoples and their religions through comparative display The text is as much cultural studies as religious studies and will appeal to those interested in American societal and intellectual trends of this period Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Rethinking Relations and Animism Miguel Astor-Aguilera, Graham Harvey, 2018-10-09 Personhood and relationality have re animated debate in and between many disciplines We are in the midst of a simultaneous ontological turn a re turn to things and a relational turn and also debating a new animism It is increasingly recognised that the boundaries between the natural and social sciences are of heuristic value but might not adequately describe reality of a multi species world Following rich and provocative dialogues between ethnologists and Indigenous experts relations between the received knowledge of Western Modernity and that of people who dwell and move within different ontologies have shifted Reflection on human relations with the larger than human world can no longer rely on the outdated assumption that nature and cultures already accurately describe the lineaments of reality The chapters in this volume advance debates about relations between humans and things between scholars and others and between Modern and Indigenous ontologies They consider how terms in diverse communities might hinder or help express evidence and explore improved ways of knowing and being in the world Contributors to this volume bring different perspectives and approaches to bear on questions about animism personhood materiality and relationality They include anthropologists archaeologists ethnographers and scholars of religion Stone Trees Transplanted? Central Mexican Stelae of the Epiclassic and Early Postclassic and the Question of Maya 'Influence' Keith Jordan, 2014-10-10 Stelae dating to the Epiclassic and Early Postclassic from Tula Xochicalco and other sites in Central Mexico have been cited as evidence of Classic Maya influence on Central Mexican art during these periods This book re evaluates these claims via detailed comparative analysis of the Central Mexican stelae and their claimed Maya counterparts

Revisiting Actor-Network Theory in Education Tara Fenwick, Richard Edwards, 2019-05-17 Actor network theory ANT is enjoying a notable surge of interest in educational research New directions and questions are emerging along with new empirical approaches as educators bring unique sensibilities and commitments to the ongoing debates and reconfigurations that characterise ANT inspired research Ethics and politics are now figuring more prominently in ANT related educational publications as are educational policy and the critical studies of assessment practices Research on digital technology in education has also attracted critical exploration with ANT approaches This book gathers together articles that address important educational issues while showing creative theoretical and methodological possibilities for ANT studies in education This book aims to locate these contributions within broader trajectories of inquiry in education and sociomaterial approaches considered worthy of attention given the challenges facing educators today It also raises critical questions about what appear to be certain oversights or less helpful ideas in what is emerging in the field

Retrospective Columns Samuel Holzman, 2025-10-07 An innovative study of how and why ancient Greek builders sometimes combined older and contemporary carving styles when making capitals The Ionic order of ancient Greek architecture gradually evolved over the course of the sixth century BCE In Retrospective Columns Samuel Holzman examines an overlooked group of nine Ionic monuments that are varied in design but have capitals that combine the pillowy convex volutes of sixth century Ionia on one side and the crisp concave volutes of more contemporary styles on the other Such hybrid capitals had a surprising longevity and range spanning Greece Italy and Turkey between 550 and 250 BCE Why did ancient Greek builders sometimes revert to older carving styles and combine them with newer ones One old theory is that outdated styles were a labor saving shortcut a notion Holzman puts to rest with a marble carving experiment that recreated the volutes of one capital Rather he argues that hybrid capitals represented an important parallel to other trends in Greek art notably bilingual Attic vases which combined older and newer painting techniques for sheer visual delight By studying the chiaroscuro carving effects and painted polychrome decoration of Ionic architecture Holzman shows that ancient viewers were primed to look for differences in such details which the book illustrates with many original drawings and diagrams Exploring works of Ionic architecture from different periods in Ionia the Cyclades Athens and the Northern Aegean Retrospective Columns demonstrates that their builders ultimately returned to outmoded elements to establish continuity with the past reinforcing community identities and architectural tradition
