M. Govaerts, 2007-12-12 Lange tijd beperkte het onderzoek naar hechtingsprocesne zich tot de relatie tussen een kind en zijn moeder Waarbij de aandacht vooral ging naar de intrapsychische belevingswereld van onveilig gehechte kinderen en volwassenen Pas in later onderzoek was er veel meer oog voor de impact van gezinsfactoren die het hechtingsgebeuren beïnvloeden. Toch bleven tot voor enkele jaren de hechtingstheorie en de systeemtheorie twee gescheiden werelden. Onder impuls van een groeiende groep van klinici worden verworvenheden van de hechtingstheorie geïntegreerd binnen een systeemtherapeutische denkmodel. Deze systeemtherapeuten breiden het concept van gehechtheid uit naar het gezinssysteem als geheel.

Hechtingsproblemen in gezinnen heeft oog voor vormen van implementatie van hechtingsdynamiek binnen een systemische visie op gezinnen. Daarnaast wordt aandacht besteed aan gehechtheid binnen veilige en onveilige gezinssituaties. De auteur benadert de hechtingstheorie niet vanuit de gedachte dat kinderen slachtoffers kunnen zijn van een onveilige omgeving. Hij gaat ervan uit dat kinderen met hun eigen temperament en karakter actief deelnemen aan de vorming van hechtingspatronen binnen het gezin. Dit boek is bestemd voor hulpverleners die de hechtingstheorie op een kritische en gedifferentieerde manier willen toepassen in counseling en psychotherapie. Door de gedegen samenvattingen van belangrijke theorieën uit het werkveld is het tevens zeer geschikt als leerboek in de opleiding tot behandelaar.

Trauma Patrick Bracken, 2002-04-29
 This volume argues that there are serious problems inherent in current conceptualisations of how people react to trauma and consequently in many of the therapeutic responses that have been developed.

Assisted Human Reproduction Dani Singer, Myra Hunter, 2003-02-24
 With contributions from Eric Blyth Ken Daniels Julia Feast Robert Lee Nina Martin Alexina McWhinnie Derek Morgan Clare Murray Sharon Pettle Claire Potter Jim Richards and Francoise Shenfield
 The separation of procreation from conception has broadened notions of parenthood and created novel dilemmas. A woman may carry a foetus derived from gametes neither or only one of which came from her or her partner or she may carry a foetus created using in vitro fertilisation IVF with the purpose of handing it to two other parents one neither or both of whom may be genetically related to the prospective child. Parents may consist of single sex couples only one of them genetically related to the child the prospective mother may be past her menopause and genetic parenthood after death is now achievable. In a world increasingly reliant on medical science how can the argument that equates traditional with natural and novel with unnatural unethical be justified. Should there be legislation which is notoriously slow to change in a field driven by dazzling new possibilities at ever faster rate particularly when restrictions differ from country to country so that those who can afford it travel elsewhere for their treatment of choice. Whose rights are paramount the adults hoping to build a family or the prospective child's future well being. On what basis can apparently competing rights be regulated or adjudicated and how and to what extent can these be enforced in practice.
