

NUTRITIONAL ASSESSMENT

Definition:-

Nutritional assessment is the interpretation of anthropometric, biochemical (laboratory), clinical and dietary data to determine whether a person or groups of people are well nourished or malnourished (over-nourished or under-nourished).

The ABCD Methods:-

Nutritional assessment can be done using the ABCD methods. These refer to the following:

1. Anthropometry
2. Biochemical/biochemical methods
3. Clinical methods
4. Dietary methods.

1. Anthropometry

Anthropometry - Anthropo means 'human' and metry means 'measurement'.

It uses several different measurements including length, height, weight and head circumference.

Length-A wooden measuring board (also called sliding boards) is used for measuring the length of children under 2 yrs old to the nearest millimetre. Measuring the child lying down always gives readings greater than the child's actual height by 1-2 cm.

Food Health Janet Chrzan, John Brett, 2017-02-01 Nutritional anthropology and public health research and programming have employed similar methodologies for decades.
